British and Italians Vie for Title.

BY WILLIAM SHIRER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RYDE, Isle of Wight, England, Sept. 6.—The human urge for more speed for machines which will hurtle a man through space at a fantastic rate not dreamed of a few years ago is likely to be satisfied before 1,000,000 spectators here tomorrow. Six little bulletlike seaplanes representing the genius of Italian and British engineering will then race over a 218 mile course for the Schneider cup.

They are not freak machines. Today they had to withstand stiff navigability tests. They had to taxi through the choppy waters between Southampton and Spithead and rise and land again, then repeat the process, and finally remain moored to a buoy for six hours to insure their seaworthiness.

No Further Changes Allowed.

After almost superhuman efforts to have their racing seaplanes ready, both for navigability and seaworthiness the tests were passed by all competing planes today. The tests were completed at 6 p. m. and the machines were then taken to their hangars where mechanics and aircraftsmen immediately started to work on final adjustments, but no further tests nor modifications of the machines are permitted.

The prince of Wales watched today's trials, having flown from London to Calshot. He will witness the contest tomorrow from the aircraft carrier Argus. Prime Minister MacDonald, who today flew from Paris to London from the Geneva conference, will also see the contest from the Argus.

Will Attack Speed Records.

It was said tonight that after tomorrow's great race an attempt on the world air speed record will be made by one of the British supermarine planes at Calshot on Sunday, while the Italians assert they intend an attempt at beating the record probably early next week.

Though both nations are entering a pair of new machines which represent two years of effort to improve the approximate speed of 300 miles per hour made by the old ones, it is significant that both sides are also racing their crack planes which set up the new world speed record last year.

Italy has its Macchi 52 in which Maj. Mario de Bernardi achieved the world record mark of 318.5 miles per hour last year.

Great Britain, while counting on its two new Super-Marine Rolls-Royce S-6 planes, also has wisely entered as a third machine the Super-Marine Napier S-5 in which Flight Lieutenant Darcy Greig set up the British record of 319 miles per hour a year ago. Lieut. Grieg will pilot the same machine tomorrow and Warrant Officer Dal Molin will be in the cockpit of Maj. Bernardi's record breaking craft.

May Do 6 Miles a Minute.

Great Britain's two acrobatic aces, Flying Officers H. R. D. Waghorne and R. L. H. Atcherley, will pilot the two Super-Marine Rolls-Royce S-6 planes. It is no secret that they were designed by the aged Frederick H. Royce himself to attain a speed of six miles per minute, but doubt is expressed tonight if they will be able to stand up under the grueling grind of the 218 mile course.

The same is said about the new Macchi 67s, Italy's new machines which will be piloted by Lieut. Rano Castrigher and Lieut. Giovanni Monti and which are designed to reach a much greater speed than Maj. Bernardi's 318 miles per hour. The power of their Isotta Fraschini engines has been increased to 1,500 horse power, and engineers marvel that the frail little craft are able to withstand the wear and tear of the vibration of such a powerful motor.

Have Reserve Planes.

To reserve Great Britain holds two Supermarine Napier sixes. They were designed at an estimated cost of $1,000,000 especially for this race but were finished only a fortnight ago. Tests in the last few days have been disappointing because of the failure of the fuel pipe to function at high speed.

Italy's reserve plane is another Macchi 65, the Italian leaders having decided definitely not to use either the tiny Fiat, the smallest speed plane ever built, or the larger twin engined Savoia Marchetti seaplane, which is little else than a pair of flying motors

Says He's Son of Millionaire; Contests Will

George Adair Longley, 54 years old, of Janesville, Wis., yesterday filed a suit in Circuit court to contest the will of Albert W. Longley, former Chicago hat manufacturer. The will distributed a $2,000,000 estate, the bequests including $600,000 to nine Chicago charitable institutions, but left only a $600 annual income to George Longley.

In the will Longley is described as George Adair Greene, a brother of the manufacturer's first wife. He claims to be a son of the manufacturer by the first wife. The suit declares that he was known as George Greene because he was reared by his grandparents at Janesville and took their name.

Misrepresentation Charged.

The suit is brought by the law firm of Winston, Strawn & Shaw. It alleges that the will was executed against the will of Albert W. Longley. Mrs. Mary Caroline Longley, third wife of Mr. Longley, is charged with having represented George Longley as a man of drunken and dissolute habits, and unworthy to be remembered.

The suit also charges that the manufacturer was of unsound mind when the will was executed in June of 1925, three years before Mr. Longley's death at the age of 80. The bill asks that the will be set aside and that Mr. Longley be considered as having died intestate, so that George Longley may receive a fair share.

Albert W. Longley died on Oct. 29, 1928 at Pasadena, Cal., where he had lived for six years. His will was probated in Cook county in February. He was head of the firm of Longley, Low & Alexander, hat manufacturers.

Under the will, trust funds were established for the widow, a former wife, Mrs. Alice Longley, for nieces and nephews and other relatives. It provided that on the death of the widow her share—$600,000—should be divided among the charities.

Bequests to Charities.

These are the Home for Destitute Crippled Children, Salvation Army, Augustana hospital, Alexian Brothers' hospital, Visiting Nurses' association, Infant Welfare society, Deaconess' Home of the Swedish Evangelical church, and the Passavant Memorial hospital. The ninth organization was to be selected by his trustees.

"I owe to Chicago what I possess," Longley wrote in his will. "I feel that I should do all in my power to alleviate the suffering of those who reside there."

Girl and Boy Are Killed in Plane Crash; Pilot Hurt

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 6.—(AP)—Miss Ruth Green, 18, of Woodward, Okla., and Ernest Douglass, 17, Memphis, were killed, and Frank Hays, aviator, was believed fatally injured in the crash of Hays' airplane here at 10:15 a. m. today.

WINTER STAGES REHEARSAL IN SEVERAL STATES

Denver, Colo., Sept. 6.—(AP)—From Montana to the Colorado-New Mexico state line the frosty fingers of winter stretched out today over the Rocky mountain region, leaving record low temperatures for September. The cold wave brought a blanket of snow in parts of Wyoming and Colorado.

Eleven navy planes en route from Colorado Springs to Denver were forced down at Parker by one of the worst storms that Colorado has experienced in early September in years.

The Lander territory in Wyoming registered the earliest snowfall in thirty-eight years with a blanket of from four to six inches throughout the district. Electric light lines were put out of commission by the snow. Motor traffic in the country districts was demoralized and buses abandoned schedules.

Fourteen inches of snow fell in the Fox park district near Laramie, Wyo., and twelve inches at Albany. Five inches of snow fell at Casper, Wyo.

The lowest temperature reported in the Rocky mountain region was at Havre, Mont., where it was 34 degrees. It was 39 at Denver.

Four Inches in Nebraska.

Below Freezing in Three States.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 6.—(AP)—Temperatures several degrees below freezing and killing frosts were reported today from a score of points in Montana, North and South Dakota.

BULLETIN.

Ottumwa, Ia., Sept. 7.—(AP)—Wilkins Priest, imprisoned 22 hours in a caved in well, was released this morning at 7:06 o'clock. He cried for water as he was brought on a cot to the surface of a shaft that had been dug down beside the well to free him from the quicksand which held him.

Ottumwa, Ia., Sept. 6.—[U. P.]—Only the head of William Priest was above quicksand which gradually sucked his body down at the bottom of a 35 foot well tonight while rescuers worked frantically to rescue him before the sand oozed into his mouth and nose.

Priest, a 55 year old well cleaner, was caught in the treacherous sands at the bottom of the well yesterday. He clung to ledges all night, attempting to hold himself from the ever pulling sand which gradually loosened his hold and pulled him down inch by inch.

Air Line Installed.

Late today he called in a weak voice that his left side was hurting. He was unable to say whether the pain came from the pressure of the sand or whether his heart was failing him. An air line was installed and assured him plenty of air for the time being. It was hoped that rescue squads sinking a shaft to the side of the well would reach him before the sand had submerged his head.

The workers started at first to climb down the well, but each move caused a shower of brick from the crumbling side walls. Ed Kirland, fireman, was injured when a brick fell on his head.

Start to Dig Ditch.

Finally the process of bracing the walls and scooping up a bucketful of sand at a time became so hazardous both to workers and to Priest that the attempt was abandoned and the digging of a shaft to the imprisoned man was started.

Priest, seriously weakened from lack of water, food and air, and faced by the specter of being buried alive in the quicksand, became so faint tonight he was unable to talk to his rescuers.

New Census Reveals Tokio as Second City of World

TOKIO, Sept. 6.—[U.P.]—The results of a new census of Tokio revealed today the claims of the Japanese capital as the second largest city in the world, exceeding 4,800,000 population. The population of New York is estimated at 6,017,000 and the registration of London was estimated in 1925 to be 4,602,000, although "Greater London" claims about 7,742,212.

RICH RECLUSE SLAIN IN WEIRD MINE VENDETTA

Behind Killing Lies Sinister Tale.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Santa Fé, N. M., Sept. 6.—[Special.]—The little artist colony of Taos, N. M., is thrilling to a murder mystery which rivals the weirdest tales of fiction. On July 3 A. R. Manby, wealthy and aged English recluse, was found dead in the library of his eighteen room home there, his body clad in a nightgown and his severed head in a nearby room.

Manby had lived alone in this big house, well furnished and adorned with valuable oriental rugs and art treasures, with two ferocious police dogs as his only companions. One lived in the house with him, the other kept chained at the main entrance. Manby for years had lived in fear of his life.

Manby was last seen alive on June 30, but entries in a diary he kept indicated that he was still alive the following day. On July 3 the police were notified by persons whose names are withheld that he had not been seen for several days and that there was reason to believe him dead. An officer entered the house, after killing the dog at the door, to find the man's dead body.

Natural Death, First Verdict.

A coroner's jury decided that Manby had met his death from natural causes and that the second dog had mauled the body and bitten through the spine, carrying the head into the other room. Manby was buried at once.

Rumors persisted, however, that Manby had been murdered, and state officials began an investigation, placing the task in the hands of Henri Martin, a skilled French detective who has been living in the west for the last two years because of his wife's ill health.

Acting on the evidence Martin secured, the body of Manby was exhumed and it was found that he had been murdered with a sawed off shotgun, which had blown away his right jaw. The murderer had then severed the head, picked out all the gunshot from the chest and head and placed the head in the room where it was found.

A Sinister Background.

In the next few days evidence was discovered which THE TRIBUNE is able to disclose exclusively tonight and which forms the background for this amazing murder.

In 1865 a man named Stone discovered a mine in Colfax county which he named the Mystic mine. Two years later he met a man named Ferguson, with whom he formed a partnership, and some ore was taken from the claim. In 1879 other prospectors staked a claim five miles distant, which became the world famous Aztec mines, one of the richest gold claims in the world.

Soon after its discovery a third man appeared. He was known as a prospector and in the region was suspected of being a "high grader," a man who while working on a property appropriates to himself gold dust and nuggets. He is rumored to have reached some sort of an understanding with Stone and Ferguson and gone to work at the Aztec claim. From his advent the Mystic began showing better results and the men became wealthy.

Stone First to Vanish.

In 1882 Stone disappeared and it was reported that he had been murdered. In 1895 Manby appeared in the picture. He was a promoter, interested in gold properties throughout the west and in Mexico. He entered partnership with Ferguson and another man, and the firm became more and more prosperous. It is now claimed that for years there was systematic "high grading" in connection with the working of the Aztec property.

Ferguson soon began to have hallucinations which, it was said, were supplied by some one interested in his destruction. He heard noises at his windows, heard his dead partner's voice, even claimed he had seen his ghost. The result was that Ferguson went mad and was confined at Las Vegas, where he recently died. This left only Manby and Ferguson's daughter, Terisita, interested in the Mystic mine.

Between the time Manby was buried and the investigations started, his beautiful home was stripped of all its art treasures, rugs, furniture, and $30,000 in gold and dust which he was known to have concealed around the building was removed.

LINDBERGHS FLY AT RECORD SPEED TO SEARCH DESERT

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 7 [Saturday].—(AP)—Refueled for an early morning departure, the country's fastest nonstop transcontinental plane was ready to carry Col. Charles A. Lindbergh to Winslow, Ariz., where he expects to aid in the search for the missing sky liner, City of San Francisco.

Col. Lindbergh, with his wife as a passenger, left New York yesterday at 3:05 p. m. and arrived at Lambert-St. Louis field 6 hours and 50 minutes later. He said he expected to take off as soon as there was light. He is flying in the Lockheed-Vega plane in which Capt. Frank Hawks flew in his record crossing of the United States.

Whether his flight to Winslow will be nonstop will depend on the weather, Col. Lindbergh said. Fog enveloped the field here when he landed.

The famous airman is technical adviser to the Transcontinental Air Transport, operators of the City of San Francisco.

Roosevelt Field, N. Y., Sept. 6.—(AP)—In the fastest plane that ever flew without stopping from coast to coast, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh took off today to lend his aid in the search for seven men and a woman who disappeared last Tuesday in a plane of the Transcontinental Air Transport.

In the mechanic's seat behind him was Mrs. Lindbergh, who has shared in the flying colonel's exploits in the air ever since their marriage.

Col. Lindbergh knows the country well in which the search for the missing plane is being conducted. He is technical adviser of the T. A. T. and he was in charge of selecting the route across the country. He piloted the first passenger carrying planes himself over that part of the system where the plane disappeared.

INTERURBAN CARS COLLIDE; WOMAN KILLED, 5 HURT

One woman was killed, five persons were severely injured and a score of others were badly cut and bruised when a passenger car on the Valparaiso-Gary electric interurban line crashed into a flat car loaded with sand at 15th street in Gary yesterday afternoon. The freight car was proceeding without orders, according to an early inquiry by railroad officials, and it was glimpsed by the motorman of the passenger car too late to prevent the collision.

Mrs. Katherine Scharf, 344 Marshall street, was dead when her body was removed from the wreckage. The injured were: Thomas Cogley, 5 years old, of East Gary, broken leg and internal injuries; Mrs. Fred Schroeder, 40 years old, of East Gary, possible skull fracture; Mrs. E. A. Moore, 56 years old, East Gary, both legs fractured; Mrs. Emma Scanlon, 68 years old, skull fracture; and Ezra Bouge, 56 years old, 1201 Madison street, Gary, fractured collar bone.

Others in the list of injured were Henry Clark of Valparaiso; Ralph Napier, Mrs. D. H. Mansfield, Mrs. Steve Moyne, Mrs. Daniel Brown, and Seeman Toth of East Gary; George Strieble, 1056 Jefferson street, Gary, and Lorenzo Davis, 22 years old, of Los Angeles.

MASKED BANDITS ROB 2 WOMEN OF GEMS AND CASH

Mrs. Ida Braumberg, 45 years old, a divorcée residing at 426 Surf street, and her daughter, Harriet, 21 years old, were held up in their apartment by three masked men and robbed of jewelry valued at $6,680 and $116 in cash late last night.

The robbers gained entrance to the apartment while Mrs. Braumberg was visiting Mrs. Imogene Wheeler, who was ill in her home across the corridor. According to the police, the door of the Braumberg apartment was left open and the outlaws walked in, surprising Miss Braumberg.

RUMORED SEEN NEAR BORDER HEADED SOUTH

Tracing Clews to Silver Mine.

Los Angeles, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Santa Fe railroad offices today were in possession of an as yet unconfirmed report that a tri-motored plane "flashing its wing lights on and off" had landed in the Providence mountains, 7 miles northwest of Bagdad, Cal., at 6 P. M., last Tuesday. The report was made to the chief dispatcher at San Bernardino by James L. Shooks, a section foreman, who was working in the desert and said he saw the plane.

Columbus, N. M., Sept. 6.—(AP)—Mrs. Walter Hancock, at Nimbres, N. M., on the Mexican border, eight miles west of here, tonight told newspaper men here from El Paso that she saw a strange plane traveling south Tuesday afternoon. Her story tallies exactly with previous reports, the newspaper men said, particularly with that of Clay Peterson, rancher, who said he saw the plane in Old Mexico.

H. Worth Jones of the El Paso Herald-Times found one man south of the Mexican border who confirmed the story of the same plane.

Start Search on Horseback.

Two men set out on horseback tonight for the Japanese silver mines fifty miles south of Hlachita, N. M., well into Mexico, to trace a seemingly reliable report a huge plane was down at the place. There was no means of communication and the way was impossible to travel except by animal.

Associated Press correspondents and Herald-Times men were leading searching parties on both sides of the border through the entire region where the plane was reported by residents.

Any news of the finding of the plane, if found, will be delayed because of the lack of any communication system. A courier system was employed to relay this information.

Eighty Planes in Field.

Winslow, Ariz., Sept. 6.—[Special.]—With close to 80 planes in the field and on the way, the great air rescue fleet assembled here tonight awaited daybreak to continue the hunt for the T. A. T. air liner City of San Francisco, missing since Tuesday noon, with five passengers and a crew of three.

Reports today of survivors trudging over the desert north of Walpi, Ariz., brought a ray of hope, which was extinguished when other planes located the supposed shirt waving "survivors." They were two Navajo men and two squaws, evidently overcome by their first sight of an airplane.

A second report today was that the big plane had crashed near Hachita, N. M., close to the Mexican border, killing all on board. This was quickly disposed of when the Southern Pacific railroad despatcher at Hachita wired that no plane had fallen thereabouts and none had been seen.

The possibility is still held out that the air liner may have landed safely in the wilds of northern Arizona or western New Mexico, from which men on foot would be unable to reach civilization for weeks.

Origin of Survivor Rumor.

The initial report this morning of Lieut. Tomlinson that he had seen four "survivors" waving their shirts at him from the wastes north of the Hopi village of Walpi started a frenzied hunt. A landing was made at Polacca in the same country by a trimotored plane of the Maddux corporation of Los Angeles without finding trace of the missing plane or its passengers or crew.

A later close up view of the shirt-waving Indians was made by Charles Goldtrap, Phoenix aviator, who flew to within a few feet of the ground in settling the matter definitely.

The known superstition of the Navajo and Hopi Indians as regards dead people is believed here to be a possible reason for the failure to report the plane if it crashed in their country.

Navajos will keep away from the vicinity of a dead person and seal their lips if they find one.

Many old timers in this section feel there is a chance that the passengers and crew might be alive in the Rainbow natural bridge country, north of this point, where a forced landing might be safely made.

This area will be included in the territory covered tomorrow by the giant rescue fleet, which will keep on the job until the T. A. T. passengers and crew are found, dead or alive.

T. A. T. Narrows Search.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 6.—[U. P.]—The missing Transcontinental Air

* * *

Transport liner City of San Francisco is not down east of Navajo, Ariz., officials of the T. A. T. said tonight they were convinced.

"We are no further in our search than we were Tuesday," the announcement said, "except that we now are convinced the plane has not fallen east of Navajo, which is about 50 miles southwest of Gallup, N. M.

"We have traced down all rumors and found no truth in any of them.

"Tomorrow, the planes at Winslow will be deployed west of Navajo, to continue the systematic search."

The officials said there were 13 military planes in Winslow now and they were expected to be joined tomorrow by ten more.

It was understood here that every available plane of the eastern division of the T. A. T. has been collected at Columbus, O., and will leave either tonight or tomorrow for Winslow to join in the search. This would add about 14 planes to the aggregation already at Winslow.

Reward Up to $10,000.

Peekskill, N. Y., Sept. 6.—[Special.]—Rewards for the finding of the wreck of the Transcontinental Air Transport liner City of San Francisco reached a total of $10,000 tonight. In addition to the $5,000 offered by the air transport company, George F. Canfield of Peekskill, socially prominent and a wealthy Wall street lawyer, offered an additional $5,000. His son, Maynard M., was a courier aboard the missing plane.

All day today the gray-haired, 75 year old father waited eagerly for news at his summer home here, with his wife, two other sons, and a daughter.

Maynard, a 1928 Harvard graduate, is 22. Ever since aviation became a nation-wide topic, it has had his interest. After leaving college he decided to make it his life's work. To master the game from the ground up, he enrolled as courier in the T. A. T., eager to carry baggage and serve the passengers that he might learn the ways of the air.

Two weeks ago his father, sister Mary and one brother, Franklin, flew with him from Glendale, Cal., to Clovis, N. M., on the regular T. A. T. route.

Auto Party Fitted Out.

Keams Cañon, Hopi Reservation, Ariz., Sept. 6.—(AP)—David Miller trader here, said steps were being taken to investigate a report today that four survivors of the City of San Francisco, had been sighted 26 miles northeast of Polacca.

Miller had no direct information of the report but said an automobile was being outfitted to go to Lone mountain, 39 miles northeast of Polacca.

Navy Planes to Rescue.

San Diego, Cal., Sept. 6.—(AP)—Ten navy and three marine corps planes left North island at 12:45 p. m. for Winslow, Ariz., to aid in the search for the missing air liner.

WOMAN AUTOIST WHO KILLED BOY GETS JURY TRIAL

Mrs. Christine Bock, 35 years old, 11621 Harvard avenue, driver of the auto which killed Robert Campbell, 8 years old, 250 Goethe street, on Aug. 5, was granted a jury trial yesterday when she was arraigned before Municipal Judge Schulman on a charge of manslaughter. Mrs. Bock was exonerated at the inquest, but drew a reprimand when testimony indicated that she was talking to passengers in the back seat of her car at the time of the accident. The boy's parents had her rearrested after the inquest.

Four deaths yesterday raised the 1929 Cook county motor toll to 598. The victims:

Joseph Mader, 15 years old, 1625 West Cullerton street. Fatally injured when crushed between the wall of a building at 1862 Blue Island avenue and a motor truck. The driver, Anton Korschel, 18 years old, 1868 Blue Island avenue, was held.

Vernon Muth, 5 years old, 5712 South Bishop street. Killed when struck by an automobile as he was crossing an alley on 57th street near Loomis street. Leo Smith, 21 years old, of Jefferson, Wis., who drove the car out of the alley, told police he did not see the child in time. He was held.

Ralph King, 50 years old, colored, 4759 Langley avenue. Fatally injured when knocked down by an automobile while crossing Cottage Grove avenue at 48th street. Anthony Lischelo, 5120 Wentworth avenue, driver of the car, was held.

OFFICER NABBED AS INVADER OF HOUSE KEEPS JOB

Chief William Collins of the county highway police after a conference with Sheriff John E. Traeger yesterday decided not to suspend Sam Lucas, a member of the highway police, who is alleged to have terrorized the occupants of a rooming house at 508 North Rush street with two of his pals on Thursday afternoon.

The three men were arrested by East Chicago avenue police. According to Lieut. Joseph McGuire they were all intoxicated. Besides Lucas the men arrested are Jules Berti, 667 Rees street, and Oscar Scaffa, 1150 Townsend street.

Chief Collins announced he intended to wait until after a thorough investigation had been made and the case presented to the grand jury. He said Lucas was on his vacation and was not wearing a badge or star.

ROCHE TO RAID BUCKET SHOPS IN NEW CLEANUP

CRIMINAL COURT.

Atilio Lira, rape, sentenced to 18 months in the penitentiary. Edward Pride, burglary, sentenced to 1 year to life in the penitentiary by Judge Otto Kerner.

Preparations for a cleanup today of so-called bucketshops were made yesterday by Chief Investigator Pat Roche of tht state's attorney's office as Assistant State's Attorney Charles A. Bellows conferred with outside attorneys to throw the Hamilton, King company into the hands of the bankruptcy courts. The latter move is to be taken, it was announced, to conserve what little, if any, assets the concern has for the creditors.

Prosecutor Bellows estimated that the company had taken in more than $250,000 since opening offices in June, and so far only about $5,000 worth of assets has been discovered. He said he believes Jocob Warren, who also used the name of Lawrence Warren, and James Gualano, co-partner, have put the money out of reach of the creditors.

To Raid Bucketshops.

Investigator Roche said he has a list of about ten bucketshops now in operation and that this morning his detectives will close them up by a series of raids.

Search was also started yesterday for E. H. Hart, a salesman of the Hamilton, King company, and Ralph Kinlock, the office manager. Joseph Gualano, brother of the copartner in the bucketeering concern, was also in custody last night.

The books of the Hamilton, King company, or such of them as are left, were found in a west side cigar store yesterday. The books list customers in towns throughout Indiana, Michigan and Illinois. Many Chicagoans are also found in the lists.

Saved from Losing $3,000.

Phillip T. Sprague, Long Beach, Michigan City, Ind., appeared at the prosecutor's office yesterday to tell how the raid saved him $3,000. He said he had sent a check for $3,000 more in response to a demand for more margin. He stopped payment of the check, however, before it fell into the hands of the so-called brokers.

Leroy Horton, 954 Pleasant street, Oak Park, was another victim appearing yesterday. He lost $7,500. He said he thought he was dealing with a reputable brokerage concern, which once existed under the same name used by those under arrest.

Wanted in Indiana.

State's Attorney Harry Taylor of South Bend, Ind., yesterday announced he would ask permission to be allowed to try Warren and Gualano in Indiana. They are under indictment in South Bend for bucketeering, along with Sam Holden. They were run out of South Bend in June and immediately came to Chicago and opened offices. Later when the "suckers" began to complain another concern was opened up under the name of Dowd & Co.

Two former bucketshop operators, who were put out of business some months ago, were also arrested yesterday when it was found that they had resumed operations. They are Fred Bristol and Jules W. Bristol, who operated under the name of Bristol & Co.

Harry Clark, a former Chicagoan, was also locked up for sharp business practices in real estate dealings. He was taken into custody at Moline, Ill., at the request of the state's attorney's office. He is charged with swindling Mrs. Jessie Nordstrom, 5210 Winthrop avenue, out of $10,000.

DORIS DAWSON.

Hollywood, Cal., Sept. 6.—[U. P.]—Doris Dawson, 23 year old brunette screen actress, was confined to a hospital today suffering from three fractured ribs and severe shock. She was struck by an auto driven by R. W. Gordon. Miss Dawson was "jaywalking," police said. They released Gordon.

LYLE DISMISSES DRY AGENT'S CASE; 'NO JURISDICTION'

Willie "Pretty Boy" Moglund, prohibition agent charged by John Randecker, 60 years old, with beating him up when the agent raided his restaurant at 914 West Fulton street, was discharged yesterday by Municipal Judge John H. Lyle. Randecker is a veteran of the Spanish-American war, and Moglund one of the most youthful and zealous of the local dry enforcement staff. Judge Lyle held that while Randecker's case is pending in the Federal court and before the veteran seeks redress in that court, he has no jurisdiction.

"If the Federal court does not afford the complainant redress, he may come back to the municipal courts," Judge Lyle said.

Attorney A. Henry Goldstein, for Randecker, objected. "But the assistant district attorney in the case told me before U. S. Commissioner Walker to come to the municipal courts with the case," the lawyer said.

But Judge Lyle, while he said no federal officer has a right to beat a prisoner, added: "I believe the assistant district attorney has a spite to vent against Moglund and took this means of venting it."

Arrest Heiress as Slayer of Her Son, 11, with Gas

New York, Sept 6.—[Special.]—A wealthy young widow, Mrs. Sadie Salit Schingler, heiress to the pre-prohibition Salit liquor fortune, today was arrested as the slayer, by gas, of her eldest child, Sylvan, 11, after an attempt to take her own life and the lives of the boy and a daughter, Rene, 6. Mrs. Schingler and Rene, tonight were in a critical condition.

GENEVA, Sept. 6.—Lillian O'Brien of New York accomplished the most difficult ascent of Mount Wetterhorn, 12,149 feet high, from the west side today, a feat which has been achieved only twice. She was accompanied by two guides from Grindelwald and her ascent took 12 hours.

WIFE OF BANKER IN HALF MILLION DEAL AT DENVER

Reports Waggoner Is on His Way East.

Denver, Col., Sept. 6.—(AP)—Mrs. C. D. Waggoner, wife of the president of the bank of Telluride, on her arrival in Denver late today said she had last seen her husband at Lincoln, Neb., yesterday. He put her on a train there, she said, and told her he was going east.

Mrs. Waggoner today sent a message signed by Waggoner from Wray, Colo., to the bank of Telluride, advising that he had provided funds to pay off depositors. The telegram was in code. Mrs. Waggoner said she knew nothing of its contents.

She said she met her husband Tuesday at Cheyenne, Wyo. They visited several towns by auto and seperated in Lincoln.

Detectives Hunt Him.

New York, Sept. 6.—(AP)—Private detectives announced today that they were closing in on C. D. Waggoner, president of the Bank of Telluride, Colo., whom they intended to arrest in connection with a financial manipulation which placed to his credit $500,000 belonging to six Denver banks.

Officials of the detective agency retained by the American Bankers association said that the bank president had been "bracketed" by their operatives in the west—that is, it had been determined where he was two days ago and where he was going at that time.

The Telluride bank, which had deposits of more than $1,000,000 when the town was booking but has only $350,000 now, was placed in the hands of state bank examiners today.

MAIL ORDER WIFE CHEWS SNUFF, SO HE ASKS DIVORCE

Because his mail order bride, Elizabeth, chews snuff and totes a gun, Victor von Gerhard sued for divorce yesterday in the Superior court. The bill, drawn by Attorney Eugene L. Campbell, charges cruelty.

The Gerhards were married on Oct. 28, 1926, as the result of a correspondence which began when he saw an advertisement in a magazine for the lonely and amorously inclined, the bill states. His wife, a native of Port Arthur, Tex., described herself as "20 years old, clean, and white." Only the last was true, Gerhard declared.

"When the defendant finally put in a personal appearance and your orator [Gerhard] became married," the bill reads, "he discovered that she was a devotee to the gentle but somewhat neglected art of chewing snuff. She frequently expectorated, both in public and in private, with great skill but with utter disregard for your orator's pride and feelings."

Mrs. Gerhard is said to have carried a gun with which she threatened her husband. The bill also states that she caused him to be ridiculed by his friends when she jumped off the Madison street bridge on April 19, 1928, and was rescued by police.

SALESWOMAN ROBBED IN SHOP.

Miss Pearl Feld, 220 West 106th place, saleswoman in an Andes Chocolate shop at 11208 South Michigan avenue, was robbed of $10 yesterday by an armed man who entered the shop.

Aviation Notes

Plans to erect three hangars on a new landing field of 170 acres, a half mile northeast of Bensonville, were announced yesterday by Godfrey E. Larson, architect for the Interstate Aviation corporation, an organization recently formed to sell and distribute Willis valveless air cooled motors. The site of the project comprises six farms located between Irving Park boulevard and the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific railroad near Bensonville. The new field will be known as Lorraine airport, Mr. Larson stated.

The National Air Transport company announced yesterday that during August Chicago banks cleared 97 per cent of their paper sent to New York by air mail over the N. A. T. night service between Chicago and New York.

Aviation executives and bankers have formed a new club in New York called The Hangar, and will build a clubhouse in East 63d street. The club originated with men interested in the financing and development of aviation from a business standpoint. Aviation in all its branches forms a common interest among a large part of the membership of two hundred.

Prepare for Fatalities.

There may be many accidents tomorrow, but the government has done everything imaginable to pick up the pieces and save them if possible. A special corps of doctors and nurses will be stationed on Ryde pier, which is the starting point of the race. Besides these there will be medical stations all along the course, medical ships attached to the four corners which the pilots must take in a vertical bank, and additional doctors waiting in high speed boats ready to dash to the aid of the planes should they dive.

Also the farsighted admiralty has provided special divers who will have equipment enabling them to fish out an unfortunate pilot within a few minutes after he sinks—should any one sink.

The race is to be over a 218 mile distance and the flyers will negotiate a quadrilateral course approximately 27 miles around. It contains two extremely sharp turns and two of a lesser degree. Cruisers with huge checkered pylons constructed on their decks mark the turning points.

A special electrical timing apparatus will be used. The planes will be started at 20 minute intervals, and, since the entrants are expected to complete the entire course in about 40 minutes, only two machines will fly it simultaneously. The Schneider races will start at 7:45 Chicago daylight saving time and are to be broadcast throughout the world.

MRS. PANTAGES' ATTORNEYS GRILL MEDICAL EXPERT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 6.—[Special.]—Taking up the first of defense theories, that a Japanese, Joe Rokomoto, auto crash victim of Mrs. Alexander Pantages' careening machine, was the victim, not of the collision caused by the woman's car but of the shock of anesthetic at an operation, counsel sought to weaken the testimony of surgeons in the murder trial today.

Some admissions were wrung from Frank Webb, assistant county autopsy surgeon, by Max Steuer, Mrs. Pantages' attorney, although the witness adhered generally to his report that Rokomoto died as a result of the automobile crash.

Judge Hardy Intervenes.

Judge Carlos Hardy intervened at one point in Steuer's technical questioning to inform the New York attorney that Webb's responses and Deputy District Attorney James Costello's questions were proper under California law, although it was possible that the law in another state might differ.

The defense leaned heavily during the first day of testimony on the theory of "an intervening cause" being responsible for Rokomoto's death, instead of auto injuries.

Two Defense Contentions.

Steuer, W. I. Gilbert and Joseph Ford, who are Mrs. Pantages' other attorneys, emphasized two defense contentions. One is that Rokomoto's faulty driving was responsible for his car being struck by Mrs. Pantages last June 16; the other is that Mrs. Pantages was "suffering from a mental condition and overstrain which combined to cause her to drive as she did, rather than the use of intoxicants."

Dr. Donald Cass, who performed the operation on Rokomoto, admitted, under cross-examination by Steuer that "it is true that anesthetic may cause death where otherwise a life might be preserved."

Transfer Court to Street.

During the afternoon court session Judge Hardy transferred court to the street intersection in Hollywood, where the Pantages and Rokomoto cars collided.

The jury of five women and seven men was locked up for the night, and ordered under guard by deputies, as a result of information conveyed to Judge Hardy that attempts had been made to communicate with the jurors and witnesses. The trial recessed until Tuesday.

Former Cabinet Man to Dedicate Gompers Park

The Samuel Gompers park and field house will be dedicated tomorrow afternoon with William B. Wilson, secretary of labor under President Wilson, as the chief speaker. The park is a twenty acre tract at Tripp and Foster avenues, lying along the Chicago river. Five hundred Albany Park residents headed by civic and labor officials are expected to attend. The Palmer school fife and drum corps will open the exercises with the raising of the flag. The Rev. William McInnis will pronounce the invocation. There will be speeches of welcome by Henry A. Schwartz, president of the Albany Park district commissioners, and Attorney Ernest Buehler.

Tax Chief Accuses Accusers of Padding His Pay Roll

BY CARL WARREN.

Too much political interference and too many useless political jobholders, several sponsored by county board members, was the reply made yesterday by Harry S. Cutmore, director of the 1928 tax reassessment, to charges that his pay rolls are overloaded.

"Every last one of my men is working, and working hard," Cutmore asserted. "The trouble is that I've been saddled with a lot of political favorites that I can't get rid of because of their drag. Most of them are absolutely worthless for technical work, and if I had my way I'd fire the whole bunch. Why I can't do it is obvious to any one acquainted with practical politics."

Mr. Cutmore made his statement following a conference with Assessors Krutckoff and Ringer and J. L. Jacobs, county efficiency expert, to discuss the county board's refusal on Thursday to appropriate $65,000 more for the reassessment.

Cutmore Hits Back at Board.

At the board's meeting Mr. Cutmore was made the target of attack by several of the commissioners, who charged that many of the board of assessors' employes were loafing. The commissioners criticized the delay in the reassessment program, blaming it for the county's financial dilemma.

"The time has come, I think, for some plain talking," Mr. Cutmore declared yesterday. "I'm getting tired of such wild ballyhoo as was stirred up at the board meeting.

"The fact is that I have been hampered from the beginning by political interference. I have been compelled to use in my office forty or more jobholders I don't want. The county commissioners themselves have several clerks down here. I am a deputy assessor—a subordinate—and I know I can't fire them any more than I could walk through a stone wall. I've tried it.

Explains Need for Money.

"I think the public knows that my own men have done a remarkably big job and done it well. All our outside work is finished, but we must have money to pay the men while we back up our valuations before the board of assessors and board of review. I'm going to finish this job, but I don't propose to be charged with pay roll padding by the politicians who themselves are guilty."

Mr. Jacobs, who was among those who criticized the assessors' pay rolls at the board meeting, explained yesterday that he did not refer to Mr. Cutmore's experts, but to the 100 other employes of the assessors, including those Mr. Cutmore is forced to use.

"There is no question but that a lot of these fellows ought to be dropped," Jacobs said. "There are some other county departments also in need of a cleanup, but I have no criticism of Mr. Cutmore's men. Certainly this reassessment job must be finished and I am sure the county board will make the necessary appropriation at its next meeting."

To Repeat Plea for Funds.

It was agreed at the conference that the appropriation request will be put up to the commissioners at their meeting on Sept. 19. Three assessors, Mr. Krutckoff, Mr. Ringer and Mr. Oliver, will sign it. The technical reason for its rejection on Thursday was that a majority of the assessors had not attached their signatures.

Chairman Malone of the state tax commission stepped into the pay roll controversy yesterday with an invitation to Mr. Jacobs and the assessors for a conference in his office on Monday.

"According to press reports of the board meeting there were charges of pay roll padding in the reassessment work," Mr. Malone said. "As chairman of the tax commission I cannot let them stand unchallenged. This reassessment has been clean so far and it's going to stay clean. If there are any employes in Mr. Cutmore's office not giving service, somebody will have to name names. I will insist upon a full investigation at the conference on Monday."

AUTO LOSSES ON DECLINE IN CITY, RUSSELL IS TOLD

Adjustors of automobile losses yesterday reported to Commissioner of Police Russell that there has been a "remarkable decrease" in the loss ratio within the last year, particularly in theft and fire losses. Ninety-six per cent of the cars stolen have been recovered, the report stated.

The decrease was attributed by the report to the fact that the police department "has improved conditions materially in recent months." "The new chief of police is doing a good piece of work," the report continued.

The report came as a pleasant incident in the commissioner's last day before taking a two weeks vacation at his cottage in Wisconsin. "It has been a strenuous year for me," he said, "and I'll probably spend my two weeks resting and fishing." John H. Alcock, first deputy commissioner, will be acting chief during Russell's absence.

BEYERS, ALLEGED TAX FIXER, NAMED IN TRUE BILLS

David D. Beyers, alleged tax fixer, and accused as an embezzler of the money entrusted to him for tax payments, was named in a series of true bills voted by the grand jury yesterday. Earlier in the day he had been held to the grand jury on five charges of embezzlement by Judge Daniel P. Trude in the felony court.

Assistant State's Attorney William Mercer, who investigated the complaints against Beyers, said he believed the alleged tax fixer obtained $150,000 or more from his victims. The prosecutor has been unable to find any trace of the money.

Indications yesterday were that Beyers would plead guilty when the indictments are returned against him. Beyers on the advice of Attorney W. W. Smith yesterday refused to make any defense to the charges when arraigned in the felony court.

LEAGUE VISIONS WORLD BANK AS CURE FOR WARS

Would Use It to Assist Attacked Nations.

BULLETIN.

GENEVA, Sept. 6.—(AP)—The league of nations tonight received a cablegram from Secretary of State Stimson indicating his intention to submit to President Hoover for signature the Root protocol providing for adhesion by the United States to the world court of justice. It will then be sent to the senate for ratification.

BY HENRY WALES.

[Copyright: 1929: By The Chicago Tribune.]

GENEVA, Sept. 6.—The Young commission's proposed international bank for reparations payments will enter the political world as well as the financial field if it is created, according to observers here today.

They said J. Pierpont Morgan's projected superbank will be the institution to which the league of nations will refer for financing with huge international loans any nation forced into war by a wanton aggressor or even threatened with war.

They visioned the powerful international bank, with ramifications and connections extending throughout the world's money market and controlling the world's gold reserves, as possessing the last word in stating to what countries fiscal aid will be given in case of war.

Why America Keeps Out.

The danger of the United States becoming involved in European disputes over financial aid to belligerents was what induced Washington to announce that the federal reserve bank would not accept a membership in the superbank when the Young commision announced its establishment, it was stated.

Washington was aware of the league's preparations for aiding war threatened powers financially, and the Young commission delegates, it was stated, had this in mind as one of the bank's many functions when they examined the various spheres in which it could operate.

Great Britain Indorses Scheme.

Arthur Henderson, the Labor government's foreign secretary, today added Great Britain's indorsement to the scheme to use the world bank as a war preventive. He referred to the speech of Paul Hymans, Belgian finance minister, who demanded assurance of financial aid for threatened nations.

"We wholeheartedly agree with the view that M. Hymans put forward for need of a treaty for financial assistance as a powerful instrument in the hands of the league council for restraining any state contemplating criminal recourse to war," said Mr. Henderson.

"We hope the assembly committee, aided by technical experts, will be able to turn the existing draft of a treaty into a general convention open for the signature of members of the league and nonmembers."

His last words were looked upon as opening the door for participation by the United States.

Finn Pushes Plan.

Hjalmar Procope, Finnish foreign minister, stressed the need for financial assistance for war threatened states.

"An outline of the question has already been elucidated by Premier Aristide Briand of France," he said. "The draft of a convention for fiscal assistance is an important element in the reduction of armaments, security, and international collaboration in any great crisis.

"Financial assistance is one of the means provided in article 11 of the league covenant. The proposed convention stipulates that the acceptance of such a demand for financial assistance shall be subordinate to the unanimous vote of the assembly."

It was pointed out by observers that the superbank is the sole institution susceptible of being utilised by the league for loans to members threatened with war, and once the league assembly and council approved financial assistance for any threatened state it would recommend that the superbank float a loan and advance the funds.

Would Control World Credit.

The bank's board of governors would then act on the application, and since most of these directors would be practically official representatives of governments of which their banks are the banks of issue—with the sole exception of the United States—it is expected that they would agree.

Through its connections, official and unofficial, the superbank would control world credit, and the money and gold market, so that the state against which a ruling was given by the league would find it impossible to raise fiscal help anywhere on the globe.

This development of the superbank is explained as another reason why certain great powers favor establishing the bank in Switzerland—Zurich, Berne, or Basle—if the United States objects to Geneva, because the league is located here. It is agreed, however, that if the superbank is located at The Hague it might be advantageous, since the world court is located there and the United States is now pledged to join, if the Root protocol is accepted without modification.

Wants Covenant Revised.

Mr. Henderson continued the British campaign for a revision of the league covenant, stressing the need for amendment of certain articles which are a direct contradiction of the Kellogg pact, which renounces war.

"The right to a private war remains legitimate under certain circumstances, according to the covenant," he said. "Under the Kellogg peace pact nations definitely give up the freedom to make war."

Mr. Henderson submitted a resolution to modify articles 12 and 15 of the covenant to make them conform to the Kellogg pact.

FRANCO-GERMAN ECONOMIC UNIT, AIM OF LEADERS

End Tariff Wall and Unify Railways.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Sept. 6.—"A United States of Europe from a political point of view would be purely a platonic affair."

In these words one of Foreign Minister Stresemann's chief assistants answered when I asked what the German foreign office expected as a result of the French Premier Briand's speech advocating a United States of Europe.

"We feel it was a superb speech, with all the fireworks of a scintillating mind bound to make the hearts of even the hard boiled politicians glow with an uplifting surge of faith," he continued. "Everybody enthuses over the greatness of the French orator, and the political United States of Europe will be neatly shelved in beauty."

Berlin Expects No Advantages.

The German diplomat was definite in his statement that Germany for a number of years to come expects no political advantages from the conversation about a United States of Europe, nor from a revision of the terms of the Versailles treaty.

But from an economic point of view, the matter is different. Here the idea of a United States of Europe looms as a vast practicable plan which has progressed far beyond the stage of idealistic dreaming. France and Germany are preparing assiduously for an agreement to reduce the tariff wall separating both countries, to unify their transportation, its rates and similar technicalities. Belgium and Luxemburg are automatically included in the agreement.

The European customs union has been preparing an agreement under Dr. Edgar Stern-Rubarth. Premier Briand is an enthusiastic supporter of this movement, which he endorsed by becoming honorary chairman of the French section, "The Union Internationale Douaniere." It was M. Briand who passed the word to the French chambers of commerce to join the movement when they were still doubtful of its practicability.

Expected in Force Soon.

At The Hague M. Briand and Dr. Stern-Rubarth had long conferences. The Frenchman assured the German of his conviction that within a few weeks, or months at the utmost, their agreement would be ready for enforcement. They feel that the block of France, Germany, Belgium and Luxemburg will be so strong an economic power, thanks to the unification of the tariffs, that other European nations will be bound to join.

It was with a similar customs union that Prussia succeeded in welding together Germany in the course of the second half of the nineteenth century.

Dr. Stern-Rubarth, who recently visited America, before returning to Berlin, went immediately to The Hague to report to M. Briand and Dr. Stresemann on his Washington conferences. He talked at length with American Secretary of State Stimson and Assistant Secretary of State Castle and gave them all the details of the plan for an economic United States of Europe.

Mr. Stimson, he reported, formally authorized Dr. Stern-Rubarth to tell the European nations that he was in full sympathy with the plan.

INVESTIGATE TAX PAYMENTS OF 375 CABARETS IN CITY

Chicago cabarets to the number of 375 may have to pay the government back taxes following an inquiry launched yesterday by Mrs. Myrtle Tanner Blackidge, collector of internal revenue. Mrs. Blackidge instructed Robert E. Neely, her chief assistant, to make an investigation to determine if the cabarets have been paying an amusement tax based on customers' total bills, as required by law.

Eight investigators began the work yesterday. It is expected that more than a week will be required to complete the inquiry. Mr. Neely said many of the large cabarets had figured they had to pay a 10 per cent tax only on cover or admittance charges of $2.50 or more.

BODY OF LINCOLN'S GRANDSON WILL BE MOVED TO ARLINGTON

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 6.—[Special.]—Attorney General Carlstrom today advised Harry Cleaveland, director of the state department of public works and buildings, to honor the request of Mrs. Robert T. Lincoln for the removal of the body of Abraham Lincoln II. from Springfield to Arlington cemetery at Washington. It is planned to bury the boy with his father, Robert Lincoln.

The national Lincoln monument in Oak Ridge cemetery at Springfield originally was designed as the resting place of the family of Abraham Lincoln as well as the emancipator. Crypts were reserved for Robert T. Lincoln and Mrs. Lincoln and for Abraham Lincoln II., whose body was interred there on his death. When Mrs. Lincoln learned the Lincoln monument was to be remodeled, she expressed a desire that her son's body be taken to Arlington.

In a brief letter the attorney general says there can be no legal objection to complying with the request.

11TH BOMBING IN GERMANY SCARES WHOLE COUNTRY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Sept. 6.—"Keep your nerve," was the appeal broadcast to the people by the German press today after a mystery bomb exploded in the old Hansa city of Luneberg at 1 a. m., shattering the walls and floors of the government mansion. This is the eleventh bomb outrage in Germany in the last 30 days. Following close upon the explosion of a bomb in the reichstag, it has spread an atmosphere of terror in Germany. There is a feeling prevalent that the bombings are backed by a powerful and secret organization.

All the government buildings are surrounded by plain clothes men and police guards. The minister of the interior has issued an order that even the small town streets with official buildings must be carefully lighted all night to make their guarding easier. All basement windows are ordered equipped with iron bars.

At Frankfurt a former convict named Hett gave himself up to the police, asserting that he was the bomb thrower, but his story is doubted. The reward for the capture of the bomb plotters now amounts to $11,000. In Berlin a tin can filled with explosive charcoal and paper was found in one of the postoffices, but the powder differs from that of the latest bomb crop, and the police believe it was meant as a practical joke.

Clemenceau Convalescing; Returns to His Memoirs

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Sept. 6.—France today was cheered to learn that Georges Clemenceau is improving. His physicians report that the "Tiger" is much better and is able to resume his daily routine, which includes writing his memoirs, although he is still weak. The recent pulmonary infection of the former premier is said to be practically over.

PICK OHIO GIRL MISS AMERICA; PROTEST FILED

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 6.—(AP)—Miss Lillian Andrus, 21, brunette, representing Buckeye Lake, O., tonight was selected "Miss America" of 1929 by the judges at Baltimore's national beauty pageant. The contest was conducted by Baltimore interests in place of the discontinued Atlantic City beauty pageant. Forty-seven girls from all parts of the United States entered the contest.

Miss Andrus took the honors under a storm of protest. One of the judges, a theatrical producer from New York, withdrew from the list of judges. After the decision of the remaining judges had been announced five sponsors of entrants announced their protests. They said a second contest would be held at a downtown hotel.

TAKES OVERDOSE OF PILLS, THEN MONEY ARRIVES

Shortly after Mrs. Grace Holland, 30 years old, a comely widow from Houston, Tex., who has been staying at the Y. M. C. A. hotel, was taken to St. Luke's hospital last night suffering from an overdose of a headache potion, a telegram came for her. It read: "The money is in the Republic bank. Grace, come home at once."

Told of the telegram, the young woman, half conscious, murmured in relief but would not explain whether she had taken the tablets purposely. The telegram was sent by H. A. Russell from Houston, Tex.

Mrs. Holland came here a week ago, according to Miss Helen Meyers, a nurse at the hotel, and seemed despondent. She said her husband died two years ago.

SHIPBUILDING PROPAGANDA TO BE INVESTIGATED

Hoover Flays Practices Indicated by Suit.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 6.—[Special.]—President Hoover today announced that he has instructed the attorney general's office to inquire into the alleged "propagandist" activities of three leading American shipbuilding corporations.

Mr. Hoover acted after William B. Shearer, a naval writer, referred to by the President as a naval expert and propagandist, filed suit on Aug. 21 against three shipbuilding corporations for $257,655, asserting this sum was due him for his activities in preparing and disseminating literature, information and data relating to the shipbuilding industry.

Three Corporations Named.

In his suit Shearer stated he had been paid $50,000 on account for his services, which extended from June 10, 1926, through the three power Geneva conference in 1927 and up to March 27, 1929. The corporations named by Shearer and whose activities are now being looked into are the Bethlehem Shipbuilding corporation, the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock company and the American Brown-Boveci corporation.

"I have been much interested in the disclosures in respect to the relations of a naval expert who over a month ago filed a complaint in the New York courts against three important naval shipbuilding corporations for services described in the complaint, in which he acknowledges having received over $50,000 on account," the President said to newspaper men at this afternoon's press conference.

Says Distrust Fostered.

"This propagandist has during the last few years organized zealous support for increased armament and has been a severe critic of all efforts of our government to secure international agreement for the reduction of naval arms, which includes activities at the Geneva conference and opposition to the movement which I have initiated in the last three months. A part of this propaganda has been directed to create international distrust and hate.

"I cannot believe that the responsible directors of these shipbuilding corporations have been a party to these transactions, as represented in this lawsuit, but their statement of the case is needed. It is due to the public, it is due to the government, and it is due to the corporations themselves.

"Against Public Interest."

"In the meantime I have directed the attorney general to consider what action we can take. Unless the companies can show an entirely different situation from that which is purported in this suit we are compelled to consider what measures can be proposed to free the country of such influences. Every American has the right to express his opinion and to engage in open propaganda, if he wishes, but it is obviously against public interest for those who have financial interest in or may be engaged in contracts for the construction of naval vessels to secretly attempt to influence public opinion or public officials by propaganda in favor of larger armaments and attempt to defeat the efforts of the government in world limitation of such armaments or to employ persons for such purposes.

"I am making this statement publicly so that there can be no misapprehension of my determination that our present international negotiations shall not be interfered with from such sources and through such methods."

RECESS JUDICIAL CONVENTIONS OF BOTH PARTIES

Both Republican and Democratic judicial conventions were recessed yesterday until Wednesday evening that delay being taken partly because of the funeral of former Mayor Dever and partly because the negotiations over a coalition ticket are in a tangle. As the plan to postpone action had been announced in advance the attendance at the convention hour in each instance was slim and there was no discussion of the situation.

SUES TO KEEP WAGE OF SON, 13, FROM HUSBAND

Mrs. Ethel Liphardt, 2410 McLean avenue, yesterday filed a suit for divorce in the Superior court against her husband, Charles Liphardt, an automobile salesman. The bill, drawn by Attorney Joseph H. Becker, charges infidelity and asks that Liphardt be enjoined from sharing in the $75 a week salary of his 13 year old son, Charles Wilber, a saxophone entertainer.

THRONGS HONOR DEVER AT SIMPLE FUNERAL SERVICE

Home, Church Crowded with Officials, Friends.

Thousands of his friends and admirers, including hundreds of leaders in the political, civic and business life of the community, paid final tribute yesterday to William Emmett Dever before he was laid to rest in Calvary cemetery.

The throng at the residence of the former mayor at 5901 Kenmore avenue was so large that departure of the cortège was delayed for nearly an hour. At St. Ita's church, a few blocks distant, at Broadway and Catalpa avenue, where Cardinal Mundelein pronounced a blessing, the crowd repeatedly broke through the police cordon thrown out when the seats were filled. And at Calvary cemetery more thousands waited for hours for the simple rites that marked the placing of the casket temporarily in a vault.

Simplicity in Ceremony.

There were no parades or demonstrations of any kind. In response to the request of the family, display was omitted; the one exception, found impossible to prevent, being the massing of flowers at the home and at the cemetery. The plain silver gray casket went undraped from the residence to the vault.

Early arrivals at the Dever apartment found the widow, Mrs. Katherine Conway Dever, with the two sons, Daniel and George, beside the casket, but as the long file of mourners continued they withdrew, and for almost another hour the long lines continued to pass in and out the front door.

Most of those in attendance walked through the Edgewater streets to the church, and on their arrival there found the pews already half filled by early arrivals, who had not waited for the procession from the home. Before more than half of those anxious to hear the services had passed the iron fence along the sidewalk lines the gates were blocked by the police, who, trying to be gentle and quiet, were forced aside several times by the crush until all the standing room in the church was occupied.

Sermon by Msgr. O'Brien.

Cardinal Mundelein, Bishop Hoban, and other clerical dignitaries had arrived early and waited in the parochial residence on Catalpa avenue until the opening of the services. The Rev. J. H. Growe was in charge and was assisted in the requiem high mass by the Rev. Alexander Thaine as deacon.

The sermon, a strong personal tribute, was delivered by Msgr. Francis O'Brien of St. Angelus' parish.

"His career as lawyer, alderman, judge and finally as mayor," he said, "is interwoven with the finer things of Chicago. As mayor he was mayor for all the people, regardless of race and creed, which won him the respect and affection of all.

"He was a man of rugged honesty that no man dared deprecate. He was swayed by no person in a matter involving integrity. As mayor his desire was to give a good, clean administration of city affairs. He was of indomitable energy, a hard, painstaking worker; and he possessed an unusual comprehension of municipal affairs. Yet, withal, he was humble, unassuming, and unselfish."

Cardinal Gives Blessing.

As the last event in the services at the church, Cardinal Mundelein, accompanied by his attendants, approached the casket at the head of the center aisle and sprinkled it with holy water. It was the final absolution of the church.

The immediate family group, in addition to Mrs. Dever and the two sons, included a brother and two sisters, Joseph F. Dever, Miss Katherine Dever and Mrs. Harriet V. Cunningham, all of Boston. Other relatives included two nieces, Mrs. Augustus Newman and Miss Margaret McCafferty.

One of the closest friends of the family among the mourners was Mrs. George E. Brennan, widow of the late Democratic national committeeman, who reached the zenith of his local political power when he placed Mayor Dever in the city hall in 1923. Her quiet presence in the church was detected by only a few.

Prominent Women Attend.

Other women noticed among the hundreds present included Miss Harriet Vittum, Mrs. W. S. Hefferan, and Mrs. E. W. Bemis.

Among the thousands of men were representatives of the political life of the state, county, city and other local governments—Republicans and Democrats alike. Speaker David E. Shanahan was there as Gov. Emmerson's representative. With him was a former speaker, a Democrat, William McKinley, and a group of legislators, among them Senators John Broderick and Frank McDermott, and Representatives Henry Sonnenschein, Lawrence F. O'Brien and Charles Cola.

Floyd E. Thompson, former justice of the Illinois Supreme court, and the Democratic nominee for governor last year, and Thomas F. Donovan, Democratic state chairman and national committeeman, were present. Two former attorneys general, P. J. Lucey, Democrat, and Edward J. Brundage, were there. One federal official, U. S. Marshal H. C. W. Laubenheimer, was seen.

Almost the entire city council was in the procession, and lined the church steps, forming an aisle for the casket. Several present city officials were with them. Former municipal officers also were noted. They included three former city clerks, Al F. Gorman, who was elected with Dever; Francis D. Connery and Congressman James T. Igoe. Former City Treasurer John A. Cervenka and Col. A. A. Sprague, Mayor Dever's commissioner of public works, and Martin J. O'Brien, his city controller, participated.

Almost all of the elected county officials were reported present. They included A. J. Cermak, president of the county board, who also is chairman of the county central committee, County Clerk Sweitzer, County Recorder Smith, Coroner Bundesen, Sheriff Traeger, and Probate Clerk Robin.

Michael L. Igoe, legislative minority leader and south park commissioner, who yielded his own chance at the mayoralty in order that Mr. Dever might have a clear field, Boetius H. Sullivan, son of the late Roger C. Sullivan, Charles V. Barrett, Republican, and other political leaders were in the crowd. Almost all of the Circuit and Superior judges, in tribute to the deceased's long service on the latter bench, were present, as were a number of municipal judges. Chief Clerk Kearns of the city court was in the group.

CANAL INQUIRY UNCOVERS NEW CHECK MYSTERY

Hunt Forger in Pay Roll Quiz.

The state's attorney's office yesterday discovered that pay checks were issued and cashed in the name of Abe Sharfstein, 3310 Grenshaw street, by the sanitary district without the knowledge of the man whose name was used. The discovery came when Sharfstein was summoned to the prosecutor's office with hundreds of other district pay rollers to explain what work if any they performed for the money received from the public treasury.

Sharfstein said he was never on the district pay roll at any time. He denied that he had ever seen the three checks for $400 issued in his name and cashed at the Public State bank on Roosevelt road. Two of the checks were for $100 and the third for $200.

The name endorsed on the checks was Shafstein, the forger dropping the "r" from the real name. They were issued, however, to Sharfstein and his address was the one given on the pay roll.

Sharfstein said he carried an account at the bank, and bank officials were notified by Assistant State's Attorneys Jo C. Webb and Otho Fasig that they should assist in revealing the identity of the forger as well as notify the insurance company to make good the loss to the sanitary district.

The prosecutors were told by Sharfstein that he had received a notice from the district to come for his pay checks, but that he ignored the notice because he was never on the pay roll. He received a later notice, which he also ignored, telling him he was discharged.

Another pay roller from Calumet City said he received his position through County Commissioner John Jaranowski. The latter sent him to the then state's attorney, Robert E. Crowe, and he obtained a job in the water survey department. His only work, he said, was to copy names from a telephone book, for what purpose he did not know. He later was sent to look around the election commissioners' office, he testified.

NABBED ON BAD CHECK CHARGE.

Accused of passing worthless checks amounting to $1,000, William Kaplan, 50 years old, known as a racetrack bookmaker, was arrested yesterday at his hotel, 312 North Central avenue.

BRITISH KILL TEN ARABS; BREAK UP HOLY LAND RAID

Jaffa Moslems Charge Jews Murdered Five.

JERUSALEM, Sept. 6.—(AP)—Ten Bedouins were killed in a skirmish today which followed the discovery by troops of Arabs in the Esdration valley who had been looting the Kear Tabor colony.

Despite official denials, rumors persist of fights between British soldiery and Bedouins near Gaza. Near the Colony Kastinia 60 Arabs with two sheiks were arrested on suspicion of having participated in the destruction of the colony.

The Jewish telegraphic agency reported that colonists in the Gan Chaim orange grove, owned by an American-Jewish company, had decided to remain there, although the district officer had advised them it was unsafe.

Charge Jews Murdered Five.

JAFFA, Palestine, Sept. 6.—(AP)—Outwardly the situation here is normal, but the atmosphere is tense because of the indignation of the Arab population over the recent proclamation of the British high commissioner.

Arabs say Jews at the beginning of the trouble two weeks ago entered an Arab house at Saknet Abu Kebir, a suburb of Jaffa, and murdered a family of two men, a woman, and two children. The crime is said to have been a reprisal for the murder of four Jews previously in this same vicinity.

Britain to Keep Mandate.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

GENEVA, Sept. 6.—Great Britain has no intention of renouncing or modifying its mandate over Palestine, Arthur Henderson, secretary of state for foreign affairs, told the league council this evening.

"My government has no idea of changing the existing status in Palestine and maintains the Balfour policy establishing a national home for Jews," he added.

Arabs Ask U. S. Help.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 6.—(AP)—A request that the American government employ its good offices to secure fulfillment of Arab aspirations in Palestine was placed before Secretary Stimson today by a delegation representing various Arab and Moslem organizations in the United States.

After robbing Mrs. Gertrude Buchanan, 2328 Farwell avenue, of $50 and jewelry valued at $5,000 yesterday, two bandits made their escape in an automobile driven by a girl. Several men who attempted to halt the fleeing robbers were stopped by pistol fire from the fugitives. No one was hurt.

The men gained entrance to the apartment by representing themselves as delivery men from a loop store. They displayed revolvers when inside and imprisoned Mrs. Buchanan in her bedroom while they searched the place. They finally found her jewelry case, from which they extracted the jewels and money.

As the robbers ran down the stairway, Mrs. Buchanan shouted from a window that she had been robbed. A group of laborers nearby ran forward to intercept the bandits, but stopped when several shots were fired.

Charge Ex-Bank Examiner Got $131,000 in Bribe, Gift

New York, Sept. 6.—(Special.)—Seven additional indictments were returned by the grand jury today against Frank H. Warder, former state superintendent of banks and they painted him as a public official who sold illegal favors as a grocer sells tea.

Bribes and gratuities totaling $106,000 are set forth in the seven true bills. These indictments, added to the three already returned against Warder, make him liable to maximum penalties of 82 years in prison and $41,000 in fines. The charges grew out of the $5,000,000 failure of the City Trust Co.

Seek Pardoned Slayer.

The new indictments were handed up shortly after it was learned that Dr. Raymond F. C. Kleb, state commissioner of correction, is trying to find Frank Gentile, whose 20 year sentence for murder was commuted during the last few hours of Gov. Alfred E. Smith's administration. Men subsequently identified with the City Trust failure had interceded for Gentile, a brother of Dominick Gentile, wealthy borrower from the bank.

Warder was arraigned as soon as the new indictments were returned and he pleaded not guilty through counsel. Trial on a felony charge in the batch of three indictments against him, handed up several weeks ago, has been set for Sept. 25. His attorney pleaded for more time but the court was adamant. The new indictments are to be tried Sept. 30.

These charges are detailed in the seven new true bills:

Oct. 29, 1928, Warder accepted a $10,000 bribe for failing to examine the books of the bank.

March 31, 1923, he accepted $30,000 for approving the merger of the Atlantic State bank and the Harlem Bank of Commerce.

April 23, 1923, he was paid $30,000 for the same purpose.

April 30, 1923, he accepted $15,000 for the same purpose.

Aug. 23, 1923, he was paid $4,000 for approving the formation of the Prudential bank.

Aug. 16, 1928, he got $16,000, purpose not specified.

Jan. 15, 1929, he received $20,000 for not closing the City Trust company, already insolvent.

Allege He Received $25,000.

An earlier indictment alleges that the former superintendent received $25,000 for approving the sale of a building owned by Francesco M. Ferrari, president of the City Trust to the trust company. The price, it is charged, was exorbitant.

"You and your client must know the facts in regard to these indictments," said Judge Arthur S. Trompkins in reply to the plea for delay in the trial. "There is no reason why you cannot answer on the date set."

Warder was continued in $35,000 bail. He appeared a despondent man as he stood before the justice.

Kidnaped Husband Home; Beaten, He Tells Police

Peter Procitis, 27 years old, reported kidnaped by his bride early yesterday, walked into the detective bureau last night and explained that he had only been in hiding following a beating administered by three men. He and his wife, Marie, indicated, the police said, that the assailants were her former husband and two former roomers at her house who resented Procitis' presence in the flat at 5901 Wallace street because they had been obtaining free board there before Procitis married into the family.

300 MILLION CAR PLAN BASED ON PRESENT FARES

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The $200,000,000 in extensions, new equipment and other improvements, which the surface and elevated companies propose to put into a consolidated transit system, is based on the present fare schedule.

The companies represented to the deadlock committee, headed by Dean Charles M. Thompson, that this new money can be obtained without boosting fares, except a charge for a transfer. The cash fare on the surface lines will remain at 7 cents, on the elevated at 10 cents, with 3 cents for a transfer from the surface to the elevated, and no charge fdom the elevated to the surface lines.

The expenditure of the $200,000,000 presupposes that the city will spend approximately $100,000,000 in subway construction.

The financial representations to the committee are the most promising of any plan suggested thus far. They surpass in proposed expenditures for extensions and betterments the Kelker plan of 1928, the Dever plan of 1925 and the Capitain plan of 1918—and yet it is asserted that the fares need not be increased.

"That impresses me very favorably," commented Ald. McDonough [12th], chairman of the local transportation committee, yesterday. "That is exactly what the people want—$300,000,000 in transportation improvements at a reasonable fare. Few car riders would ask for more, although I assume we will be criticized if we embark on such a beneficial program.

"Really Want Settlement."

"There is another highly favorable aspect to the situation, although it has taken us a long time to get to this point. The mere fact that the companies promise to raise $200,000,000 for extensions and improvements, with no increase in fare, demonstrates to me that they now really desire to settle the transportation question. They were criticizing and blocking less favorable plans to the public in 1918, 1925 and 1928. It takes two parties to make a contract, and they both must be willing to sign before there is an agreement. I firmly believe that both are willing now.

"If the people get adequate and rapid transportation anywhere and everywhere, at a reasonable fare—and $300,000,000 more in improvements and no increase in fare is that—then I doubt whether the public is much interested in how they exchange new securities for the old or exactly what the new financial structure shall be. I believe that the public is perfectly willing that the new company shall earn a reasonable return; and I personally believe in permitting the new transportation company to gain and maintain the highest credit. That is the only way to guarantee improvements of the future, after the $300,000,000 has been spent."

Fix Operating Ratio.

Although not a word was presented on the subject in the written statement of the companies to the Thompson committee, a financial exhibit attached indicated the operating ratio, which is the percentage of gross income which the new company expects to spend for operation. This exhibit shows that the new company expects to operate its first calendar year at 77.52 per cent of its gross income. That is about 2 per cent lower than the operating ratio of the surface lines last year.

But the new company expects to better this mark in subsequent years, until in the eighth year after the ordinance becomes effective an operating ratio of 73.5 per cent is obtained. This is said to be equal to or lower than any other urban transit system in the country. So in effect the new company is promising the highest degree of operating efficiency in the United States.

While the car riders will benefit from such efficient operation, the present companies' officials assert that good service is also essential to earn a return on the investment and to attract new capital. In no other way can the financial scheme be made successful, they argue.

Rate of Return Less Than 6%.

Even with this forecasted efficiency, the return on the investment—after four years of expenditures on improvements—will be less than the surface lines have been obtaining for years. The surface lines have been obtaining 6.1 to 6.4 per cent in recent years and the consolidated company will obtain less than 6 per cent, according to the forecast.

Chairman McDonough plans to ascertain just where and how the $200,000,000 is to be spent on improvements and extensions. Persons who are interested in having new lines built will be invited next week to public hearings in the city hall, and they will be asked to present not only their requests but also their reasons for wanting certain extension lines constructed.

The alderman said that he wants the $200,000,000 spent where it will accommodate the largest number of car riders, and that he is willing to listen to the pleas of any interested residents. The date for starting these hearings probably will be determined today.

YOUNG HEFLIN JUMPS BOND ON LIQUOR CHARGE

Phenix City, Ala., Sept. 6.—(AP)—Failure of J. Tom Heflin Jr., son of the senior United States senator from Alabama, and B. M. Haines to appear in Recorder's court today to answer charges of drunkenness and violation of the state prohibition law resulted in forfeiture of their bonds.

The two were arrested here several days after the attention of officers had been directed to the "peculiar course" of Heflin's automobile, which was being driven by Haines.

Heflin forfeited bond of $63 and Haines $78. Officials indicated that forfeiture of the bond ended the case.

CHICAGO POLICE DROP FROM SKY TO GET NEW CARS

Fly to Detroit to Bring Anti-Gang Autos.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 6.—[Special.]—A detail of fourteen Chicago detectives literally swooped down on Detroit this afternoon when a tri-motored Ford transport plane emerged from the clouds and landed at the Ford airport shortly after 2 o'clock.

Drawn up in a long line awaiting the arrival of the officers was a string of seventeen Lincoln touring cars, ready to be delivered to the representatives of the Chicago force by the Lincoln Motor company. Judging from their appearance as seen at the flying field, and later on a cruise about Detroit's business streets, including a visit at police headquarters, these special cars will produce a different feeling among law violators in Chicago than they did when viewed by thousands of peaceful pedestrians and motorists here today.

Each Has Gun Rack.

The rear of the front seat of each car has a gun rack capable of holding two rifles, both instantaneously available. Special pockets are provided for carrying tear gas bombs. A radio receiving set has been installed to keep occupants of each car constantly in touch with headquarters.

There are special mountings for huge siren and bell alarms and special searchlights. Other similar provisions were built into these cars upon specifications by Chicago police, who will use them to supplement their existent fleet of radio equipped cars.

Painted Bright Orange.

The cars are painted a bright orange and each has the word "Police" lettered twice on the hood, twice on the sides, once on the back and once on the top, so as to be visible from office buildings. The fourteen special officers who arrived this afternoon by airplane were joined by three others arriving by train. Starting at 8 a. m. Saturday, they will drive the cars to Chicago. They expect to reach their headquarters by 4 p. m. Saturday. A parade through the loop has been planned.

EVIDENCE LINKS 2 MORE REDS TO STRIKE SLAYING

Hear Surprise Witness in Textile Trial.

Charlotte, N. C., Sept. 6.—[Special.]—Additional direct evidence implicating two more of the sixteen communists and strikers on trial before Judge M. V. Barnhill here for the murder of Chief of Police O. F. Aderholt of Gastonia, was offered today.

The two defendants implicated were K. Y. Hendricks and Louis McLaughlin. Those involved in direct testimony yesterday were Fred Erwin Beal, George Carter, Joseph Harrison, W. P. McGinnis and Vera Buch. No direct proof has been produced against any of the seven, however, that they fired the shot that felled Chief Aderholt.

Evidence extracted on cross-examination by the defense from two police officers who were with Aderholt at strike headquarters was that a sawed off shotgun and a rifle, which the police brought along with them in their car, may have been the weapons from which the fatal shots were fired.

State Has Surprise Witness.

The evidence against Hendricks was given by a surprise witness for the state, a woman. She testified that, "White as a cod and scared to death," he ran into her house, near union headquarters, immediately after the shooting. He pleaded with her to permit him to hide in a closet and said, "We've shot Chief Aderholt and Gilbert," she declared.

The witness was Mrs. Connie Neal, a widow, who was brought for the trial by the state from Fort Mills, S. C., whither she said she had moved after the shooting. The Gilbert she referred to was Policeman Tom Gilbert, who was wounded in the affray on the night Aderholt was killed. Gilbert was one of the six witnesses who testified today for the prosecution.

Mrs. Neal, who made a stubborn witness and whose testimony the defense was apparently unable to shake, testified that the information given her by Hendricks was given in the presence of her father and her brother-in-law, Dewey Martin.

Threw the Gun Away.

"What did you do with your gun?" she said she asked Hendricks.

"I threw it away," was the reply she ascribed to him.

Mrs. Neal said that Hendricks was finally put out of the house by her father and that she then told the story to neighbors.

Under cross-examination by Col. J. D. McCall, she denied she went to South Carolina after the shooting on the suggestion of the prosecution and that she was being paid by the prosecution.

Reveals Alleged Confession.

The evidence against McLaughlin was produced when Sheriff L. M. Allen, of the adjoining Cleveland county, was permitted by the court to reveal a confession alleged to have been made to him by McLaughlin. Sheriff Allen testified that McLaughlin admitted to him that he fired the second shot, but that this was not the one that killed Aderholt.

Sheriff Allen's testimony was given after a struggle by the defense to keep him off the stand on the ground that the alleged confession was forced by officers of Gastonia, headed by Sheriff Eli P. Linesberger, when they took McLaughlin to Shelby from Gastonia on the night of the shooting, together with Carter.

After argument, during which the jury was excluded from the court room, Judge Barnhill permitted the introduction of the alleged confession, with the limitation that only that part of it be disclosed referring to McLaughlin and that it be not used against any of the other prisoners.

Acted As Union Guard.

Earlier in the day, Gilbert had testified that McGinnis had fired the shot that struck him and that McLaughlin had fired the second shot. Gilbert said McLaughlin's shot did not strike the chief. Sheriff Allen also testified that Carter had told him that he had come to Gastonia from Washington to serve as a union guard and that he received his gun at union headquarters. Carter's statement, as quoted by Sheriff Allen, was admitted by the court as affecting him only.

An attempt by Clyde R. Hoey, attorney for the prosecution, to prove that Carter had come to Gastonia for purposes of mischief and to utilize his statement as evidence of conspiracy to kill Aderholt was ruled out by the court. Thus far, no evidence has been adduced by the prosecution of a concerted pact by the defendants to resist the police officers on the union grounds. It is the contention of the defense that the strikers fired in self defense.

Responsibility Still in Doubt.

The story of what happened at union headquarters on the night of June 7, when Aderholt was killed, became reasonably clear with the conclusion of today's testimony, but the question of responsibility still remains in doubt. Evidence of next door neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Mason, yesterday was that Beal and Miss Buch, standing in front of the union building, shouted "Shoot them, shoot them," while girls across the way cried, "Do your duty, guards," after which a fusillade of shots followed in which Aderholt was killed.

Committeewoman

MRS. RUTH PRATT.

HOOVER FORCES PICK RUTH PRATT FOR COMMITTEE

Congresswoman Chosen to Succeed Mrs. Sabin.

New York, Sept. 6.—[Special.]—The Hoover political machine clinched its grip on the Republican organization in New York state and at the same time revealed its full power today when it nominated Congresswoman Ruth Pratt as the state's national committeewoman to succeed Mrs. Charles H. Sabin.

Sponsored and enthusiastically supported by President Hoover's lieutenants in this state, Mrs. Pratt was chosen for the national committee over a contesting candidate, Mrs. Marion Schindler of Albany, at a meeting of the Republican state committee at the national Republican club. The vote was 223 for Mrs. Pratt and 33 for Mrs. Schindler.

Coolidge's Aid Defeated.

The victory signifies the final triumph of the new and rampantly confident Hoover organization over the last vestiges of the one time Coolidge organization led by Charles D. Hilles.

Owing to the fact that this state has no Republican senator the prized prerogative of distributing patronage has been for some years in the hands of the silvery haired urbane gentleman who stood so close to Calvin Coolidge.

Mrs. Pratt to Get Share.

Mr. Hoover scarcely had taken his oath of office when his advisory council changed all that, or sought to change it, by appointing a triumvirate of whom William H. Hill is perhaps the dominant figure.

Mrs. Pratt, as the woman representative of New York in the Republican national committee, undoubtedly will receive a part, and probably a large part, of the prerogatives that formerly were exclusively in the hands of Mr. Hilles.

POLICEMAN ON HUNT FOR BANDIT SHOOTS HIMSELF

Five policemen answered an alarm yesterday that the Solovy Luggage store, 1002 East 63d street, was being robbed. While searching through the store Policeman Daniel Ryan accidentally discharged a shotgun and sent sixteen buckshot into his leg. While his four brother policemen were removing Ryan to a hospital the marauder slugged a watchman and escaped.

The watchman, Leon De Young, 54 years old, 6048 South Harper avenue, was found unconscious by the four policemen when they returned from the hospital. They took De Young and gave him a bed beside Policeman Ryan.

The quartet of policemen then returned for the third time and renewed their searching. They found no one and there were no further injuries.

MORON IS SEIZED, TRIED, AND PUT IN CELL IN 2 HOURS

Justice Speeds Up for Child's Assailant.

Speedy justice was given yesterday to George Borek, 25 years old, 2524 South Kedvale avenue, after he had been rescued from an irate mother whose 4 year old daughter he attempted to attack yesterday morning. Borek was arrested, tried and sent to prison on the same day—a record for proceedings in Cook county.

The credit for the speed of Borek's punishment belongs jointly to Judge Samuel P. Trude in the Felony court and Assistant State's Attorney Frank Mast. When Borek was brought into court for the warrant to be issued Prosecutor Mast asked the judge to put aside other cases.

"This man attempted to attack a little girl and I believe that we should make an example of him," said the prosecutor.

Judge Trude agreed with the prosecutor and Borek was promptly put on trial. He was found guilty of contributing to the delinquency of the child and was given a six month sentence in the Bridewell. He was immediately imprisoned.

Borek lured the child to his room with a penny at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, the court was told. The child told her mother of what had occurred. Borek was coming down the street at the time and the mother called him into her home. She immediately proceeded to punish him in her way, with blows. But neighbors called the police and they stopped the irate mother and took the defendant away to the Felony court.

Two hours after he had stopped the little girl Borek was in a cell.

SEIZED ON WOMAN'S CHARGE.

Vito Agriesti, 29 years old, was arrested yesterday at his home, 2229 Taylor street, on a warrant charging him with having attacked a 22-year-old woman in the forest preserves a week ago.

GIRL'S SLAYER WILL TESTIFY AT WHEATON TODAY

The trial of Theodore Freeman, 24 years old, of Naperville, for the killing of his fiancée, Margaret Weismantel, last March, will end today with the testimony of the defendant, defense attorneys announced last night. The case is being heard by Judge Frank B. Shepherd at Wheaton.

When arrested by police Freeman admitted shooting the girl. He said he did it in a fit of anger after finding her in the arms of Dean Perry of Naperville, an automobile salesman. His attorneys hope for a manslaughter verdict from the jury. The prosecution has asked the death penalty.

Perry was a witness yesterday, telling how he and Miss Weismantel were sitting in an automobile and were surprised by Freeman, who displayed a gun. Perry said he wrestled with Freeman, being slightly wounded himself before Freeman fatally shot the girl.

ALDERMAN ASKS LONE GAGE FARM BID BE REJECTED

Property to Go on Block Next Wednesday.

Gage farm, held by the city of Chicago for forty-eight years and now pointed out as a horrible example of the city's expensive adventures in real estate, comes under the hammer of the city council finance committee next Wednesday.

The farm, located at Harlem avenue and 23d street, was advertised for sale, but only two bids were received. One of these has been withdrawn, so the single bid of James L. Mayer of Glen Ellyn, for $1,216,000, will be considered by the committee. This bid, for the 208 acres, is at the rate of $7,- 000 an acre.

Ald. John S. Clark, chairman of the committee, announced yesterday that he will oppose acceptance of the bid. He believes it to be too low. He will urge, he said, that the city reject the Mayer bid, subdivide the entire tract, and readvertise the sale in lots.

Plum on Political Tree.

Members of the council admitted influences had been exerted in different ways in connection with the farm. Some sought the acceptance of the Mayer bid; others favored the lower bid of $1,095,000, which had been made in the name of the Garfield State bank, and others urged rejection of the present bid. The farm, which when sold is expected to become residential property of increasing value, is considered somewhat in the light of a plum on the tree of politics, with not a few hands reaching toward it.

But behind the sale of the farm is the story of a valuable property held as a losing asset by the city for 45 years. Some assertions are made at the city hall that the farm has eaten away its original value.

The farm originally came into the city's possession in 1881, when it was accepted as part of a settlement of the city's claim against David A. Gage, former city treasurer. Its value was set then at $592,000.

What Income Should Be.

Assuming that the city would be entitled to receive 5 per cent earnings on its property—judgments in favor of the city draw 5 per cent simple interest until paid—the interest earnings on the property should be $29,600 annually, or $1,320,800 for the 48 years.

For 39 years the property lay idle and the city was compelled to pay taxes amounting to $99,513, according to a tabulation by Joseph F. Peacock, city real estate agent. Then it was turned into a city nursery, but special assessments for surrounding public improvements were levied against the farm, amounting to $76,565, a total, according to Mr. Peacock's figures, of $176,078.

During the ten years, according to Walter Wright, superintendent of parks and playgrounds and custodian of the nursery maintained on the farm, the city has raised trees and shrubs on the farm valued by Mr. Wright at $18,000 a year, a total of $180,000. But these trees have been nurtured, Mr. Wright says, at a labor cost of $12,000 a year, or $120,000 for the ten years.

Trees Now Worth $435,000.

Mr. Wright claims that the value of the trees and shrubs now growing on the farm should be fixed at $435,- 000. The trees could not be bought at twice the price spent by the city in raising them, Mr. Wright said, and he urged the importance of his program of beautifying the city's small parks and street parkways.

However, Ald. Clark pointed out, and Mr. Wright admitted, that the same trees could be grown with the same operating costs on other city owned land—a farm near Joliet—where the value is around $500 or less an acre, as compared to the Mayer bid of $7,600 an acre.

"I am definitely opposed—have always been—to the city's holding valuable properties which earn no profit," said Ald. Clark.

Some Urge Holding Farm.

Mr. Wright and some other agencies, including at one time the Chicago plan commission, have urged that Gage farm should not be sold at all, that it should be preserved for use later as a city park. However, the property is located partly in Berwyn and partly in Riverside, with Cicero between the farm and Chicago. It would be necessary for these villages to become annexed to Chicago before the farm could be made into a city park, and this possibility is still far away, Ald. Clark believes.

Both the village boards of Riverside and Berwyn have urged the sale of the property so that it may be improved and yield taxes.

ROMANCE DIES

Mrs. Erminie Whitell Buckner.

BROKER IS CITED FOR HIS FAILURE TO PAY ALIMONY

J. J. Buckner $1,050 in Arrears.

Julian J. Buckner, insurance broker, was cited for contempt of court yesterday for failure to pay alimony to his former wife, Mrs. Erminie Whitell Buckner, by Superior Judge David. The former wife charged that Buckner is lavishing his income on his present wife, daughter of the late Gen. George A. Hart and a former wife of Maj. William Mack Baxter.

Buckner was ordered to pay $150 alimony when his former wife won a divorce before Superior Judge Joseph Sabath on April 3, 1928. On March 1, 1929, a lump sum settlement of $2,500 was agreed upon. Buckner has paid all but $1,050. Judge David gave him ten days to show why he should not go to jail.

Married Armistice Day.

The Buckners were married armistice day, 1918, after a courtship of two weeks near the front lines in France. The bride was an entertainer with the American Overseas Theater league. They met at St. Nazaire, where he was stationed as a second lieutenant of field artillery. Mrs. Buckner sued for divorce on charges of cruelty in 1927.

Within six months of the divorce Buckner married the second Mrs. William Mack Baxter, the former Sabra Hart. Baxter's first wife was Virginia Listeman, concert singer, who won a divorce in 1924 when she charged that Baxter was jealous of her singing. Baxter was chief of railway transportation for the A. E. F. in Brittany. He is the son of the late Jere Baxter, former governor of Tennessee, a nephew of Jacob Dickinson, former secretary of war, and a cousin of the late Senator Albert J. Beveridge.

Charges Extravagance.

Mrs. Buckner No. 1 charged, through her attorney, Harry X. Cole, that the present Mrs. Buckner is given diamonds, lavish entertainment and a luxurious apartment at 650 Gordon terrace, leaving Buckner nothing to meet his obligations. She declared that she had agreed upon the lump settlement when Buckner pointed out that his second wife's extravagant demands made it impossible for him to meet the monthly payments indefinitely. Since he has added a summer home to his expenses for the present wife, Mrs. Buckner No. 1 declared that he should meet the balance of the settlement.

Colored Voters to Hold Massmeeting Tomorrow

A mass meeting of colored voters is to be held tomorrow evening at Wendell Phillips High school, under the auspices of the Bethel A. M. E. church. Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, congresswoman-at-large, was to have come from Washington to address the meeting, but the illness of one of her close friends—with an operation scheduled for today—has forced her to change her plans and she will not be able to be here. She will remain in Washington over Sunday.

BUSINESS URGES SCHOOLS TO GIVE LAND TO STREET

Indorses Bonds for 38 Grade Separations.

BY HAL FOUST.

The executive committee of the Chicago Association of Commerce yesterday adopted a resolution urging the board of education to dedicate seventeen feet for street widening purposes from its property with a mile frontage on Roosevelt road between Central and Cicero avenues. The resolution sets forth that the increase in the value of the property through the widening will more than compensate the school board for the seventeen foot strip.

A Day's Highway Progress.

Other important developments in plans for street and highway improvements occurred yesterday:

1. The Association of Commerce at the same session gave its official indorsement of a $3,420,000 county bond issue to finance the county's share for the construction of thirty-eight highway grade separations as proposed by an advisory commission headed by Elmer Stevens. The proposition is to be placed on the November ballot.

2. The villages of Kenilworth, Winnetka, Glencoe and Highland Park petitioned the Illinois commerce commission for a continuous grade separation of the Chicago and North Western and the North Shore electric tracks through the suburbs so as to eliminate twenty-five busy road crossings. The plan proposes that the tracks be elevated part of the way and lowered for the remainder of the distance.

3. An advisory commission recommended that the county board adopt and enforce a traffic rule on the forty foot highways compelling all vehicles to use the outer lanes except when passing slower moving machines.

Widening Waits on Board.

The Association of Commerce action on the Roosevelt road widening was considered of importance because plans to increase the pavement from forty-six to fifty-six feet await the coöperation of the board of education. A right of way one hundred feet wide is required. The village of Cicero, on the south side of Roosevelt road for this mile, has agreed to obtain its share of the right of way.

If the school board decides to sell this mile of property, as has been suggested, the Association of Commerce advocates that the land be replatted, giving the extra seventeen feet for roadway.

See Use for 1927 Gas Tax.

In its approval of the Elmer Stevens report on grade separations the Association of Commerce included the provision that the county's share of the undistributed 1927 gasoline tax fund, approximately $1,200,000, be used to retire a portion of the bonds.

The association also gave its official approval to the proposal that the county survey ninety-five railway grade crossings with a view of preparing a five year construction program. The locations of the thirty-eight highway and ninety-five railway crossings were made public several weeks ago when Mr. Stevens submitted his report to the county board.

Francis Bortell, chairman of the grade separation committee of the county board, predicted that the county commissioners will pass an ordinance within the next two weeks putting the referendum on the ballot. The state, under the estimates prepared by Mr. Stevens' committee, is to add $4,300,500 to the county's bonds to cover the cost of construction. The plan supplements work proposed out of the state's share of the gasoline tax revenue.

Plan of North Shore Towns.

The north shore villages, in their petition to change the grade of the steam and electric lines acted through a committee consisting of Henry F. Tenney, Winnetka; Benjamin F. Lewis, Highland Park; Frank Loomis, Glencoe, and Arthur B. Adair, Kenilworth.

The plan commences at the south boundary of Kenilworth and provides for a four track elevation through Kenilworth for the North Western railroad and a two track elevation for the North Shore electric. The elevation would continue through Indian Hill, and at Willow street in Winnetka the plan provides for a cut. From there on the northern boundary of Highland Park the tracks would be depressed and the streets would cross over.

The plan would eliminate some twenty-five grade crossings in addition to removing the North Shore tracks from more than two miles of streets. Several of the crossings affected are heavily used school crossings. The length of track involved is approximately nine miles, over which 287 trains pass daily.

The commission that recommended improved traffic regulation on the wide highways included representatives of the county board, the county highway department, the National Safety council and the Chicago Regional Planning association.

Commissioner Boutell, in opening the session, said that he believed the motor vehicle act, which permits regulations necessary for safety, gives the county the police power to keep slow drivers from loafing in the center lanes of the wide highways. He also pointed out that the law prescribes that an automobile approaching from the rear must pass on the left and that courts have held that to pass on the right constitutes a negligence that carries liability for damages when an accident results.

"By keeping all cars in the outer lane except when passing other vehicles," said Mr. Boutell, "we are freeing the inner lanes for fast traffic. It will reduce the zigzagging that causes so many accidents and it will increase the speed of traffic and the maximum capacity of our pavements."

Orange Strip to Mark Lanes.

Robert Kingery, general manager of the planning association, reported that the state highway department has agreed to mark the lanes with an orange stripe. The color was chosen to distinguish the markings from the black construction joints that are confusing in some places.

The state for several weeks has been equipping machines for marking the pavements and will be ready to begin work within a few days, starting on River road, Waukegan road and Dempster street.

Sidney J. Williams of the National Safety council pointed out that there is an equal need for striping the wide boulevards under the jurisdiction of the city and the park boards so as to reduce zigzagging and to increase the capacity of the pavements.

FAHERTY BOARD O'K'S COMPLETION OF OGDEN AVENUE

Council Approval Will Be Sought Sept. 11.

Completion of the Ogden avenue improvement by bridging the gap at Goose Island to make a continuous thoroughfare from Lincoln park at Center street to the southwest was recommended by the board of local improvements yesterday following a public hearing. Approval of the $5,400,000 project will be asked of the city council on Sept. 11.

Hostile property owners who advanced on the board were soothed by President Faherty with the suggestion that property values will be increased tenfold and that he will recommend that the city pay 90 per cent of the cost. Only property owners fronting on Ogden avenue between Lincoln park and Harrison street will be assessed, he said.

Owner Sells His Property.

One taxpayer persisting in his objections to the program expressed his willingness to sell his property fronting on the proposed improvement. His offer was snapped up by another spectator and the sale was consummated.

Two obstacles to an early finish of the two bridges and viaduct which the program calls for were seen at the city hall. If the court confirms an assessment roll providing for the city to pay 90 per cent or $4,860,000 as a public benefit, Faherty will have to obtain approval of a bond issue from the voters or the city council's assent to an appropriation of approximately $250,000 from the corporate fund for each of the next twenty years.

In the latter case bonds would be issued against the public benefit to be paid by the city and against the assessment money to be obtained from the property owners. These bonds, according to council finance experts, would be given to contractors as their payment or be sold to banks.

Outline Work to Be Done.

The section of Ogden avenue to be completed extends from the Chicago and North Western tracks at Cornell street northeastward across the north branch of the river and Goose island to a point 141 feet north of Rees street. Ogden avenue then would be 108 feet wide from Lincoln park to Washington boulevard at Union park.

Opening of Devon avenue between Milwaukee and Avondale avenues, which will provide a through street from the lake to Mannheim road, was also recommended by the board. The paving of 55th street between Kostner and Cicero avenues, to provide an additional artery to the Municipal airport, and the paving of 87th street under the new Illinois Central viaduct received approval.

Dearborn street will be widened to 56 feet from Ohio street to Chicago avenue, unless property owners who objected file a petition within the next thirty days as a result of the hearing. A contract for the repaving of Dearborn street between Chicago avenue and Burton place was let to the Barber Asphalt company yesterday. Both projects are a part of the program to make this street a new through highway from the loop to Lincoln park.

150 WORKERS FLEE $200,000 FACTORY FIRE

Flames swept through a four story factory building at Archer and Poplar avenues yesterday, wrecking the offices and plants of the Real Sausage and Lignotite companies. One hundred and fifty employés of the companies fled to the street and the thick smoke alarmed workers in adjacent factory buildings. Harry Ward, president of the sausage works, estimated the damage at approximately $200,000.

Loop traffic was delayed yesterday when an awning at the Lane Bryant company, 101 North Wabash avenue, caught fire. Firemen extinguished the blaze before it spread to the building proper.

W. C. BOYDEN JR. SAYS WIFE LEFT; ASKS A DIVORCE

Couple Is Still Friendly, Plea Asserts.

William C. Boyden Jr. yesterday filed a suit for divorce in the Circuit court against his wife, Mrs. Mary Delafield Carpenter Boyden. The bill makes a formal charge of desertion. The action follows mutual acknowledgment of incompatibility and is a friendly suit, said Attorney Thomas H. Fisher, representing Mr. Boyden.

Mr. Boyden is the son of the late William Cowper Boyden Sr., former president of the Chicago Bar association and prominent Harvard alumnus. The son is also a graduate of Harvard university and is associated in the practice of law with his father's firm, Fisher, Boyden, Kales, & Bell.

Mrs. Boyden is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard Carpenter of Chicago and Lake Geneva. She was one of the most active debutantes of the season when she married Boyden. The wedding, one of the most picturesque Chicago society has witnessed, was performed in the garden of the bride's home at Lake Geneva on Sept. 25, 1920.

The Boydens separated two years ago when Mrs. Boyden went to California, where she preferred to live. Boyden was unable to follow her because of his business. During the separation they have maintained a friendship, Attorney Fisher said.

With Mrs. Boyden are their two daughters, Rosalie Sturges, 8 years old, and Ellen Webb, 5 years old. The children are to remain with their mother except for occasional visits to their father. Attorney Fisher explained that property rights have been satisfactorily adjusted.

FARMERS FLAY CHAIN STORES, BOOST PACKERS

Assert Producers Are at Retailers' Mercy.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 6.—[Special.]—Farm leaders, appearing today before the committee of agriculture department chiefs to urge vacation or modification of the packers' consent decree, pictured chain retail stores as an outstanding menace to the prosperity of agriculture.

A. B. Sawyer, president of the Kentucky Farm Bureau federation, one of the principal witnesses heard by the committee, asserted that since 1920, when the decree limiting the activities of the Chicago "Big Four" packers to the processing of meats was entered, the public and particularly the farmers have learned "that because a business is big it is not necessarily bad."

Packers at Retailers' Mercy.

"The packers," continued Mr. Sawyer, "have learned by years of experience that they can not hope to prosper unless the producer prospers. The chain stores have this yet to learn. Chain stores have taken advantage of every depression and over production to beat down prices to the consumer. We are more concerned in the menace presented by chain stores rather than any possible danger from the packers."

L. R. Highlen, director of livestock marketing for the Indiana Farm Bureau federation, asserted that the decree has left the packers and the producers "largely at the mercy of a retail industry over which they have little control." Wholesale grocers and retail store chains have become packers, but, according to Mr. Highlen, "the decree has stayed the hand of those who are in the best position to effect economies in the distribution field."

Wants Peak Load Equipment Used.

"If the packers," said J. D. Wilson, representative of nearly a dozen wool growers' associations, "could use their peak load equipment and their peak load operating and selling forces all the time instead of just when there is a peak load, it would divide the cost of maintaining the peak load equipment over a greater volume of product and consequently would lessen the cost of the service. Handling of foods other than meats, offers opportunity for utilizing this peak load equipment."

During the day the committee made public the many briefs filed by cooperatives and other farmers' organizations who were invited to participate in the hearing.

Hearing Drawing to Close.

Among the briefs was that of the American Farm Bureau federation, endorsing the proposed modification. A number, including those of the National Association of Cooperative Grain Sales Agencies of Iowa and several far western dairy, honey and fruit cooperatives, opposed the modification.

When the hearing closes tomorrow, the committee which is composed of Dr. John R. Mohler, chief of the bureau of agricultural economics, and R. W. Williams, department solicitor, will condense the testimony and briefs for the guidance of the department of justice in preparation of its answer to the packers' petition for modification of the decree.

Oakland, Cal., Sept. 6.—(AP)—Janet Gaynor, Hollywood film star, and Lydell Peck, young San Francisco attorney, filed notice of intention to wed here today. The wedding, they said, would take place in Oakland some time next week. Miss Gaynor and Peck first met in 1928.

CROWDS INSPECT 3 NEW TRAINS OF ROCK ISLAND

A large crowd yesterday visited the three new trains of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railway in the shed of the La Salle street station ready to make their initial trips on Sunday. They are the Golden State Limited, its destination Los Angeles; the Iowa and Nebraska Limited, its destination Lincoln, Neb., and the Rocky Mountain Limited, its destination Denver and Colorado Springs.

Miss Amapola del Vando of San Diego, granddaughter of the counsellor of the king of Spain and a daughter of Don Cesar del Vando, Mexican writer, who is known for her Indian maid rôle in the annual mission play of San Gabriel, was hostess of the Golden State Limited.

RADICALS WHET THEIR POLITICAL KNIVES FOR LEGGE

Brookhart Believed Ready to Lead Fight on Him.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 6.—Indication that confirmation of some members of the federal farm board may be opposed by senate radical Republicans was given today when the senate agricultural committee announced its intention to summon the members of the board for examination into their qualifications for appointment.

Open hearings of the committee at which the board members have been notified to appear at their convenience will be held next week, according to the committee chairman, Senator McNary [Rep., Ore.].

Oppose His Policies.

The opposition will center, it is expected, on Chairman Alexander Legge of Chicago, former chairman of the International Harvester company, whose policy of requiring cooperatives and farm organizations to exhaust other means of credit before applications for assistance from the board will be considered, has been sharply criticized by the radicals.

The radicals have contended that by proceeding slowly and carefully in the extension of loans instead of making its 500 million dollar fund easily available, Chairman Legge and his colleagues have defeated the intention of congress which, they point out, specifically refused to incorporate the Legge requirement in the farm bill.

La Follette to Help.

Senators S. W. Brookhart [Rep., Ia.], and R. M. La Follette [Rep., Wis.], both expect to participate in the examination of the farm board members, although they are members of the agricultural committee. Senator Brookhart's antagonism toward Chairman Legge dates, it is said, from the recent meeting of grain producers in Chicago to organize the Farmers' National Grain corporation. The Iowa senator attempted to participate in the conferences between the board members and the wheat growers and was asked to leave by Mr. Legge.

Other radical senators have asserted their "suspicions" of Mr. Legge because of his former connection with the International Harvester company, and some of them, it is expected, will seize the opportunity offered in the committee hearings to closely question Samuel R. McKelvie, a former governor of Nebraska, and C. B. Denman.

ILLINOIS G. O. P. SERVICE MEN'S OFFICERS NAMED

Officers of the newly reorganized Illinois Republican Service Men's league were elected yesterday at the first annual convention of the organization. Those elected are Howard P. Savage, chairman; State's Attorney Joseph Allen of Mount Vernon, Jefferson county, vice chairman; Gen. Milton J. Foreman, treasurer; Everett H. Allison, secretary, and Carlos Ames, national executive committeeman.

The league, intended to coördinate the efforts of service men in the state along political lines, will function as part of a national organization, which is headed by Hanford MacNider of Des Moines, Ia. Both Mr. MacNider and Mr. Savage are past national commanders of the American Legion.

Brig. Gen. Abel Davis, delivering the keynote address at the convention, held at the Hotel Sherman, urged that the American Legion should be kept out of politics, but that every Legionnaire should be put into politics. To fail to become identified with a political party, being content with futile individual criticism, is to be lacking in appreciation of the responsibilities of citizenship, Gen. Davis said.

2 Policemen Share Patten Award to Evanston Force

Patrolmen Philip Reisman and Leo Larkin of the Evanston police force yesterday were awarded the James J. Patten award of $100 for the most outstanding deed performed in August. The two policemen on the morning of Aug. 28 broke into the garage of Wesley P. Heilman, 3004 Normandie place, and rescued Heilman from death after he had been overcome by carbon monoxide gas from his car.

RADICALS JOIN DEMOCRATS IN TARIFF BATTLE

Oppose Administrative Provisions of Bill.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 6.—[Special.]—Senate radicals agreed today to join forces with the Democrats in centering their opening attack against the tariff bill on its administrative provisions. Realizing that the Democrats are split on the question of limiting tariff revision to agricultural products, the radicals decided not to push that proposal at the beginning of the debate as they had first planned.

As the regular Republican leaders are willing to commence consideration of administrative provisions ahead of rate schedules it appears certain that this course will be followed when the senate reconvenes on Monday.

Regulars on Defensive.

While the administrative provisions technically will be placed before the senate ahead of rates there is little likelihood that any action will be reached for some time. Lengthy speeches are expected, principally from the Democrats and radical Republicans. The regular Republicans plan to adopt a defensive program, merely replying to attacks upon the various provisions.

The two principal administrative provisions which will be under fire are the flexible tariff and the change from a foreign to a domestic basis of valuation. The Democrats and radicals, for the most part, favor the repeal of the flexible tariff, but failing to get that will oppose the broadening of the powers of the President.

Under Borah's Leadership.

The radicals met under the leadership of Senator William E. Borah [Rep., Idaho]. They express themselves as favoring a resolution to obtain information from income tax returns of tariff beneficiaries. It is expected that the radicals will support the resolution offered by Senator F. M. Simmons [Dem., N. C.], if they can not make headway with the broader resolution introduced by Senator John J. Blaine [Rep., Wis.].

Regular Republicans are hopeful of defeating the Simmons resolution. It will come up for consideration in the morning business hour on Monday and if not disposed of by 2 o'clock will go to the calendar, where it can be reached daily in regular order or by majority action of the senate.

SINCLAIR'S PLEA FOR FREEDOM DOOMED TO AN OFFICIAL REFUSAL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 6.—[Special.]—Harry F. Sinclair's appeal for commutation of the sentence imposed on him for contempt of court will be denied, it was indicated today. The oil millionaire, who has already served three months for contempt of the senate, still has nearly ten weeks of a six months' term for contempt of court before him.

Current reports are that Justice Frederick L. Siddons of the District Supreme court, who presided over Sinclair's trial for contempt, based on an alleged attempt to fix the Teapot Dome conspiracy case jury, and Justice Peyton L. Gordon, who, as United States attorney, prosecuted the oil man, have both disapproved the plea for commutation.

In addition it was reported that James A. Finch, assistant attorney general in charge of pardons, has recommended to Attorney General Mitchell that the application be denied, and it is possible that the appeal will not even be submitted to President Hoover.

Similar recommendations have been made on the plea of Henry Mason Day, Sinclair's aid, who, as a result of his part in the jury tampering scandal, was also convicted of contempt of court and sentenced to jail with his employer.

Day, at the instance of Sinclair, it was charged, retained the Burns International Detective agency to shadow members of the jury impaneled to try Sinclair on the conspiracy charge.

The alleged plot was disclosed by a talkative juror and the indictment of Sinclair and Day with a number of others, including William J. Burns, head of the detective agency, followed.

SPEEDY TARIFF AID URGED BY BEET SUGAR MEN

Members of the United States Beet Sugar association met yesterday at the Palmer house and announced that immediate relief in the form of a higher tariff on foreign sugar is essential if the American sugar crop is to be sold at a profit this year.

It was announced that this year's beet sugar crop could be estimated at 1,200,000 tons.

F. L. Crawford of Detroit, secretary of the Eastern Beet Sugar association, said the farmers of the west were encouraged to increase their acreage in the expectation of tariff increases, which would make the crop a profitable enterprise. He stated one fault lies in the fact that sugar manufacturers of the middle west increased the price paid to farmers from $7 to $7.75 a ton last spring in hope of favorable tariff action.

THE WAVE

The American Civil War is a fascinating subject. It caught the whole of the civilized world into the tangle of its strife and against that background Evelyn Scott has written "The Wave."

Brave generals, assured politicians, fearful soldiers, timid mothers, spies, profiteers—indeed everyone who contributed to that combat, suffered or gained because of it, has a place in "The Wave." And their place is real, their characters convincing, and their actions genuinely a part of the stupendous event. So truly has Evelyn Scott done her work—

Elephant Herd Leader Tells His Own Story

In Latest of Jungle Books for Children.

BY AGATHA SHEA.

If the early arrivals among the new fall books for children offer any indication of what is to follow in the next month or so, one may look forward eagerly to book buying for young people. For among the names appearing on the preliminary lists are many of those who are making young people's books the envy of their elders.

Dhan Gopal Mukerji's 1929 offering, "The Chief of the Herd" [Dutton], is another of his inimitable stories of jungle life. This time he presents the life of a wild elephant herd and its young leader, told to us in part by the leader himself. It lifts for us the dark curtain of the jungle and shows us the elephant in his native haunts, his relations with the other inmates, and the enemies which beset him within and without.

The story of the young chief's life is a fascinating one of loyalty to the herd and fearlessness to the death.

Beautifully written, as are all of this author's books, and superbly illustrated in black and white by Mahlon Blaine, it is a book which any lover of animal or jungle stories will delight in. One must rejoice that in it Mr. Mukerji has again turned to that audience for which he is so well suited, that of the older boy and girl.

As usual, the boy of 12 to 15 years, rather than his sister, seems to continue the favorite of fortune, for there is another fine story for him among the new displays. It is "Falcons of France" [Atlantic Monthly], by Charles Nordhoff and James Norman Hall. It is an account of the Lafayette Flying Corps given us in story form by two of its distinguished members, for both Mr. Nordhoff and Mr. Hall were among those who shared in the great adventure.

It brings to us Lufbery, Prince, Thaw and many others of that famous group of intrepid airmen. It is a story of youth and idealism, without bitterness or rancor, doing justice to both friend and foe alike. Both authors know boys, and, collaborating in this story of achievement, they have made a real contribution to the literature of the period.

A title which, no doubt, will be found on the older girls' list this fall is Jeanette Eaton's "A Daughter of the Seine" [Harpers]. This is a story of the life of Madame Roland. It presents a good picture of French childhood among the middle classes and develops for us the famous woman of history from the shy, book-loving little girl. Although the author undoubtedly kept young readers in mind while writing the story, both selection and treatment of the subject make it difficult to classify. Many will consider it more adult than juvenile. Its appeal will certainly be limited to the older girl [17-18] and probably to the one particularly interested in the period treated.

On the younger children's list there are Lois Lenski's "Two Brothers and Their Animal Friends" [Stokes] and Georgene Faulkner's "The Road to Enchantment" [Sears].

HERE'S RECORD BOOK FOR PARENTS, WITH SENTIMENT, SCIENCE

"The Modern Baby Book and Child Development Record," by John E. Anderson and Florence Goodenough [Norton] is a complete, up to date, modern record. The two compilers are directors of the Institute of Child Welfare of the University of Minnesota and associate professor at that university. They have not missed one phase of physical, mental or spiritual growth in the child which could interest either his parents or the child himself in the future.

The book combines the charm and the sentimental features of the old-fashioned baby books (which were practically 100% pure sentiment) with scientific records so valuable to parents, teachers and doctors. The book contains a descriptive outline of normal child development, including the growth of intellect and personality as well as the physical growth of the baby, thus giving the parents a standard by which to judge their baby as well as a record of the individual child's growth.

London Turns to Reprints of Noted Authors

Galsworthy and Doyle Among Them.

BY FRANK SWINERTON.

LONDON. — [Special Correspondence.]—The new publishing season is approaching, and the London publishers are beginning to issue their first lists of announcements. A number of interesting books are promised, and one feature which deserves to be mentioned is the continuance of the boom in what are called 'portmanteau' volumes, or those which by means of a familiar process are made to contain many pages of famous or familiar literature.

JOHN GALSWORTHY

One of the pioneer volumes of this process—if not the actual pioneer—was Mr. Galsworthy's "Forsyte Saga," where all the early Forsyte stories were gathered together as a whole. This is to be followed by "A Modern Comedy," a sequel volume, which will contain the remaining Forsyte stories. We also are to have a book called "The First and Last of Conrad," in which the master's earliest and last novels are to be set together. "Sapper's" "Bulldog Drummond" books are to be presented in one volume of over a thousand pages, and so are the many exploits [thirty-seven of them] of Dr. Thorndike, the book to contain one thousand pages. The longer Sherlock Holmes stories are coming in one column—"A Study in Scarlet," "The Sign of Four," "The Hound of the Baskervilles," etc.—to form a companion to the volume already issued of the shorter tales. A hundred of O. Henry's best stories are to be given in a single volume.

And just as Mr. Galsworthy's second volume of Forsyte stories fittingly heads the list of 'portmanteau' books, so Mr. Galsworthy's collected plays, in one volume, carries the record from fiction to the drama. This one volume edition of Galsworthy plays will be a very choice, as well as a very inclusive, affair, and it is bound to be one of the best sellers of the autumn season.

Fifteen Experts Tell What Sciences Assert About Humans, Nature

"Modern Scientific Knowledge of Nature, Man and Society," by Frederick A. Cleveland and fourteen collaborators [Ronald Press] might be called a one volume outline of modern science. To it have contributed some of the outstanding men in the various natural and social sciences, all of them professors in universities and colleges of the highest standing.

Working on the theory that the average man not only can understand but wants to, and finds it not only profitable but mentally satisfying to know what modern science offers in the various fields of knowledge, Dr. Cleveland has assembled thirty-one chapters of comment and data about man's outlook on life, and the relations of the universe as well as the more immediate life to man.

The book is full of fascinating knowledge, told, one must admit, after the manner of a textbook, but perhaps making an appeal to readers by its very lack of fine writing which a less strictly scientific treatise might not make. And it is intended for you and for me.

More Sea Stories.

"On the High Seas," by E. Keble Chatterton [Lippincott's], is, according to the preface, "a collection of yarns concerning ships, men, and the sea."

ANNOUNCING the brilliant and distinguished sequel to JALNA—the Atlantic $10,000 Prize Novel—

WHITEOAKS OF JALNA

BY

MAZO DE LA ROCHE

IN this splendid new story of the Whiteoak family you again meet Adeline, the old grandmother, tyrannizing, dozing, musing on the past; Renny, master of the clan, with his red head and his fascination for women; Eden, poet and prodigal; Alayne, his disillusioned wife; Finch the martyr; Piers the plowman, and the rascally little Wakefield.

You will find "Whiteoaks of Jalna" a finer and more interesting novel than "Jalna," and even more dramatic in its revelation of fascinating intrigues and the clash of distinct personalities.

Bowers' Book Bitter Story of Post War South

BY LLOYD LEWIS.

[Author of "Myths After Lincoln."]

"The Tragic Era; the Revolution After Lincoln," by Claude G. Bowers. (Houghton, Mifflin & Co.)

Here is the "low-down" on the wildest, crookedest epoch in American history, the epoch of reconstruction days, 1865 to 1876. It is the inside story of a political revolution in American institution and liberties, a revolution so scandalous and odious that orthodox historians always have fingered it gingerly. The job was for a newspaper man to do this exposé of cruelty, corruption and passion, a particular newspaper man patient enough to dig out the secrets and clever enough to set them down in a manner as engrossing as that of a political "boss" revealing the confidential details of a recent political campaign.

CLAUDE G. BOWERS

Mr. Bwers, having cut his political and literary eyeteeth in Indiana, where such eyteeth are cut on the cradle rail, was into the dismal swamp of reconstruction with hardy confidence. His harvest is a book so packed with explosive as to make his earlier "Hamilton and Jefferson" seem sketchy by contrast. Every page or so of "The Tragic Era" goes off with a bang and in the succession of uproars it is inevitable that a lot of American paders will have their feelings hurt.

Hoosiers there are who will complain that Bowers has damaged the memory of stout hearted old Oliver P. Morton, the grand war governor. Chicagoans will howl that Garfield and Ben Wade are injured, not to speak of the greatest of the republic's warrior Ulysses S. Grant. So it will be trough all the northern states, for Bwers reveals an appalling picture of the savagery and vengeance with which Union chieftains manhandled the southern people after the death of Lincoln.

That the cotrie of northern "bosses," nicknamed "Radicals," get rough treatment in "The Tragic Era" is admitted, but I must be remembered that such men ave always heretofore been judged in the light of a heroic glow that the civil war had left about their heads. What they did in reconstruction politics must be judged from another more realistic viewpoint, one that Bowers supplies.

While he speaks far more respectfully of Democratic than of Republican statesmen in that era, Bowers makes no mere political speech against the Grand Old Party, as snap judgment may lead some persons to expect from the keynoter of the last Democratic national convention. Page by page—540 of them—Bowers builds a portrait of an epoch in the form of a vast mosaic, each tile of which, if richly colored, is scrupulously ticketed and documented with authenticity.

Out of these bits of mosaic the author constructs his picture; Radical politicians rejoicing obscenely at Lincoln's death, seeing now their chance to jump upon the prostrate southern states so viciously that no one will ever dare speak "secession" again; a bitter minority blackening Andrew Johnson, because he dares to carry out Lincoln's policy of leniency toward the south; wild cat financiers making a dunce out of Grant; quadroon belles shaking laughter off their bare shoulders in carpetbag revels down south; Negro women refusing love to field hands who will not vote to support white scalawag looters.

Two streams of evil, cruel oppression of southern whites and callous defrauding of northern taxpayers, both are traced, here, to a common source—the high handed rule of the Radicals who flowered when Lincoln, the one man who could master them, was gone. Foul is the Washington that Bowers describes, a city crammed with poseurs, lobbyists, gamblers, all too close to the statesmen; gigantic swindles; comic snobbery, bribed senators; bubbling wine; and, contrasted with it, yet related to it, the south with its state exchequers rifled by political satellites of the Radicals, its rulers, now, thieving northerners or greedy southern turn-coats holding on to their rich jobs by concocting horrible tales of the atrocities practiced upon loyal Unionists by "rebels."

Occasionally, only occasionally, does Bowers find perfume among all the gloom and stench. Toward the end of his book he catches the freshening scent when Charles Sumner, the haughty and elegant Radical from Massachusetts, at length got his stomach full and rebelled. Lucklessly, however, Sumner had to assail Grant, who, for all that he could never recognize the leeches that clung to him, was honest, an endearing figure to the American heart then as now. A thrilling figure Bowers makes of Sumner, the narrow, blundering idealist, harming the South irreparably, yet lifting his aged voice gallantly, scorchingly against a corruption nearer home, that he saw more clearly.

For the South, "in its torture chamber," Bowers has a fine sympathy that leads him to forget some of its own Reconstruction mistakes.

What the South suffered in the decade after its disastrous attempt to secede is here, for the first time, competently told in a vivid, state-by-state canvass of horrors.

Try as he will in the interests of fair play and of honor due to neglected opposition statesmen, Bowers cannot make of the Democratic leaders such figures as he makes of the Radicals. Morton, Sumner, Stevens, Wade, Blaine, Chandler, even Garfield are not stone statues that can be shattered by even so stout an idol breaker as Bowers. Rather are they anvils, battered, blackened with soot, but iron all through, strong enough to stand awful hammerings and still endure as examples of a great race, perhaps the toughest, most fearless and capable race that the world has seen—the American pioneers.

Benjamin H. Hill, brilliant spokesman of Southern rights, now and then approached it, but none of the Democratic statesmen of the Northern states had the power to throw off the blight of disloyalty which the Radicals had so unjustly fastened upon them.

PRIZE FIGHTER TAKES HIS ACHING HEART TO THE FOREIGN LEGION

"Soldiers of Misfortune" is the title which Percival Christopher Wren has chosen for his latest book about the foreign legion, love, and assorted adventures. There are again three heroes with one very much the hero-in-chief, young Sir Otho who masqueraded as a gentleman by the name of Bob Blame, became a professional boxer, got a heart knockout and joined, as solace, the legion, together with his two cronies. Maj. Wren is still, they say, shoveling in shekels from "Beau Geste."

Critic Regards 'Ultima Thule' as Great Book

Australian Woman Is Its Author.

BY FANNY BUTCHER.

"Ultima Thule," by Henry Handel Richardson. [Norton.]

"Ultima Thule" belongs among those few really great books which depict man's unsuccessful struggle against his fate. It has the direct inevitability, the certain effect of cause that separates, for instance, in the small group of books of that sort, "Lord Jim" from "The Growth of the Soil."

H. H. RICHARDSON.

"The Growth of the Soil" is the story of sheer, unavoidable physical disaster imposed by fate. A malevolent fate, it almost seems.

"Lord Jim" is the picture of man's power to wreck his own life and his lack of power to save it—another bout with another kind of fate. Given such a nature as "Lord Jim" had, his life and his end were almost inevitable, but the tragedy of his fate seems so much more cruel, because he was a sentient being who could use his brain for everything in the world, even to making his own fate more poignant to himself.

"Ultima Thule" is the story of another battle with fate, lost before the first shell fire [as Lord Jim's was], because the hero had a morbid complex about life. His story is even more poignant than Lord Jim's [though not told with quite the genius of a Conrad] for his was not only a sentient, but a highly intelligent human mind, so the story of its disintegration has at once inevitability and terrible futility.

Richard Mahony, at the age of forty-nine, after a life of luxury, had to face the fact that he had lost his fortune, that he must provide for his wife and three children by the practice of his profession—medicine—and he was cursed with a fear of being ridiculous in the eyes of his fellow men. That obsession drove him from one place to another, physically and mentally, through loneliness, into morbid solitude and, finally into actual mental decay. It wrecked his own life and the lives of his family. It was a cancer which spread into every phase of his life and his contacts. It was so insidious that it was mortal before he realized its presence and then it was too late to do anything about it.

Henry Handel Richardson has made of that extremely difficult material a book which is patently great. It moves with an almost majestic stride through phase after phase of the hero's life. Its majesty is innate and not superimposed by fine writing. The author is not in any sense a stylist. Nor is she a creator of moods—like Conrad, for instance, or like, in a much less degree, young Julian Green.

The tragedy of the book is inherent in the material, not in the manner of its use. It is a devastating tragedy almost scientifically considered. The author has the remoteness, the omniscient attitude toward her characters that the Russians have. And yet there is such an inevitability about everything, such a rightness of cause and effect, such a complete lack of sentimentality that the reader does not realize what a highly emotional book he has been reading.

For many years now all of us who are credited with having any influence with readers have been telling them that a book called "Maurice Guest" is one of the great novels of our day, or of any day, that it is a study of the temperament of musical genius second to none. The author, Henry Handel Richardson, has been an author's author ever since she wrote "Maurice Guest." She never has achieved popularity. Now, quite suddenly, "Ultima Thule," which is in reality a sequel to another book, "The Fortunes of Richard Mahony," although it is a unit in itself and a far greater book than its first half, has had in America a first printing of 80,000, and has been chosen by the Book of the Month club.

PHRASES AND FACTS IN NAVAL NEGOTIATIONS.

Prime Minister MacDonald's assertion that naval limitation is not a question for experts will be enthusiastically approved by the ground-springer school of Americans which held with the late William Jennings Bryan that preparedness was unnecessary since at the call of danger a million men would spring to arms between sunrise and sunset. But it has certain practical implications which the American people and their official representatives would do well to consider.

We are quite confident that the British negotiations upon limitation are being conducted upon the basis of expert advice. We think any British government that acted upon any other basis would be recalled as soon as its course transpired, for the British people are fully aware of the vital importance of naval power to their safety and prosperity. What Mr. MacDonald doubtless would have us understand his idea to be is not what our pacifists and impromptu defense advocates would have us do, ignore the expert, but that general policy should control agreement rather than a mere determination to outtrade in technical terms.

If this means that Mr. MacDonald intends to check the professional zeal which has expressed itself in a determined and persistent effort not only to enhance British naval strength relatively but to reduce American naval strength both relatively and absolutely, as at the conference of 1927, we may welcome the new approach. But so far as British proposals have been glimpsed they give no reason to think he has yet been able to modify the official naval viewpoint.

For example, the latest report is of a proposal to reduce the size limit of capital ships—battleships. This would automatically increase the relative value of the British battle fleet which, with the new superdreadnaughts Rodney and Nelson, has an appreciable margin over ours. New building of the limited type and the gradual obsolescence of the existing units in due time might correct this present discrepancy. It would not correct the balance in large cruisers now heavily against us, but rather increase our disadvantage. If and when we have built to parity in both these categories, the development would still be against us through the increased relative importance of armed large merchant shipping with which we are not well supplied and shall not be for a long time. In short, reductions in the cost, weight and fighting power of the battle fleet must put parity for us in the distant future, if not make it unattainable in fact.

We are not asserting that a precise parity is of imminent need for us or that a rational compromise of program cannot be worked out with the help of expert judgment. But we do assert that it is of the utmost importance that we should know what we are doing and whither our course of action is taking us, and that we should not be fuddled by phrases or glittering generalities which are not being translated in concrete results. And in spite of amiable assertions of friendly purpose, which we wish to accept as sincere, we have need to realize that up to this time the British effort in actual negotiations has been persistently directed to restrict and retard American naval efficiency under the forms of limitation or reduction and to leave British naval primacy not merely intact but relatively more pronounced than it is now. Mr. MacDonald's government, we hope, is not disposed to confront us with the predicament arranged by Sir Austen Chamberlain and the Poincare government, which was an arrangement, with the support of Japan, to restrict fighting ships of prime value to us while permitting the unrestricted building of types of small value to us and, in the situation proposed, of great value to our competitors. Yet this scheme, though promptly dropped upon our protest, is significant indication of a strong body of British opinion with which neither Mr. MacDonald nor we are done.

We would add also that even though a British government were disposed to shut its professional naval experts out of its counsels, we should still be at a heavy disadvantage if we were to do the same. For British civilian opinion is much better instructed in maritime affairs than American and may be counted, at least in negotiation with our civilians, as expert, even though our representatives in this case are not, as we trust they are not, influenced by the passion for national sacrifice which has so strangely afflicted our diplomacy in recent years.

PROGRESSIVE CHINA.

Julian Arnold, a department of commerce representative who has been making a tour of observation in China, reports that, in spite of periodic disorder and exorbitant taxation, southern China is advancing steadily. Modern highways which permit automobile transport have been built in Yunnan, Kwantung and Kwangsi, the provinces of which Canton is the port and economic capital. Mr. Arnold, who has spent twenty-seven years in our service in China, in his latest survey found it difficult to recognise many of the cities he visited in years past because of the modern reconstruction which has taken place, the tearing down of old buildings and replacement by better ones and the widening of streets. He says that even the primitive life of the Yunnanese tribes is not untouched and reports the picturesque fact that the natives, though they have not yet adopted occidental attire, greatly prize the electric torch.

That torch is not merely a picturesque eccentricity. It ought to throw some light for us. It is a hint of the possibilities of Chinese modernization which have been discussed in these columns on occasion, and they are possibilities likely to develop most rapidly in the south. The Chinese we know are of the south. It is the Cantonese who goes abroad to seek his fortune and who carries on a good deal of the business of the far east. He is alert minded, able, indefatigable, and progressive, and his knowledge of the world has put the south at the front of the movement for modernization in China. There are many millions of him and he will develop modern wants rapidly. He will not stick at electric torches, but will have all the comforts and conveniences we can offer him. The field of commercial development among this very able and quick minded people is enormous. The much talked of conservatism of the Chinese is misunderstood.

PARDONS AND PAROLES.

The reorganization of the state board of pardons and paroles is an occasion for important reforms, especially for a correction of the general principles under which the department seems to have been conducted during much of the administration of Gov. Emmerson's predecessor. The board was originated to adjust the discipline of convicts to individual circumstances and to dispense rewards and indulgences for the redemption of prisoners without threatening the safety of society. The obvious weakness of such an organization is that, improperly conducted, it may become an agency for the relief of prisoners at the expense of the public, and evidence is not lacking that this danger has materialized.

The protection of the public should be the first consideration upon which the judgments of the parole board are entered. This fundamental principle is ignored by sentimental commissioners and by commissioners who are susceptible to the influence of sentimental and amateur criminologists. It is also ignored by unscrupulous members, who are willing to conduct political traffic with prisoners and politically useful friends of prisoners. Under the administration of such authorities the pardon and parole board becomes the first instrument in the understanding between politics and crime.

Gov. Emmerson, we believe, appreciates how this agency for the welfare of the criminal may be turned against the public, and his appointments will be made, therefore, in the interest of the law abiding citizens. Mr. W. C. Jones of Streator has been offered the chairmanship of the board, an appointment to which, we think, there will be no exception. If Mr. Jones and his colleagues reform the practices of the board so that the public is given the fullest measure of protection, and if they resist improper influences, the functions of the board will be restored to their former usefulness.

THE TRIAL AT CHARLOTTE.

Something of the nature of the world wide outcry against the Sacco-Vanzetti trial seems to have begun over the trial of strike agitators at Charlotte, N. C. Petitions from radical labor organizations in Europe have already appeared, and doubtless they will arrive from South America and elsewhere. The parlor pinks and radical forward lookers are on the ground, and the effort is under way to impress the public with suspicion of the proceedings—if not a prejudgment—that it is only a sinister conspiracy to destroy innocent friends of labor.

In view of the activities of radical propaganda, it may not be improper to suggest as against their innuendo that the southern press and public have shown a remarkable disposition to be fair in their attitude toward the industrial disturbances in the south and that some confidence can safely be reposed, at least until evidence to the contrary appears, in the integrity of the court and jury at Charlotte. It is also fair to say that whether or not the prisoners were guilty, which is the fact to be proved, there is nothing inherently improbable in the charge that agitators of the communist school of thought and morals may have resorted to or encouraged others to violence. Police Chief Aderholt was murdered by some one. He did not commit suicide, and while the prisoners charged with the crime may be shown to be guiltless, the assumption already being industriously spread by radical agencies that their trial is only a capitalist conspiracy is not one to be accepted even by the most ardent partisan of southern labor on strike until it has something to support it more reliable than has yet been offered.

It is certainly abhorrent to any just mind that any person charged with crime should be convicted through passion or prejudice or fail in any material respect of a fair trial. But it is also obnoxious to any self-respecting American that the trial itself should be prejudged, that the opinion of the American people should be subjected to hysterical clamor either in favor of or against the accused, and that propaganda of prejudgment and mere accusation should be spread abroad to discredit American courts and American justice.

Editorial of the Day

ONE THING THAT MIGHT HELP.

[Detroit Free Press.]

Among the reasons for the annual deficit in his department, Postmaster General Brown mentions an outlay of $16,000,000 for handling what he calls penalty mail, which is the mail of other departments of the government delivered without expense to those departments.

There is a practical and sensible way to get rid of the item. Let the different departments buy stamps in the regular way, and affix them to the letters and packages they send out. That will relieve the postoffice department of a charge it ought not to carry, and will impose upon the other departments items of expense which are legitimately theirs according to all the rules of business.

Incidentally, the necessity for purchasing stamps and for revealing in annual financial reports the amounts so spent might result in considerable economy of money, time, paper, and envelopes.

BREAST FED BABIES.

MOTHERS are urged to breast-feed their babies until they are well on toward nine months of age, the near the better. If nine months is not possible, then six months, and three months anyhow. During the first three months of life breast milk is almost a necessity. The second best food is a poor substitute. During the second three months breast milk is much the best food, but most babies can digest other foods fairly well. During the third three months breast milk is still the best food, but substitutes are reasonably safe. During the last quarter of the first year breast milk is still the safest and best food, but most children thrive without it. Mothers are especially urged to breast-feed their babies until the weather becomes cool in the autumn. Marketing cow's milk in the hot weather and keeping it in the home is not an easy matter. In fact, it is an impossibility under many home and community conditions. Refrigeration is a requisite where milk is delivered less than twice a day and most homes are not equipped for refrigeration, good or bad.

In the winter time mother's milk is apt to be deficient in vitamins C and D. But this is not true in the summer months, when mothers can eat fresh fruits and vegetables and sunlight abounds. Not only is it less trouble to breast-feed than it is to properly prepare milk bottles and to keep mixtures cold and fresh, but there is a great saving in sickness. The death rate among bottle fed babies is much higher. They have many more attacks of diarrhea. When they get sick the illness lasts longer and is more serious.

Finally, there is a susceptibility to measles and other forms of contagion which breast-fed babies escape. The mother who weans her baby piles up trouble for herself and most of it is useless. Practically all mothers can breast-feed. They need only to learn how to keep up the supply and then to carry out the plan. Essentially, the plan consists in having regular feeding times and never departing from the schedule, in completely emptying the breasts, in getting plenty of rest; in keeping the mind free from worry and anxiety, and in eating a staple diet only changed from the ordinary in a moderate increase in the amount of milk consumed.

When the mother must feed her baby on cow's milk, Dr. Marriott recommends lactic acid milk. This is made by the addition of lactic acid to sterilized milk. In giving lactic acid milk he does not change the strength of mixture much as baby increases in age; he merely changes the quantity of milk allowed. To add to the calories he adds corn sirup.

Of course, lactic acid milk can be made by souring milk by the use of bacteria. While this has some advantages it is more troublesome. In place of buttermilk, a mixture of milk powder, water and lactic acid may be used. The milk powders, properly used, are very satisfactory substitutes for fluid milk, especially in homes where there is no icebox.

BETTER TO WASH FRUIT.

Anxious asks if it is advisable to wash fruits and vegetables before eating or even before cooking them. Otherwise, is there danger of infection with bacteria or poisoning by insecticides? She has read reports from England of people being poisoned with arsenic through eating sprayed apples.

REPLY.

The answer to both angles of the question is: Yes. Some typhoid is spread by eating raw and unwashed vegetables and fruits. There is some danger of picking up other parasites. As you say there have been a good many complaints of poisons on fruits which have been sprayed. A serviceable spray is one that ordinary rain and dew will not wash off. A representative of the U. S. department of agriculture recommends the following method for the removal of dried spray poison:

Dip the fruit in a solution of one part muriatic acid and 200 parts water. Rinse in water.

SUN BATHS IN HIGH SPOTS.

Mrs. C. D. W. writes: Please get the city to provide places for people to take sun baths. Let them rent vacant lots and build high board fences around them. There should be benches for persons to lie on—dressing rooms and attendants. I know many who want sun baths, but there is no place to take them.

I have fixed up a place on the roof of an apartment building. I take sun baths there, though at the risk of breaking my neck. I am repaid by good health.

TOO LATE.

Chicago, Aug. 28.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—For ten years I have made repeated efforts to collect a legitimate debt of $75. The person owing this money has been and is employed at a good salary. Is there any way he can be forced to pay after so long a time?

R. D.

The limitation period is ten years on ordinary written contracts, so that unless there has been a new promise or interest payments, the debt would appear barred.

TWO CLAIMANTS FOR RENT.

Chicago, Aug. 27.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—A month ago a new purchaser of the flat building in which I live authorized me to pay her the rent. The agent states that she has no right to collect rent. Agent says he will recognize receipt I hold for rent I paid her, but will have to pay him in future. Can either hold me to paying over again in future? B. W. C.

You should pay to the landlord named in your lease unless the new claimant shows authority from him or court authority.

LONG WORKING HOURS.

Chicago, Aug. 28.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. What is the state law concerning women's working hours? 2. The same for boys under 18? 3. Is it legitimate for women to work twelve or thirteen hours a day? 4. What can be done to employers for allowing this? M. P.

1. There is a ten hour law applicable in designated industries. 2. No time limit. 3. See 1. 4. Depends on additional facts.

IN A GARDEN.

Brightly brave and tall,
Pink is by the pathways . . .
Cuddled sweet and small.

Golden flaunts the sundial,
Lavender beside,
White is on the lily pond,
Virgin as a bride.

In the honeyed sweetness
Hum the drunken bees,
Butterflies delirious
Tumble on the breeze.

Pigeons in the arbor,
Swallows high above.
Roads were made for wanderers,

BRAIN AND BRISBANE.

We read yesterday that George Brown of Mattoon, Ill., is expected to be the smallest student ever to have entered the University of Illinois. He weighs 47 pounds and is 48½ inches high. We hasten to print some comment to this in order to beat old Art Brisbane to it. Otherwise, he'll blow up all over the place and say George Brown of Mattoon, Ill., may be the smallest man that has ever, or will ever, enter the University of Illinois. But George Brown of Mattoon, Ill., SMALLEST man, may have the BIGGEST brain of any student that the University of ILLINOIS or any other UNIVERSITY has ever enrolled. "AN ELEPHANT," Art will say, "is nine hundred and twenty-seven times bigger than a BEAVER, but the BRAIN of an ELEPHANT weighs three-fifths of an ounce, while the BRAIN of a BEAVER weighs three and seven-tenths pounds. The BEAVER builds STATELY HOMES for himself, his wife, his mother-in-law, and his children, while an ELEPHANT is CHAINED to a stake in a CIRCUS TENT and spends his time sticking out his TRUNK bumming peanuts from SCHOOL CHILDREN." Anyhow, we've taken care of the case of George Brown of Mattoon and saved old Art the trouble. And don't throw us down, George Brown of Mattoon! We'll bet at that, when it comes to brains you're there with bells on. Attaboy, George Brown of Mattoon. Over the top, lad, and the best of luck!

HELLO, SUCKERS!

Some country slicker with hayseed in his hair wandered around among the New York banks Thursday and sypped them out of five hundred thousand bucks. Next time we're down on Wall street darned if we don't take a hairpin, or a stickpin, or a rusty nail, or something, and open the money vault into two or three of those banks. Or maybe we'll practice up on the three shell game; that ought to go good down in New York.

Gordon Thorne had to be in court yesterday settling up a little alimony affair, and it reminded all the afternoon rags that Gordon had been wed four times. Which, after all, is nothing. It reminds us of one afternoon in the long, long ago when several actors and their friends were standing along the bar waiting while the barkeep shook up the Martinis and Wilton Lackaye turned suddenly to Nat Goodwin and casually remarked, "Oh, I say, Nat, if you ever happen to think of it I wish some day you would invite me over to one of your weddings." Yes, Nat must have been the champion marrier.

Now on her knees she daily begs,
"Oh, God, please let me see."

No, it wasn't a Yankee tourist stole that Jugoslavian triptych. R. H. L.

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

SEPTEMBER 7, 1864.

WASHINGTON.—Gen. Grant telegraphs a statement from the Richmond Examiner that John Morgan, the rebel cavalry leader, was surprised and killed and his staff captured at Greenville, Tenn. An unofficial dispatch received by the war department from Lexington, Ky., states that Gen. Gillen had officially reported the killing of Morgan and from 50 to 100 of his command.

NASHVILLE.—Three thousand rebel cavalry, under Williams and Robertson, were attacked by Gen. Milroy near Murfreesboro. There was brisk fighting all day, after which the rebels retreated toward Triune. After pursuing for a time, Milroy's ammunition was exhausted and he joined Rousseau's force near Franklin, Tenn. Rousseau is reported to be pursuing Gen. Wheeler's rebel force south of Duck river.

NASHVILLE. — Official dispatches received here place the rebel loss in the battle just before Sherman occupied Atlanta at 3,000 killed and wounded and 2,000 prisoners. Gen. Hardee of the rebel army and several other general officers were killed.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—The Democratic state convention nominated James C. Robinson for governor, S. Corning Judd for lieutenant governor, John Hise for auditor of public accounts, W. A. Finney for secretary of state, and James C. Allen for congressman at large.

SEPTEMBER 7, 1899.

RENNES.—The demand of M. Labori, chief counsel for Capt. Dreyfus, that the court martial be suspended for 48 hours in order that the testimony of Col. Schwartzkoppen and Col. Panizzardi, the German and Italian attachés, respectively, at Paris in 1894, could be taken by telegraph, was refused unanimously by the council of war. The last act of the Dreyfus drama is about to commence with the address of Maj. Carrière, who will sum up the case for the prosecution.

LONDON.—The Standard, referring to the reply of the Transvaal government to Mr. Chamberlain as given out in Brussels by the Transvaal agent, said: "It is a positive insult to the British government. Clearly we are within measurable distance of an ultimatum." The Times urges the immediate convocation of parliament to vote war supplies. Private dispatches at Berlin say that the most influential of the Boers are anxious for a clash at arms with Britain.

CHICAGO.—Thomas R. Roddy, 6026 Ingleside avenue, has been chosen by the councilors and medicine men as chief of the Winnebago Indians at Black River Falls, Wis., to succeed Chief Blackhawk, who died last week. Roddy, who will take the name of White Buffalo, is of Irish descent and was born in Peoria. He has long been agent for the Indians, transacting their business for them with the great white father at Washington.

DES MOINES, Ia.—Possibility that bolshevism may spread in threatening proportions to the United States, unless the peace treaty is ratified promptly, was suggested by President Wilson in an address in the Coliseum here. He said the whole world was waiting uneasily while the poison which had wrecked Russia was spreading among peoples who did not yet know what guarantees there were to be for liberty in the new world.

CHICAGO.—Arrests of two Chicago business men, followed by a confession, brought to light the existence of a national ring of clearing houses for stolen securities through which hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of negotiable paper had passed. The arrests resulted in the recovery of some of the stolen securities—part of $140,000 loot taken from the State Bank of Middleton, Wis. The two men arrested were Harry B. Smith, an insurance broker, and Oscar L. Halberg, a diamond broker.

INDIANAPOLIS.—Mrs. Adelaide Timmons, daughter of former Vice President Charles W. Fairbanks, brought suit to break her father's will which disposed of an $8,000,000 estate, alleging that he was of unsound mind when he made it.

SACRIFICING THE INFANTRY.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 31.—I am an officer in the United States navy, now on a short leave of absence, en route to my new station of duty.

I have just become aware of the fact that another step in the dissolution of the regular army is taking place; five battalions of infantry and a proportionate number of men from other branches of the regular army are being disbanded and transferred to the air force of the army.

I know that this is a progressive step for the increase of the air force, but I am wondering whether those thinking people of the United States who are unselfishly and patriotically concerned with our national defense realize what this so-called improvement of the air force entails.

Far be it from me to say anything to discourage the development of military aeronautics. I am a firm believer in America exerting her utmost efforts to keep pace with the world in the development of aerial warfare. But I am most skeptical whether we are doing this in the right way. We are robbing Peter to pay Paul, and have been doing so for so long that Peter has become a most demoralized man. I have been in the American navy submarine service ever since 1915 and am a submarine enthusiast, but never for a moment can I believe that the submarine is a weapon of primary importance. It is only one of many auxiliaries to the principal naval might of our country, the battleship. Everything we do in submarines is toward the end of playing our part in the team work necessary to winning a war on the water, and we all consider the big gun ship to be the final arbiter. In similar manner, the infantry is really the army; the cavalry, artillery, air force, tanks, chemical warfare, etc., are merely auxiliaries to the main man power of our country, the soldier with the rifle.

We know that different regiments are scattered throughout our country in cities and forts, and we are taking it for granted that there is a body of men fully trained and ready for any emergency, foreign or domestic. But such is not the case. After the war our army was cut to the bone and defense acts were passing using the reduced army as a basis for plans. Then along came Gen. Mitchell with his most misleading propaganda, coupled with a very misleading publicity campaign which caused congress to increase the air force in response to public demand. In so doing they hesitated to exceed budget figures and kicked out infantrymen, cavalrymen, etc., so that they could enlist more men for the air force. Now they have reached such a state that I daresay you will find many regiments practically unable to respond to demand that may be made upon them at any time.

The disbanding of a battalion of infantry means wiping it off the books, with the loss of a large number of vacancies for noncommissioned officers. These noncommissioned officers must then revert to the status of private, which is heartbreaking indeed, and results in their leaving the army.

CIGARET GOOPS.

Chicago, Sept. 5.—Let me comment your editorial, "Cigaret Goops." Let cigaret smokers, if they cannot use the far more dignified cigar or pipe, do as other drug addicts do and indulge themselves in decent privacy.

CHARLES A. BROWN.

WOMEN SMOKERS.

Chicago, Sept. 5.—I agree entirely with your editorial, "Cigaret Goops." Although I am a woman, it has been my experience that women smokers in general are more rude and have less consideration for others than men. It is very objectionable to have some one near me smoking when I am eating, and I always try to avoid restaurants and tearooms where the majority of women smoke. It is getting more difficult to find restaurants where there is any space reserved for nonsmokers. I know a great many women who do not smoke and it seems as if we should have some consideration, as our money is as good as the next one's. Of course there are exceptions, but I have found that the majority of women who smoke will sit across from you in a restaurant and puff their smoke right in your face. They don't even try to turn their heads to one side. Men are not so rude, as a general thing. G. C. S.

A HIGHWAY DISCOVERED.

Chicago, Sept. 4.—Why all this talk of widening Monroe, Congress and Fulton streets when we have one beautiful thoroughfare extending from Clinton street to Ashland avenue? I refer to the old Haymarket, now blocked up with a lot of truck wagons.

Why not move the swill business on the vacant lots around Congress street and open this beautiful thoroughfare to the city without any expense whatsoever to the taxpayers? MACCARTY.

THE FIRST SCOUT.

Chicago, Aug. 31.—Having been a reader of THE TRIBUNE since 1894 and supporter of its principles, I do not like to hear it criticized, and I have heard some adverse statement about the statement in your Aug. 24 issue about the Boy Scouts. You said that the Scout movement was started in the United States three years before Baden-Powell organized it in England, whereas it is a well known fact that Dan Beard organized it here three years after it was started in England. Any Scout leader or scoutmaster in Chicago will bear me out in this statement.

UNSINKABLE SHIPS.

Evanston, Ill., Sept. 3.—Bully editorial that Tuesday one of yours "Unsinkable Ships." I've been hammering at that for lo, these many years, but without much avail.

To make ships unsinkable would cost a few feet of valuable space and some additional smoleoma. And, after all, really big catastrophes are not of daily occurrence. Besides, what's a few lives 'twixt friends?

But if a few of you big press fellows get after the matter seriously something's apt to transpire.

THE HAWK

By ROY VICKERS

SYNOPSIS.

Douglas Dorling, a young British peer, is sent to Dartmoor prison on the perjured testimony of Cora Sefton, an unscrupulous woman in love with him. In revenge, because he snubbed her advances, she swears she saw him kill a policeman during a night club raid.

Dorling is a famous aviator, but to keep this knowledge from his mother and spare her worry, he has been using the assumed name of Douglas Harris; and as Douglas Harris he is tried and convicted.

He is rescued from prison in spectacular fashion, right under the eyes of his guard, by persons unknown; is shaved and dressed in new clothes, and driven to the Gunter tea shop, to his amazement, he is greeted by Cora. She has registered as his wife.

Cecily Warren, the girl Douglas loves, is also staying at the Gunter. She sees Dorling and is stunned by Cora, on his arrival, and jumps to the conclusion he must be secretly married. Disillusioned and heartbroken she leaves for London.

Dorling meets his father's old friend, Sir Aylmer Granston, in the lobby, and accepts his invitation to drive to London. He escapes from Cora, leaving a note. Immediately she wires Jules Malloran, well known amateur connoisseur of the arts and a neighbor of the Granstons. As Malloran is decoding the wire, Martha Perralle, Cecily's maid, calls. She is obviously in his employ. He orders her to bring her mistress within a few days to a house called Mortvaig in Scotland.

That night, while Dorling is dining with the Granstons, Malloran calls. Later, Cecily comes in for bridge, not knowing Doug is there. She greets him frigidly, and creates a sensation by announcing she hears he is married.

INSTALLMENT XII.

DOUG RECEIVES A SUMMONS.

Mrs. Sefton had implied to Cecily that he, Douglas Dorling, was married! He stood looking at Cecily, and she returned his gaze with bright blue eyes that were somehow not the eyes of the Cecily he loved. Mrs. Sefton had implied? Dorling thrust the tangle of bewilderment from his mind. He would return to it shortly, but for the moment he must concentrate on easing an awkward situation. He laughed self-consciously and turned to the judge.

"How does one plead 'not guilty' to a charge of being married, Sir Aylmer?" he asked. But the judge merely grunted, and the joke fell flat.

"I had a brief chat with that Mrs. Sefton," cut in Hugh, trying to come to Dorling's rescue. "Bumped into her on the stairs or something, and had to apologize. She gave me the life history of nearly everybody I knew."

"I think, Cecily, we must really accept Lord Dorling as the final authority on whether he's married or not," she put in.

"Of course!" agreed Cecily promptly. "How stupid of me! Sorry, Douglas!"

Dorling, who knew every inflection of her voice, was not deceived. The others were at least pretending that they were deceived, and outwardly the incident was closed. Hugh was opening a card table.

Just as they were sitting down the butler came in, and handed Dorling a note.

"A boy brought this, my lord, but would not wait to see if there was an answer.

With apologies to his hostess, Dorling took the note. Inside the envelop was another envelop addressed to Mr. Sefton.

"Dear Douglas," he read. "It is absolutely necessary for your own safety that you should come to see me at once.—Cora."

"My safety can look after itself for another hour or two," he told himself, as he thrust the note into his pocket.

He drew Lady Granston for a partner against Hugh and Cecily.

It was only with the utmost difficulty that he could give enough attention to the game to avoid letting his partner down. His mind was already grappling with the problem Cecily had presented. Cora, of course, had not said to Cecily, "Lord Dorling is married," because Cora did not know that the man to whom at such enormous cost she was giving back liberty was any one but Doug Harris, the aviator.

Equally—his reasoning took another step forward—Cora had not said "Doug Harris is married"; it would have been pointless and dangerous, and would have meant nothing to Cecily. Unless Cora knew that Doug Harris and Douglas Dorling were one. And Dorling felt quite positive she did not know.

He stole a glance at Cecily. She was, to all appearances, intent upon the game. Nevertheless, in the next hand she revoked. She apologized to her partner, and there was something in the way Hugh Granston accepted her apology that made Dorling sure that in Hugh he had a rival. He set his teeth grimly. Then, as though the sudden rush of jealousy had cleared his brain, he saw exactly what had happened at the Gunter hotel. Cora, in her rôle of Mrs. Sefton, had chattered about the husband who was joining her in a day or two. And Cecily, herself unseen, had been a witness of his arrival—and had recognized him.

"Hearts," said Lady Granston.

But after Cecily's revoke the game had become listless. The judge and Mr. Malleron were enjoying themselves in the corner, but the rest of the party was a failure. Cecily was giving mechanically bright answers, and it was secretly a relief to all when she announced she must go home.

"You will see Cecily home, Lord Dorling?" asked Lady Granston.

"Delighted, if she'll let me," said Dorling.

He thought for a moment she was about to refuse, but that would have been to create another awkward moment, and she accepted indifferently. He made his farewells to the Granstons and Mr. Malleron, then handed Cecily into a taxi, and followed with his suitcase.

Her father's flat, he knew, was in Westminster, and he would have about ten minutes.

"I say, Cecily, have we had a row?" he began, trying to find out exactly where he stood.

"Of course not! Why should we? It's no affair of mine."

The last words, at any rate, told him where he stood. There was a brief pause, and then he decided to take the plunge.

"I gather that you saw me at the Gunter with Mrs. Sefton?"

"Does it matter if I did?" she asked, coldly.

"Yes, it matters to me frightfully—because you've come to a wholly wrong conclusion."

"There's a simple explanation——"

"Too simple to be given in Lady Granston's drawing room," she interrupted. "The kind of explanation that is given at night in a taxi. Let me get it, please, Douglas. I'd rather hear what you've been doing in Africa."

"The two are linked up," he said quickly, and resolved there and then to tell her the whole truth. Cecily, the old Cecily, whom he knew and loved, would believe that Cora had committed perjury.

"You'll see in a minute why I couldn't blurt it out at the Granstons. You think I've simply had a clandestine affair, and have been carelessly found out. As to that—I solemnly swear to you I have never kissed that woman and never would in any circumstances do so."

"Thanks!" It was the concentrated bitterness of her voice that checked him. He was not to know she believed she had actually seen him kiss the woman.

An innocent, clear minded girl—yet a girl of her generation—she was well aware that men of her class frequently formed irregular alliances. Nevertheless, she was capable of being shocked to the root of her being by the revelation that the man she believed she would one day marry could do such a thing. She had thought him different from all the other men of his class. She was disappointed, humiliated, furiously angry with herself. Angry now with him that he should lie to her.

"What on earth does it matter to me whether you've kissed her or not?" she demanded.

It was impossible for him to go on in the face of that cold challenge.

"Sorry! I see I've been a fool. I honestly did flatter myself that it would matter to you if I had a love affair of any kind with another woman."

At that she laughed—and with her laughter snatched back her self-respect in the eyes of the world, and won the freedom to nurse her hurt in private.

"You are old fashioned, Douglas! My dear boy, nobody thinks the worse of a man for that kind of thing nowadays. Only, believe me, it isn't done to talk about it—and explain and make it sound somebody's else's fault."

The taxi was stopping outside the flat.

"Here we are. Thanks for seeing me home," she said, brightly, as she got out of the taxi.

"Blazes!" muttered Dorling, as she left him. He watched her into the lift and continued to stare at the empty shaft after the lift had disappeared.

"Want to go on anywhere?" the taxi man asked him.

"Haulden Mansions, Bayswater," he ordered.

"Where've you come from?" asked the man.

Good Morning!

For the life of me I can't see the why of all the fuss in censor and police circles over "Alibi." It "robs crooks of their halos," as a press sheet declares, and certainly its coppers are smart, valorous and worthy men. The right of the law is established in time for the final curtain and you leave the heater quakingly convinced that crime does NOT pay. This censorship racket is the hardest thing to understand. It seems a crazy symphony of inconsistency!

Now far be it from me to tell you the story of "Alibi," which is a mystery thriller adapted from the stage play "Nightstick," brilliantly directed by Roland West, who made "The Bat," "The Monster," "The Unknown Purple," and "The Dove" and who has outdistanced them all in this production.

The cast, headed by Chester Morris [of the legitimate] is the sort you cry for often and seldom get. Only one character—a policeman's daughter—seems, as acted by Eleanor Griffith, a bit out of focus. It's hard to believe that any girl could be so dumb. However—there she is—and the chances are I'm wrong.

This piece hands out punches and surprises till you're dizzy with excitement. Along with its breath-taking situations it delivers some big laughs and there are several song hits for the humming-minded. It is alive with sound effects—night sticks tapping, police sirens wailing, shots, din of mobs, and tick of clock. It holds your interest tight-locked from opening to closing scenes.

"Alibi" is no children's bedtime story, and never has pretended that it was, but it is one swell melodrama—and I'm mad at the Chicago police and censors for crabbing its act so long!

See you tomorrow!

Soot Tinted Exterior of Art Institute Is Cherished by Trustees

Time's accumulation of soot covering the Chicago Art institute should be preserved as giving it weatherbeaten dignity, its officials say. That is their reply to passers-by who would favor a thorough exterior cleaning and also the trustees lack the money to have the exterior cleaned.

"We don't want any bathtub tile appearance," declared David Adler, chairman of the architectural committee. "Only in time can a building acquire a natural appearance. The institute now has a good color, which a washing would remove."

"The institute has aged very gracefully and I cannot advise touching it. By weathering it has assumed a character which a cleaning would obliterate." is the opinion of John W. Root, architect and art patron.

The world famous Louvre in Paris, the Prado in Madrid and other historic museums of Europe possess this same aged and blackened appearance, points out C. W. Worcester of the Art institute's executive committee, who recently returned from a European tour. "For an art museum it is preferable to a new and polished, spick and span look."

Church Labor Relations Subject of Parleys at Eisenach, Germany

EISENACH, Germany, Sept. 6.—(AP)—With Dr. S. Parkes Cadman of New York presiding, the international religious conference here today took up the relationship of the church to world economic conditions. The cooperation of American churches with organized labor was described by the Rev. William Tippey of New York.

A report of the American labor committee was presented by the Rev. Arthur Braun of New York. Speakers advocated the right of the church to pass on economic legislation and declared an improved labor situation in all countries is "the responsibility of the Christian Church."

The conference also discussed the labor program of the Social Service institute at Geneva.

Women's Dean of U. of I. to Be Guest in Evanston

Miss Maria Leonard, dean of women of the University of Illinois, will be the guest of honor at the annual north shore tea of the Chicago Illinae club this afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Charles H. Dennis of Evanston. Chicago girls who are to enter the university for the first time this fall are invited to attend, and the June, 1929, graduates are also receiving special invitations. Mrs. Harry Kerr of Wilmette is general chairman and Mrs. G. M. Hubbard, Mrs. Alfred L. Kuehn, Mrs. J. C. Llewellyn, and Miss Darley Thomas are to pour.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send your name and address with your question to "Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune. For today's question Miss Rose Ward, 23 East Jackson boulevard, Chicago, was awarded $5.

The Question.

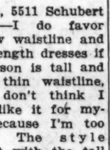
The Answers.

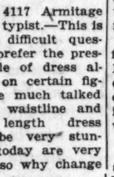
Miss Marguerite Allen, 4151 West Harrison street, stenographer.—As every style usually finds a way of getting along, I suppose this one will, too. I, for one, am in favor of the new waistline, but as for long skirts, excuse me. They probably will just suit some girls, but I doubt that. I never could get used to them. Long in back and short in front is the best arrangement.

Miss Sally Patterson, 5511 Schubert avenue.—I do favor the new waistline and ankle length dresses if the person is tall and has a thin waistline, but I don't think I would like it for myself, because I'm too short. The style should be a great hit with the tall slender girl.



Miss Imogene Powell, 68 East Cedar street, public relations.—Everything depends on the waistlines and the ankles themselves: Figures will have to be better for the new princess silhouette. Ankle lengths might be a welcome change to the eye, but I doubt if women will consider them seriously.

Miss Helen Roche, 4117 Armitage avenue, typist.—This is a very difficult question. I prefer the present style of dress although on certain figures the much talked of new waistline and ankle length dress would be very stunning. The styles of today are very neat and comfortable, so why change now?



Miss Dorothy Juhnke, 4036 North Kostner avenue, stenographer.—As far as appearance is concerned, I would say yes; because there is no doubt that the longer skirts make one look more graceful. As for comfort, long skirts are absolutely out.

Trumbulls and Coolidges Plan Simple Wedding

John's Fiancee Tells of Plans for Home.

Plainville, Conn., Sept. 6.—(AP)—Less than 100 persons will attend the wedding of Miss Florence Trumbull, daughter of Gov. John H. Trumbull of Connecticut, and Maj. John Coolidge, son of former President Calvin Coolidge, in the Congregational church here on the afternoon of Sept. 23. About four hundred have been invited to the reception at the Trumbull home following the ceremony.

Miss Trumbull said today it was planned to have only members of the Trumbull and Coolidge families and a small number of friends at the church ceremony.

The reception guests will include members and relatives of the two families, and prominent persons of Connecticut.

Pledges Coolidge Economy.

Plainville, Conn., Sept. 6.—[U. P.]—There is going to be plenty of Coolidge economy when Florence Trumbull and her husband settle down in an apartment in the shade of an old apple tree.

"There is no reason why I can't be as good a housewife as any other girl," Miss Trumbull said. "I'm quite able to cook—not everything, of course—and I intend to do it all myself. Of course I'll get John's breakfast. Other wives do. Why shouldn't I? We will have a budget, but that will require a little experimenting. We'll have no maids or servants of any kind. It would be an extravagance, an unnecessary luxury.

"We intend to start shopping for furniture within a few days. John and I prefer something simple, yet neat. I don't believe the apartment will be completely furnished when we occupy it. We'll complete the furnishings as we go along."

The Coolidge apartment was described as consisting of "four and a half rooms." The young couple will pay $78 a month rent for their home, which is located in a white brick building of severe colonial design. The apartment consists of living room, dining room, kitchen, bedroom, and the "half room," which probably will be converted into a breakfast nook. Outside the dining room there is a large apple tree, the branches of which arch up to the windows. The bedroom opens on a courtyard, in which evergreen shrubs are planted.

BIBLE READING KIDS LESS TRUTHFUL, SAYS INDIANA PROFESSOR

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 6.—Tests made recently in two middle western states have shown that children who know their Bible lied and cheated more than children whose biblical knowledge was meager. This was reported today by Prof. Pleasant R. Hightower of Butler university, Indianapolis, at the ninth international congress of psychology, in session at Yale university.

The professor examined 3,316 children, pupils in public and in delinquency schools. He made it clear that he did not think the results of his tests reflected in any way on the Bible as an influence on character. He said that the "mere knowledge" of the book was insufficient and that methods of inculcating the lessons should be improved.

"The result does not show that the Bible is the cause of it," he said. "People have been saying for years that if you give children a knowledge of the Bible, they'll walk the straight and narrow way. The result shows that they won't walk the straight and narrow way. It does indicate very definitely that mere knowledge of the Bible of itself is not sufficient to insure proper character attitudes."

Prof. Hightower, in conducting his test, set 110 as the maximum rating for knowledge of the Bible. He found a boy, a pupil in a delinquency school, who rated 2 for the Bible. The boy's rating for refusal to lie or cheat was perfect. In the same institution, he reported, a girl rated 110 for biblical knowledge, but her conduct did not harmonize with her knowledge.

Another paper read and discussed at the symposium on religious psychology was that submitted by Prof. T. H. Howells of the University of Colorado. He studied orthodoxy and worked at the University of Iowa, conducting experiments under the general supervision of Prof. E. D. Starbuck of the institute of character research. A total of 542 Iowa students was tested. Their intention was to make a psychological determination of the capacities of "conservatives" and "radicals" in religion.

A questionnaire was submitted to the students, and two of the questions upon which they were asked to register their belief or disbelief were the virgin birth and the infallibility of the Bible. Prof. Howells did not disclose the percentage of acceptance or rejection of these tenets. He said that fifty conservatives and fifty radicals were chosen from among the 500 students and the 100 elect were put through thirty psychological tests.

Prof. Howells found that the fifty members of the conservative or orthodox groups were:

1. Less capable of solving different sorts of intellectual problems.
2. More suggestible in five different situations.
3. Less willing to endure distress in a competitive situation.
4. Less able to coördinate muscular activity in a competitive situation.

Depicts Industrial Leader.

Henry Binns suggested:

"First, capacity, natural and acquired, for dealing with a new situation involving persons and materials.

"Second, specific ability to concentrate on and co-ordinate numerous, complex, irregular and fluctuating factors quickly in one decision.

"Third, knowledge—awareness of the existence of all factors of a problem with adequate knowledge of the essential one.

"Fourth, confidence—in oneself and willingness to supplant one's own information with that from trustworthy sources.

"Fifth, intuition—arising out of subconscious memory in which is stored a much wider experience than that covered by the actual facts under review.

"Sixth, impartiality—ability to weigh evidence, control, by will, temperamental tendencies, to resist suggestions and to correct the bias caused by specialization.

"Seventh, stability—good health with freedom from anxiety and other depressing emotions which tend to induce temporary but erratic fluctuations."

Woman's Club Is in Fight to Lessen Cancers

Joins Universities in Plan for Institute.

An institute for "research in cancer, its allied diseases, and the dissemination of results," is planned by the Chicago Woman's club. That word was received yesterday from Springfield, where application was made for a charter for the Cancer Research institute of Chicago.

The management, according to the application, will be vested in a board of directors representing seven universities, schools and societies, and a board of trustees elected from the membership of the Chicago Woman's club.

The trustees, as already selected, after being nominated by the board of managers of the Chicago Woman's club, for terms of seven to nine years, are: Mrs. William R. Cubbins, first vice chairman of the club's recently reorganized cancer research committee; Mrs. Andrew MacLeish, past president of the club; Mrs. James B. Herrick, Mrs. John MacMahon, Mrs. Levy Mayer, and Miss Katherine A. Jones. Mrs. J. Eugene Tremaine, treasurer of the Woman's club, automatically would become treasurer of the board of trustees. The chairman, vice chairman and secretary are to be named on Tuesday.

The seven members of the board of directors selected by the universities and institutions they represent, are Dr. D. J. Davis, University of Illinois Medical school; Dr. Ernest Irons, Rush Medical college of the University of Chicago; Dr. Ludwig Hektoen, John Rockefeller McCormick Memorial Institute for Infectious Diseases; Dr. Charles B. Reed, Chicago Medical society; Dr. Henry Schmitz, Loyola university medical school; Dr. James P. Simonds, Northwestern university medical school, and Dr. Bowman C. Crowell, American Society for the Control of Cancer, and director of clinical research at the American College of Surgeons.

The Woman's club members, forming the board of trustees, would have the sole responsibility for the institute's property and its care, the charter is to provide, but they may act concerning the institute's functions only upon recommendation of the board of directors.

The proposed institute is seen by many as a decided step forward toward Chicagoans' efforts to lessen the ravages of cancer. Announcement of the Woman's club venture recalls the loss of some well known Chicago citizens whom the disease conquered—Edward A. Bancroft, ambassador to Japan; Mrs. Julius Rosenwald, wife of a philanthropist; only a few days ago, former Mayor Dever.

"Cancer research has not kept pace with cancer," Mrs. William Colin Robinson, chairman of the Woman's club public information committee, stated. "All thoughtful people must acknowledge that the finding of a cure for this menace presents the most baffling of the world's present-day problems."

Mrs. Cubbins declared it the club's purpose to work in coöperation with other existing cancer clinics in Chicago and with institutions represented by the board of directors. In launching the movement, the Woman's club as a non-medical group, is in a position to obtain the coöperation of these organizations, she said, as well as welfare groups such as the Visiting Nurse association and others.

Dr. Crowell of the American Society for the Prevention of Cancer, expressed his approval of the proposed institute.

"It is gratifying to note that women of Chicago have undertaken such important work in connection with the very serious cancer problem," Dr. Davis of the University of Illinois said. Medical men have battled with the disease many years. In that fight they have felt the need of coöperation of organizations like women's clubs and lay organizations engaged in social and institutional features of the work."

Plans for the actual working plan of the institute are to go forward at a meeting of both trustees and directors on Wednesday.

Slender Hipline Is What Fall Styles Are Calling for

Skirts may go down but that little fashion dictate isn't going to let women rest contented now that a curtain covers a too plump calf. What's going to happen is that hips will become the target, now. If hips aren't going to boast a neat line, one is going to be fearfully out of style in the new type of dress.

One of the most beautiful lines in the body is that slender curve from narrow hips down the flank and tapering at the knee. And one of the worst lines, consistently enough, is the same line upholstered and padded.

You get side views of women sitting at restaurant tables and that great, square, solid mass of flesh burying the lovely line is hard on the eyes, to put it mildly. And if women follow the waist-compression high belted style, it's going to be even harder.

I remember a few years ago a woman, at some sacrifice, got a down-front seat to hear Mary Garden in "Thais." Some one asked her if she liked Mary's voice. She said she wasn't sure what Mary's voice was like because she was so fascinated watching her move with that gorgeously tapering hip and flank line of hers that she didn't hear her singing.

That's the line you had better be getting in trim for, anyway. Then if you get a princess dress and you have a princess line of hip to fit princessly inside of it, who knows but that you may bring down a prince to take it all out walking?

Get our your tape measure and learn the truth, bitter or sweet, about your hip measurements. If you're five feet five, let us say, you had better not be happy with more than a 38 inch hip total. You could do more taperingly, with a 36 inch report. If you're taller or shorter you can tell with the aid of your mirror whether curves had better come off or be put on. If off, a little dieting won't hurt you any and neither will a lot of exercise.

If you need some extra weight, a general building up will be the thing. But the fat hip and the plump one are chiefly what we are after when we offer you the courtesy of our hip exercises in pamphlet form in return for a stamped addressed envelope.

Forgot to Listen.

My husband's employer often visited us. He was a kindly old man, but so talkative it often proved boring. I had formed the habit of looking right at him, but never hearing a word as my mind was far off.

One day in the midst of a long recital he stopped and said, "I got away from my subject, now what was I telling you about?"

I hadn't the slightest idea so stammered and blushed for fully five minutes, staring into space and hoping his subject would return. It finally did, but I never will let by mind wander again when in company. S. M.

Tribune Cook Book

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Peach Toasts.

There are probably a score of ways of making French toast or "pain perdu" (lost bread). I am making this statement because rarely have I printed one way of doing without some one taking me to task, yet generally they have also made a real contribution to my knowledge of this highly adaptable way of making a breakfast or lunch item or a dessert.

One of the ways I got from a French cook book. It was recommended as a way to do when the toast was to be eaten with a layer of hot fruit over it. Soak bread or cake in water made acid with the juice of one or two lemons, then dip in beaten egg and fry. The one devising this recipe affirmed that the bread was lighter and more digestible when treated in this fashion. Such a statement surely makes for controversy, but if we are to use fruit—universally acid in some degree—there is no reason why we should have to defend the use of the lemon juice.

When peaches are to be served on this toast we may purée, sweeten, and heat them, or merely cut them fine, add a tablespoon of sugar per peach, and heat in a little butter for five minutes. Serve for a luncheon dessert.

A long time ago I translated a recipe for "peach toast" from the French, and when I had slightly adapted it the reading was: Butter the bottom of a pie plate or pan. Cut some slices of bread—the larger the better—and cover the plate or pan with them. Cut ripe peaches in halves—peel or not, as you choose—and cover bread with them, hollow sides up.

Put in each peach some fine sugar and a little piece of fresh butter, then cook until the peaches are tender. As the sugar melts strew on some more. Serve hot in the dish in which they are cooked. Or invert on a hot plate and pour over them any juice that is in the bottom of the dish.

Since the directions were for preparing this in a "country oven," the greatest heat being at the top in this, I cooked this toast under the broiler.

It is easy to serve canned peaches in the same way, and when they are rather hard this sort of cooking improves them a good deal.

Davey has lived in the city all his short life with the playground nearby as his only recreation spot. Now he has just returned from a month spent at his uncle's huge ranch. Here the chicken yard alone was as big as several city blocks and the orchard would hold the city park.

In trying to explain to his young playmates the immensity of the ranch where he had been allowed to roam, he said:

"Every place had lots of everywhere." E. L. R.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 6.—(Special.)—Mrs. James W. Good, wife of the secretary of war, who joined her in their suburban home here, early in the week, will accompany the secretary to Pennsylvania tomorrow morning. They will go by motor to Reading, to attend the reception of the Pennsylvania Folklore society. Tomorrow evening they will be guests of honor at the dinner of the Civic society at Allentown, Pa., and on Sunday they will be in Walberta, Pa., where the secretary will rededicate the Jordan Reform church. The ground for the original church was given by the secretary's ancestor, Lorenz Guth, the name being changed to "Good" several generations ago.

Mrs. Henry L. Stimson, wife of the secretary of state, has returned to Washington and joined the secretary in an apartment which he has occupied during the summer and where they will stay until their new home here, "Woodley," is ready. Their furnishings are now en route from their New York home.

Invitations have been issued by Mrs. George Cabot Lodge for the wedding of her daughter, Helena, and Edouard le Streel of the Belgian embassy staff Saturday afternoon, Sept. 14. Miss Lodge is a granddaughter of the late Senator Henry Cabot Lodge in whose former home here the wedding will take place. Miss Lodge's maternal grandmother is Mrs. Charles L. McCawley, her grandfather having been the late John Davis, prominent in the administration of President Arthur.

THAT it is new and ultra-modern obviates any claim to tradition for Hotel Shoreland. But you will find here all the warm hospitality that years of "tradition" might create — all the repose and tranquillity that age might instill — plus a modern magnificence and splendor that the highest standards of living demand. Chicago's most fashionable residential hotel — and all that this implies — that is Hotel Shoreland!

Usher System Dance Novelty for Chicagoans

BY THALIA

The latest innovation to insure a "good time being had by all" at young peoples' dances now is the usher system. It hasn't been practiced to any great extent in the west, but is a popular custom in the east to obviate the situation of a maid having to dance or merely dancing too long with a youth, or vice versa.

The function of the ushers is to keep an eye on the dancers, and to cut in or induce some member of the stag line to cut in when such a procedure seems necessary or desirable. The scheme works out beautifully, it seems, and will doubtless be quite generally adopted for the debutante parties.

A staff of 10 young men is to officiate in such a capacity at the dinner dance Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Cushman are to give this evening at the Indian Hill club for their daughter, Miss Eleanor Fay Cushman, and the assistants at her debut tea this afternoon.

Most of the ushers are eastern college men, and so realize the importance of performing their job conscientiously. The group includes Frank Armstrong, Crilly Butler, Thomas Boal, Fuller Dean, Ray Harbaugh, who is here visiting his aunt, Mrs. George B. Massey, John Bowen, Everett Millard Jr., Loren Maxey, Edgar Stanton, and English Welling.

Miss Cushman's tea is to be from 4 to 7 o'clock at the Cushman residence in Winnetka, and the sister debutantes who will assist her include Miss Grace Bowes, Miss Ruth Fisher, Miss Annabelle Lackner, Miss Susan Miller, Miss Joy Fairman, Miss Louise Conway, Miss Lois Truesdale, Miss Elizabeth Durham, Miss Margaret Emily Linda, Miss Helen Bell, Miss Elizabeth Parker, Miss Marjorie Frank, Miss Virginia Hobart, and Miss Emily Fentress. Miss Cushman will enter her sophomore year at Smith this fall.

Miss Marianna and Miss Virginia Ruffner, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Ruffner of Highland Park, are also to be introduced to society this afternoon. Assisting them will be Miss Polly Ferguson of New Haven, Conn., Miss Marjorie Wilson of Youngstown, O., Miss Virginia Cannon of Cleveland, O., Miss Louise Conway, Miss Lois Truesdale, Miss Eleanor Sherman, Miss Jane Churchill, Miss Barbara Poole, Miss Betty Parker, Miss Veronese Beatty, Miss Winifred McKeon, Miss Jane Trowbridge, Miss Susan Miller, and Miss Helen Bell. A dinner at Exmoor will follow the reception.

Miss Truesdale, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Day Truesdale of Winnetka, gave her presentation tea yesterday, wore a chiffon dress in tan and autumnal shades for the affair.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cowden Harding of Evanston announce the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth Ogden, to Paul Starrett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Starrett of Winnetka. Miss Harding attended Principia and Northwestern university and Mr. Starrett is a graduate of the University of Michigan.

Mrs. Rockefeller McCormick is to open her residence at 1000 Lake Shore drive for a tea for the membership of the American Opera society next Friday. Mrs. Waller Borden gave the third of a series of three teas yesterday afternoon at the Woman's Athletic club to discuss plans for the season.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles S. Williamson of 1517 Dearborn parkway, and their debutante-to-be, Miss Betty Williamson, are back from a 6 weeks' stay in the west, first at Jasper Park and then at Glacier National park.

There was quite a colony of Chicagoans at Jasper park this summer, most of whom have returned by now. Mrs. Raymond Durham of Winnetka, and Miss Betty Durham, the Holmes Forsythes and their sons, the Francis Dickinsons, and their children, the P. D. Armours III., Mrs. Robert W. Wood of Highland Park, Mrs. Arthur Hellyer of Riverside, Mrs. Frederick A. Preston of Lake Forest and her boys, and Mrs. Harold Smith and her two daughters, Anne and Betty all were there recently.

Mrs. J. Ogden Armour, who has been occupying her summer lodge, The Timbers, in northern Michigan, this summer, sailed last night on the S. S. Homeric for a European trip.

Mrs. James Simpson has been sojourning at Asheville, N. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dickinson of Lake Forest have returned from Hyannisport, Mass., where they were for the month of August.

[De Longe Photo.]

Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Creber of Evanston announce the engagement of their daughter, Alice Josephine, to Lyman Theodore Powell Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Powell of Superior, Wis. Miss Creber was graduated in June from the University of Wisconsin, and is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. Mr. Powell was graduated from Yale, class of '27, and from the University of Wisconsin law school in June. He is affiliated with Chi Psi and Phi Delta Phi fraternities. The wedding is to take place in November, after which Mr. Powell and his bride are to reside in Superior.

Opera in English Boxes Are Sold for First Night, Oct. 7

Announcement was made yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Waller Borden, president of the American Opera society, at a tea given in the Women's Athletic club to the membership of the society, that all boxes have been sold for the opening performance, in English, Oct. 7, in the Majestic theater.

Mrs. Borden also quoted a report from Mrs. James M. Hopkins, chairman of boxes, that boxes for all performances of the two weeks' season which the American Opera company will give are rapidly being sold. Headquarters for the ticket sale are at 1009 North State street.

Mrs. Edmund J. Tyler, president of the Illinois Federation of Music clubs and of the Chicago Artists' society, was joint hostess with Mrs. Walter Jarratt at the tea. Mrs. Archibald Freer, founder of the American Opera society, was among those present.

Brazil to Give Hoover Painting Recalling Tour

RIO DE JANEIRO, Sept. 6.—(AP)—Three of the most important scenes of the visit by President Herbert Hoover to this city are being done in oils on one canvas by Navarro Da Costa, Brazilian artist, at the command of the government. This painting will be presented to President Hoover on Dec. 21, the anniversary of his landing on Brazilian soil.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MILAN, Italy, Sept. 6.—Europe's last great musician to hold out against American determination of having the best in music, plus American ability to pay for it, has capitulated, it became known tonight with the announcement that Arturo Toscanini, the great director of the Scala opera, has resigned. He will do concert work in the United States, where he is scheduled to direct 60 programs as a guest conductor this coming season, followed by the Wagner season at Bayreuth.

Here's an Ex-Show Girl Starring in Role of Wife 'n' Mother

By Mrs. Gladys Huntington Bevans

A booklet by Mrs. Bevans on "Books to Be Read to Children or By Them" will be sent free on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Of course any one who knows human nature knows that temperament and health and state of mind and feelings and coöperation between husband and wife all enter as factors into the successful swinging of marriage and parenthood. Still, it is a fact that planning your money and organizing your life in general help a great deal in running the triple job of being home maker, wife and mother. Here is a letter which will interest many live young women who live in a great city and are trying to swing the triple business:

"Dear Mrs. Bevans: I have been reading your articles from day to day with great interest. Today's column about being a mother and a human being has inspired me to chirp up with my little two cents' worth which might help some of those mothers to reclaim themselves.

"I was a show girl for three years, working in some of the good musical productions that many have watched. I have now been married six years, have a 5 year old daughter, and my husband earns about $60 a week. My little girl is well fed and well dressed, and so are my husband and I, and we have a nice balance to our account in the bank.

"I wouldn't dream of letting myself get fat, I prefer a permanent wave to too may sodas, I do my own washing, including my baby's things and about eight shirts a week for my husband, but I still have time to cook, and I make all my daughter's dresses with fancy smocking.

"I read at least three of the latest novels every week, through a borrowing library, play bridge once or twice a week regularly in the evenings, and have plenty of pep to go to as many shows or movies or anywhere else as long as our money laid aside for amusements holds out. I also have time to read every page of your paper.

"My daughter is obedient and well informed on subjects necessary for a 5 year old. Mothers, give your day to your children, then put them to bed and out of your mind. If you haven't a mother to help look after them at night when you go out, reliable women do that sort of work at fairly reasonable charges.

"My evenings belong to my husband and myself. I am not going to have any other woman think I look like my husband's mother or older sister. I have acquaintances that way.

"P. S.: I am also trying to write short stories. Will be greatly surprised if I ever sell any, but I live in hopes."

School Girl Is Seen in New Silhouette

BY LOLITA.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—Schooled in style is the young thing who wears this brand new frock of red wool crêpe. For, as will be seen, this school frock for the girl of from 12 to 16 embodies many of the principles of the mode advocated by more mature styling.

First of all we note the seaming that makes a panel-like front and back contrast with flaring fullness at the sides. In connection with this smart silhouette do not fail to note that the fashionable waistline of this year—the one posed at the top of the hips—is here indicated in a smart patent leather belt. The frock is accompanied by a matching red felt hat banded in black and red ribbon.

The wool crêpes have their usual place in the school girl's life. So have jersey, tweed and velveteen. Many of the school dresses of this year are made up into the jacket ensembles and these frequently advocate tweed skirt and jacket in connection with a tuck-in blouse of jersey. For it must be remembered that the tuck-in dominates juvenile styles almost as completely as it does those for the mature.

Departing from the school girl's sartorial possibilities, one is impressed by the part that gloves are playing in the autumn styling. Many of the great French dressmakers are including gloves as an integral part of both afternoon and evening ensembles, and from all indications it would seem that we are fast departing from that era when the monotonous suede slipon was the only type of hand covering.

For afternoon wear we are witnessing a return of the mousquetaire glove. This, together with all manner of elaborate cuffed models, seems destined to displace, before many months, the slip-on of informal styling to which we have just referred.

PATTERNS BY CLOTILDE

[Registered U. S. Patent Office.]

WOMAN'S AND MISSES' DRESS.

The deep one-sided jabot collar of the surplice closing of the bodice and the graceful wrapped treatment in the tunic suggestion with deep plaits at one side of this lovely dress aid in giving that much desired slender appearance. The back is quite straight with snugness through the hips achieved through the fitted girdle fastened at the side with decorative buttons.

The pattern, 2618, comes in sizes 16 and 18 years and 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 3⅞ yards of 40 inch material with ¼ yard of 36 inch contrasting.

Two Young Quakers Voice Protests Over Their Elders' Methods

Oskaloosa, Ia., Sept. 6.—(AP)—A threatened rebellion of young Quakerism against the conservative methods of their elders loomed today.

Two young men from the Pacific coast, leaders in the annual meetings in their respective states, stood together yesterday in the assertion that "young Friends are clamoring for a change in methods." The assertion was made by Frank W. Dell of Whittier, Cal. Edward Mott of Oregon supported him.

Dr. Raymond Binford, president of Guilford [North Carolina] college, made a plea for a change in Quaker educational methods, introducing the personal element into its teaching.

A FRIEND IN NEED.

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Needs a Trunk.

"I wonder whether any of your readers has a steamer trunk for which they no longer care. I have not had a vacation in five years and now I have a chance to go away for several weeks. As I shall need to take with me a lot of heavy clothing a suitcase would not be large enough.

"M. O."

If you are planning to invest in new luggage soon, perhaps you'd like to find a worthy recipient for that which you are discarding. If your trunk is still in fairly good condition here's a young woman who could put it to excellent use.

Wild Night Leads to Revelations that Are a Boomerang

BY DORIS BLAKE.

A man was sitting at a lunch counter absorbed in a 1 a. m. sandwich when a young chap came in, three sheets in the wind, and sat down next to him. He tried to strike up a conversation but it wasn't encouraged by the sandwich patron.

Presently, in came another young fellow similarly pickled and sat down next to his brother-in-gin. They soon became jovially conversant and each told the other of the high time he had had that night with a "skirt" and a "swell Jane."

Unprintable remarks were made. The counter man and the sandwich patron, who tells the story, got what the latter calls "an earful."

"And, believe me, boy," one of the gin-carriers said, "she lives in a swell neighborhood, over at No. 2—, B— avenue," [naming it aloud.] Further conversation between the two revealed the fact that each had been out with the other's sister. A few moments of silence and then one got up and walked out, lunch unfinished. The other soon followed.

"The counter man told me," the observer of the incident reports, "that he knew the sister of one of the boys and had always thought her to be of high moral character."

"In this age of hell-bent youth," the observer comments, "one cannot be surprised at anything you hear—but that episode got under my skin. What would be the outcome of it, one wonders."

A true story, the above, and one that needs no comment, except to verify that oft-repeated statement that no girl can bank on a man's silence. Women do cling to the well exploded theory that men do not talk. True, there are a few gentlemen of the old school left. But so few of them that the assumption that all are guilty had better be clung to.

However, that is not exactly the moral angle from which to view the episode, is it? Or, from which to view any departure from decency?

FARM AND GARDEN

BY PAUL POTTER

Those who are fortunate enough to attend the beautiful exhibition of flowers in Garfield Park conservatory today and tomorrow, or the Flower and Garden exhibit in Albright gymnasium, staged by the Hawthorne club, will come away with an undying mental picture of nature's floral wonders.

The Men's Garden club of the Chicago region is giving its annual contest and show in the new exhibition hall at Garfield park. In addition, a glorious display of gladioli, lilies, and hundreds of other flowers and water plants is sponsored by the west park commissioners. No admission is charged.

The Hawthorne club's exhibit at 22d street and 49th avenue, Cicero, is the crowning event of the year for several thousand employés, their families and friends, at the Western Electric company. Suburbanites as well as west side Chicagoans will throng the aisles of this showing today and tomorrow.

Flower lovers never tire of water lilies. Some of these bloom only during the day and others only at night. Each variety and different flower carries the name of well known Americans. Visitors should plan their trip to Garfield park later than 9 o'clock in the morning to see the day blooming lilies at their best. Thousands of gold fish keep the pools clean and are an endless joy to the children.

Long rows of dry flowers, Iris by the thousands, fancy flowering grasses whose attractive heads wave in the breeze are utilized to mark the boundaries of the pools.

Ribbons are to be placed on the Garden club entries beginning at 10 o'clock this morning. In addition, many brilliant flower displays of an educational nature are being shown by commercial florists.

Eye Bath Sure Beauty Aid

If you want your eyes to be clear and beautiful heed the advice of twelve thousand oculists who recommend the eye bath. Even the vacation failed to help

WHEN they went on their vacation, they thought the rest and change would restore their health and vigor. Yet, when they returned, they were no better off than before they went away. Listlessly he went back to his business. And she wondered if she would ever regain her youthful beauty and health.

What a pity they didn't know that constipation was the cause of their unhappiness. Headaches, fatigue, bad complexions are a few of the symptoms. If allowed to continue, serious illness often occurs.

Yet there is a prompt and effective way to banish this evil. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve and prevent constipation safely.

Only ALL-BRAN gives maximum results

It is bulk that relieves constipation. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN supplies bulk in generous quantity. In a part-bran product the amount of bulk is usually too small to be completely effective. That's why doctors recommend ALL-BRAN.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is totally different from dangerous drugs and pills whose dose must be constantly increased to be effective. It works as nature works.

A pleasant cereal. Serve with milk or cream. Delicious with fruits or honey added. Use it in cooking too. Mix it with other cereals. Try it in soups. Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily—chronic cases, with every meal. The health of the entire family can be maintained by serving ALL-BRAN in some form every day.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is sold by all grocers. Served at hotels, restaurants. On diners. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Guaranteed! Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is sold with this definite guarantee: Eat it according to directions. If it does not relieve constipation safely, we will refund the purchase price.

CHINA REPLIES TO U. S. REFUSAL TO REMOVE COURT

New Note Is Dispatched to Five Nations

BY EDGAR SNOW

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

SHANGHAI, Sept. 6.—Foreign Minister C. T. Wang announced today that China has completed notes to the United States, Great Britain, France, Norway and the Netherlands regarding the refusal of those countries to abolish extraterritoriality. The note was sent to America yesterday. Great Britain today and the other powers will receive theirs next week when the text will be released.

Regarding the Chinese-Russian negotiations for a settlement of the Chinese Eastern railway controversy, Wang said no new developments had occurred. He declined to comment on the report of the suspension of conversations in Germany between the Chinese minister, Chiang Tso-pin, and the soviet ambassador, owing to the departure of Chiang for Geneva to attend the league of nations session.

Lift Press Censorship

It was announced from Nanking today that the central executive committee had passed a new measure lifting the national censorship over the press except in special cases pending a thorough investigation by the central government authorities. The surveillance necessary for [illegible] periods.

Closely guarded by an armed escort, Ying Kao, former Chinese consul at San Francisco, his wife, and Suen Foo, Canton merchant, alleged to have been implicated in the operation of an opium ring recently exposed by the U. S. customs officials, arrived from America yesterday. The party was taken to the Shanghai Nanking railroad station, where they boarded a train for the capital. There they will be turned over to the ministry of justice and confined pending trial in the district court.

Russia Makes New Threat

MOSCOW, Sept. 6.—[U. P.] The soviet foreign office tonight ordered all German consulates in China to close immediately to end what was described as the reign of terror against Russian citizens in Manchuria. The foreign office said that unless some move was made to end the situation it will be forced to resort to retaliatory measures against Chinese citizens resident in the soviet union.

The foreign office picture of the curdling campaign against Russians in China, alleging that they had tortured and murdered Chinese citizens.

The communication said that the soviet has "exact knowledge" that soviet citizens were not executed without hearing.

Charges Beheaded Corpses

Many soviet citizens have disappeared and cannot be traced, the communication added, and others have been found beheaded with their eyes left at the place of execution or thrown into rivers.

The communication described the alleged crowding of 2,000 soviet citizens into inadequate and insanitary concentration camps where epidemics and deaths spread among those confined. The Russians were kept in a state of incomunicado, and their relatives compelled from their homes, their property office charged.

CHINA REPLIES TO U. S. REFUSAL TO REMOVE COURTS

New Note Is Dispatched to Five Nations.

BY EDGAR SNOW.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, Sept. 6.—Foreign Minister C. T. Wang announced today that China has completed replies to the United States, Great Britain, France, Norway and the Netherlands regarding the refusal of those nations to abolish extraterritoriality. The note was sent to America yesterday, to Great Britain today and the other powers will receive theirs next week when the text will be released.

Regarding the Chinese-Russian negotiations for a settlement of the Chinese Eastern railway controversy, Dr. Wang said no new developments have occurred. He declined to comment on the report of the suspension of conversations in Germany between the Chinese minister, Chiang Tso-ping, and the soviet ambassador, owing to the departure of Chiang for Geneva to attend the league of nations assembly.

Lifts Press Censorship.

It was announced from Nanking today that the central executive committee had passed a new measure lifting the national censorship over the press, except in special cases where a thorough investigation by the National government authorities proved surveillance necessary for limited periods.

Closely guarded by an armed escort, Ying Kao, former Chinese vice consul at San Francisco, and his wife, and Suen Foo, Cantonese merchant, alleged to have been implicated in the operation of an opium ring recently exposed by the U. S. customs officials, arrived from America today. The party was taken to the Shanghai-Nanking railroad station, where they boarded a train for the capital, where they will be turned over to the ministry of justice and confined, pending trial in the district court.

Russia Makes New Threat.

MOSCOW, Sept. 6.—[U. P.]—The soviet foreign office tonight asked German consulates in China to take steps to end what was described as "a reign of terror" against soviet citizens in Manchuria. The foreign office said that unless some move is made to end the situation it will be forced to resort to retaliatory repressive measures against Chinese citizens resident in the soviet union.

The foreign office pictures a blood curdling campaign against Russians in China, alleging that the Chinese had tortured and murdered soviet citizens.

The communication said that the soviet has "exact knowledge that tens of soviet citizens were barbarously executed without hearing or trial."

Charges Beheaded Corpses Found.

Many soviet citizens have disappeared and cannot be traced, the communication added, and others have been found beheaded with their corpses left at the place of execution or thrown into rivers.

The communication described alleged crowding of 2,000 soviet citizens into inadequate and insanitary concentration camps where epidemics and deaths spread among those interned. The Russians were kept in chains, held incommunicado, and their families expelled from their homes, the foreign office charged.

The soviet complained that the German government had not succeeded in affording protection.

(John Powell, Tribune correspondent, who is at the Chinese-Russian "front," reported Thursday that there are 2,000 Russian prisoners in the Chinese concentration camp. He did not report any harsh treatment of these prisoners, but said the Chinese were making all efforts to properly care for them.)

Brand American as "Liar."

The soviet government today branded as "false and underground" the charges by J. J. Mantell, American railway adviser to the Chinese republic, that the Russian administration in Manchuria had stolen "untold millions" from the Chinese Eastern railway.

Maxim Litvinoff, acting commissar for foreign affairs, charged Mr. Mantell's statement proved "an evident desire by interested imperialist circles to ruin the existing possibility of a peaceful settlement of the conflict between Russia and China and to make our relations with China more acute."

Litvinoff declared in strong terms that the soviet government was greatly dissatisfied with the manner in which Nanking was delaying a peaceful settlement of the trouble which grew out of China's seizure of the Chinese Eastern railway. He demanded to know why China was not replying to the Russian overtures for a conference.

Hints at Outside Interference.

"Either Nanking does not desire to settle the conflict," he said, "or an outside power hostile to the soviet union is interfering."

Litvinoff said China's share of profits in the last five years amounted to $29,000,000, as against the small amount of $138,000 mentioned by Mr. Mantell. He also said the condition of the workers had been vastly improved.

PENNEY CHAIN STORES ESTABLISH RELATIONS WITH ORGANIZED LABOR

New York, Sept. 6.—(AP)—The J. C. Penney company, Inc., which operates some 1,400 chain stores throughout the country, in an understanding reached with the International Ladies' Garment Workers union today, agreed in the future to confine its cloak and suit production exclusively to manufacturers having contractual relations with the union.

The agreement is interpreted to mean that only garments bearing union labels will hereafter be sold in the Penney stores.

Union officials say this is the first time that an organization making price the most important factor in its relations with manufacturers has entered into such an agreement with organized labor.

STATE REVOKES LICENSES OF 14 REALTY DEALERS

The state department of registration and education yesterday revoked the licenses of fourteen Chicago real estate men in the drive to halt misrepresentation in the real estate business. Clyde I. Backus, assistant director of the department, said that several hundred agents and brokers are under surveillance and that further revocations will follow.

Among those listed is Harry Auspitz, former head of Auspitz & Oakes, 220 South State street, who rose from a position as a telegraph operator at $60 a week to become a reputed millionaire in nine years. Auspitz, according to the state department, represented that a contract for $1,000,000 had been let for the construction of 200 modern homes in Brookfield Park and lured buyers to his subdivision on promises of appreciation and ready resale.

Action was brought against Auspitz by Miss Ethel May Pierce, who said she and some friends had purchased $10,000 worth of property on the strength of the promises. Joseph K. Brittain and Henry T. Carr, members of the department's real estate committee, and Director M. F. Walsh recommended confiscation of his license.

U. S. COASTGUARD HELD IN SHOOTING OF MAN IN BOAT

Toledo, O., Sept. 6.—[Special.]—Gardner D. Young, commander of the coast guard cutter which fired upon and wounded Rutherford Hayes, Port Clinton, O., Aug. 29, pleaded not guilty and was bound over to the grand jury today on a charge of shooting with intent to kill.

Young appeared in Police court in the uniform of his rank of boatswain. Judge Leonard Donovan heard his plea entered by Assistant United States Attorney Lee Murlin. He was released on his own recognizance.

Young dodged reporters and photographers. The warrant for Young was sworn out by George Lewis, Toledo, owner of the boat in which Hayes was shot. Lewis said the motor of his boat had been giving him trouble and that he had asked Hayes to look it over. Hayes hardly left the dock in the boat when a coast guardsman opened fire with a revolver, Lewis said. The coast guard cutter then fired with a machine gun. Forty bullets struck the boat and Hayes fell wounded. The boat, motor still running, ran into the bank, Lewis said, and Hayes was unconscious when he reached it.

Coast guardsmen said Hayes had refused to halt. They charge a case of beer was found in the boat. Lewis declares this was impossible.

Hayes is being held under a charge of violating the liquor laws as he recovers in the hospital.

LOSES $1,000 DIAMOND BRACELET.

DETROIT WOMAN SHOT TO DEATH IN FARM YARD

Croswell, Mich., Sept. 6.—[Special.]—Mrs. Louise Bossert, 40, of Detroit, was shot to death today in a farm yard three miles north of here. In a dying statement she named a Detroit man as the slayer.

Mrs. Bossert owned a farm adjoining that of S. D. Kinsey. Relatives of Kinsey planned to buy Mrs. Bossert's farm and the deal was to have been closed today. Mrs. Bossert was driven to the Kinsey farm by an old friend. She alighted at the driveway leading to the Kinsey home and her driver went on to Croswell.

A few minutes later neighbors heard several shots and saw a man drive away from the Kinsey home. Mrs. Bossert was found lying in the farm yard. She had been shot three times.

"No More Beer," Paris Announces; Heat Continues

PARIS, Sept. 6.—(AP)—Placards announcing "no more beer" in letters several inches high tonight adorned the windows of some of the largest and most important Paris cafés in mute testimony to the thirst that has reigned here during a ten days' heat wave. One afternoon paper today calculated that 7,342,000 glasses of beer were consumed in Paris and its suburbs yesterday.

DEDICATE GRAVE PLOT FOR JEWISH VETS TOMORROW

The first Jewish military burial plot in this country will be dedicated tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock under the auspices of the Yarmo-Devere post, No. 469, of the American Legion, the Jewish War Veterans of Chicago and the general committee of the National Jewish War Memorial. A religious ceremony and military rites will accompany the dedication in Oakridge Jewish cemetery, Roosevelt and Mannheim roads.

A salute of 21 rounds will be fired by a section of French 75's from the 122nd Field Artillery under the command of Col. Samuel T. Lawton and floral tributes will be dropped by two squadrons of airplanes. A review of several Legion drum and bugle corps and military bands will be features.

DEATH NOTICES

In Memoriam.

PERNIN—Dr. A. G. Pernin. In fond and loving memory of my dear husband, who passed away two years ago today, Sept. 7, 1927.

Another year gone by, dear,
And I missed you more and more.
It is so hard to go on forever
As nothing else was ever before.
But your presence is always with me
And I live in fond memory
Of the wonderful days that used to be
And of the load you helped me to carry.
But everything shall be, as God's will must be done,
Altho you are gone.

MANDELL WHIPS VICENTINI; WINS EVERY ROUND

EGAN RALLIES IN VAIN; LOSES TO DOCTOR, 4 AND 3

Minnesotan Defeats Ouimet, 6 and 5.

Pebble Beach, Cal., Sept. 6.—(AP)—Harrison R. Johnston, investment broker of St. Paul, Minn., and Dr. Omar F. Willing, dentist of Portland, Ore., neither of whom has ever reached the finals before, will fight it out tomorrow for the thirty-third amateur golf championship of the United States.

As a result, either the great Pacific northwest or the broad plains of the middle west will acclaim the next successor to the south and Bobby Jones—out of the finals for the first time in six years.

Johnston, playing the steadiest golf of his career, advanced to the deciding round by conquering the veteran 1914 champion, Francis Ouimet of Boston, 6 and 5, in today's semi-finals. Dr. Willing defeated Henry Chandler Egan of Medford, Ore., 4 and 3, after withstanding a sensational closing challenge by the 45 year old ex-champion in the afternoon round of the match.

Johnston, leading all the way, was never less than four up after the ninth hole and ended the match on the 31st green in the afternoon but it was not until the 33d hole that Dr. Willing was able to gain the decision over his fighting fellow Oregonian, Egan, who went down in a blaze of glory if any golfing veteran ever did.

Egan Gives Crowd Thrill.

Although it was in vain, Egan put on the most dramatic thrill of the entire tournament when he cut more than half of Willing's margin away in the afternoon. Willing was eight up as he overwhelmed his rival in the morning round, became nine up at the nineteenth and retained that margin at the 26th, but from there on he had the battle of his life to stand off the spectacular comeback of the man who wore the amateur crown exactly 25 years ago.

From a tired, badly whipped veteran who seemed to be just going through the motions, Egan suddenly came to life, won four holes in a row as the big gallery broke into a tumult of applause and cut Willing's margin from 9 up at the 26th to only 4 up at the 27th, as they made the turn toward home.

It was mostly a battle of stymies over that exciting stretch, as Willing's game cracked for the time being from the rival's desperate comeback. A dead stymie cost Egan a half on the 19th hole and he lost a chance to win the 20th, after being trapped, by failing to get down a five foot putt.

Egan's spurt then began to get results on the 21st, where Willing drove to the rough and put his second in a trap and conceded the hole after missing a long putt for his par four. On the 23d Egan rammed in a ten foot putt for his birdie and another win. The ex-champion pitched to within four feet of the pin on the 160 yard 24th. He missing the putt but half stymied Willing and grabbed his third hole in a row. Two smashing woods put Egan on the 502 yard 24th green while Willing found the rough with his second, chipped short and conceded the hole after again being stymied. Egan himself was partly stymied on the 110 yard 25th that drops abruptly down to the shore, but sliced around to clinch a half in threes.

The crowd was now in full cry, cheering for Egan after every shot. Going to the troublesome 26th, Willing again was wild off the tee and then dubbed his brassie completely, sending the ball over the edge of the chasm that cuts across the fairway, but this cost the doctor a two stroke penalty but he was on the green in four with a fine iron, six feet away from the cup. Egan chipped on with his third too strongly but a stymie helped him again when he missed his putt for

10 Handicap Stars in $25,000 Lincoln Fields Feature Today

BY FRENCH LANE.

Despite the prospect for a heavy track, ten of the outstanding handicap stars of the west were named over night for the $25,000 Lincoln handicap to be run over the Lincoln Fields mile and a quarter course this afternoon.

Misstep and his stable companion, Canaan, were made the over night favorite at 2 to 1 with Ald. John J. Coughlin's 3 year old Karl Eitel the second choice at 5 to 2.

Mose Lowenstein, trainer of Misstep, was confident last night the track will dry out sufficiently this morning to make the going ideal for the great 4 year old son of Upset. The Karl Eitel backers were pulling for more rain, and if the track is muddy at post time he may be the favorite over Misstep. The latter has not shown a good effort over a muddy track this season.

Lincoln Fields' Richest.

The race, which is the richest of the autumn season at Lincoln Fields, will be renewed for the fourth time this afternoon. It was run for the first time in 1926 and carried an added value of $10,000. Hal Price Headley's Supremus, a 3 year old, was the first winner. In 1927 Jockey Earl Sande and the great handicap performer Chance Play came from the east to win the stake. Flat Iron, then in his prime, was second. The value had been increased to $25,000.

Last year the Lincoln was won by Toro and the field was one of the most notable to go to the post during the season. The only important absentee was Reigh Count, which was in the east seeking cup honors.

Eastern Stars Beaten.

The east has sent one after another of its champions into the west to be turned back this season. Misstep usually tossed his heels into the faces of the easterners and his presence in the race served to scare out the handicap stars from along the Atlantic seaboard. For a time it was planned to send Petee Wrack on for the race. He was beaten in New York early in the week so decisively that Owner J. R. Macomber decided he would not at this time be a formidable eastern representative against the crack band from the west. Mike Hall was kept out of the overnight field when the track became muddy.

Turf followers from many parts of the middle west were arriving in Chicago last night to see the running of the rich race. The Kentucky breeding country sent a delegation of several hundred and there were race followers here from many other points. The Lincoln Fields officials are prepared to handle a crowd of 30,000. It

In the Wake of the News

DEAR WAKE: An interesting little ceremony was held recently just north of Momence, Ill., when the "179th" milestone on the old Vincennes road was unveiled. This is one of four known markers of the old trace or trail leading from southern Illinois into Chicago. Another is at Milford—at the "Nichols farm"—another at Crete, and another at Steger. Others known formerly have disappeared.

These markers have been in existence 95 years. In the historical library at Portage, Wis., we find: "Owing to the aggressive methods of the growing city of St. Louis, it was feared they would monopolize the trade of southern Illinois. This fear led to the appointing of a large committee of business men, presumably mostly from Chicago, to protect this trade. They petitioned the legislature and in 1834 these markers were set at each mile along this road numbering from Vincennes north."

G. S. Hubbard was the leading trader who traveled this eastern border of Illinois in the early days. In the early '30s he made a speech at a "homecoming" at Bunkum [now Iroquois, Ill.], where he once had a trading post, in which he said, "I am now standing on the very spot where the 'Hubbard Trace' once ran." Noel La Vasseur, first white settler in Kankakee county at Bourbonnais, was engaged with Hubbard in the trading business in this vicinity. Later Hubbard quit trading and engaged in the packing industry.

Ye Old Timer.

Years ago when Charlie Case was playing the Lyceum theater and it was about time for his act he knocked on the stage door and asked the doorman what time it was. The latter answered "8:30." Charlie went away and returned in a few minutes, again asking the time. The doorman replied, "I just told you," to which Charlie retorted, "I know it, but this is for another man."

Geo. A. Cook.

Football Diet.

I'll bet if I played football,
No opponent would get by;
I'd have a team to beat them all
Trained on rock and rye.

Helper-Out.

Autumn Thoughts.

The lad with heavy shoulders
And the feet so large and flat
May be "Hay-wire" in a dance hall
But a prize for all a' that!

BREADON SINGS THOSE ST. LOUIS RAINY DAY BLUES

Downpour Cancels Final Pair of Games.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 6.—Slick strategy of the suffering St. Louis Cardinal management, which called off the Cub game yesterday, when there was no rain, in order to book a double-header today, went awry. It did rain today after two innings had been played, and the last two Cub-Cardinal games on the 1929 schedule were washed down the Mississippi forever and ever.

GUY BUSH.

The monkey business which so irritated Manager Joe McCarthy was a perfect boomerang, for it reduces the number of games to be played by the Cubs to only 25 and gives them a needed day of rest for the double-header in Chicago with the Boston Braves tomorrow.

Blake Due Tomorrow.

Although the present outlook is that the games called off today never will be played, they can be restored to the schedule in the event decisions would have a vital bearing on the pennant race. This contingency, of course, is not a probability.

Malone and Bush probably will pitch the games in Chicago tomorrow. Blake, with only two innings of work today, should be able to resume operations Sunday, with Carlson a possibility in the event a slightly ailing arm gets well.

No Let-up Yet.

Manager McCarthy today said there would be little coasting until the pennant is clinched. He wants the boys to take their rest when they can relax completely, he says, and the sooner the flag is a mathematical certainty the better it will suit the Cub boss. He anticipates no difficulty in keeping his men on edge between the time the fight ends and the opening of the world series.

While the Cubs will have played but 152 games to a decision on their 1929 schedule, they will have 155 to their credit in the record books, there having been ties with St. Louis, New York and Cincinnati.

The season record of the Cards and Cubs was 15 wins for the Cubs, five losses and a 11 to 11 six inning tie.

MANDELL GIVES A LESSON

Pirates Lose, 6-5, to Robins; Then Win, 8-1

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 6.—(AP)—The Robins opened their final western trip of the season by dividing two games with Pittsburgh today. Brooklyn won the opener, 6 to 5, when hits were bunched on Burleigh Grimes, but the Pirates hit hard in the nightcap to gain the decision, 8 to 1. The first game was Grimes' fifth defeat against seventeen victories.

Mr. Ringling Is Eased Out of the House He Built

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 6.—Mr. Ed Ballard of West Baden, Ind., has just boosted Mr. John Ringling, the circus man, out of Madison Square Garden, which Mr. Ringling built in collaboration with Tex Rickard about five years ago.

Mr. Ballard is circus people himself, owning or controlling the Sells-Floto show, the Al G. Barnes show, the Sparks circus and the Hagenbeck-Wallace show, comprising, in all, some 175 cars of people, critters and duffle. He also takes some interest in the chancy type of indoor sports and games such as people play in the casinos of French Lick, Miami and Palm Beach, and I have heard tell that when he counts up after a season's business he does not tally the money but puts it in a hay-press and just does it up in bales.

Elephants Gave Boys Scare.

For many years it has been Mr. Ringling's custom to herald the coming of spring in New York by marching his elephants, camels and other hoof or hay burning stock down Park avenue from the Mott Haven freight yards to the garden, along in the small hours of the morning, when chaps around town are likely to be most upset by the sight of elephants, camels and so forth. His boss mahout, old Deefy Denham, a most considerate man, with a humane feeling for chaps around town at two or three in the morning, has always sent a fellow along in front of the lead elephant repeating the reassuring cry, "It's all right, boys; they're real."

I realize that the rivalries of circus troupes are not strictly pertinent to sport or the sport business, but this is a special case because John Ringling not only held the ladder for Tex Rickard, but supplied the ladder. And now it seems that the Madison Square Garden corporation, which is no more soulful than the general run of corporations, has taken Mr. Ringling's ladder.

Mr. Ringling's circus will not play in the new garden next spring, but Mr. Ballard's Sells-Floto circus will. The Garden corporation, within one year after Mr. Rickard's demise, not only raised the rent on Mr. Ringling but insisted on suspending the circus each Friday night, the best night of the week in the circus season, in order to conduct a prize fight.

Mr. Ringling Objects.

Mr. Ringling objected on both counts but went off somewhere to think it over, and while he was thinking it over Mr. Ballard of West Baden and Miami Beach said he would rent the house on those terms. So Mr. Will Carey, the sucessor to Mr. Rickard, closed with Mr. Ballard and when Mr. Ringling got through thinking it over and came back to sign the new lease Mr. Carey had to say he was sorry but that business was business as nobody could deny.

Mr. Ringling's early career with Mr. Rickard was a clandestine association, suggesting a town banker with a silent partnership in a crap game. He appears to have felt that public association of his name with the prize fight industry would have injured his circus clientele. Whatever the reason may have been, the fact remains that when Tex took over the old garden soon after the legislature decided that prize fighting and safe blowing were not synonymous after all, Mr. Ringling was his sleeping partner. In fact, Mr. Ringling and his circus firm were all there was to the garden concern, because Tex was merely an employe, receiving $400 or $500 a week and a percentage of the profits.

Tex always was a fellow who could make a ring of keys jingle like a pocketful of important money, and he carried off his harmless deception with a prosperous manner, talking about his plans and all the money he was willing to pay the fighters, so assuredly that people thought he must be one of the richest men in town. Of course, $400 or $500 a week is some money, and Tex had hustled himself a few quid of his own by steering wealthy clients to a place where they could sit down and play cards for adult stakes. But comparatively speaking, Tex, at that time, was just a fellow doing the best he could for himself on a salary and commission basis.

CHAMP MAKES PUNCHING BAG OF FOE'S HEAD

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Sammy Mandell, world's lightweight champion, decisively defeated Luis Vicentini, Chilean 135 pounder, in the main event of Promoter Paddy Harmon's boxing show at the Chicago stadium last night. The decision was unanimous and it was the opinion of those around the ringside that the champion won every round. Mandell's title was not at stake as the weight was 140 pounds, five pounds over the championship limit.

Mandell put up a great fight. His cleverness brought rounds of applause from the 13,368 who paid $42,000 to see the four ten round fights. The champion was given a great reception when he entered the ring and he was cheered when the laces of his gloves were cut at the termination of the fight.

It was one of the best fights Sammy has made in or around Chicago. As the fans filed out of the world's greatest indoor arena many old timers were comparing him with Joe Gans and Benny Leonard, two of the cleverest fighters who ever held the lightweight title.

It was Mandell's clever left hand which returned him a victor by a wide margin. Last night Mandell was a master boxer. Vicentini threw punches all over the ring and was dangerous all the way, but the champion either stepped inside of the wild blows or pulled away.

At times Mandell held off his opponent by pumping straight lefts into the Chilean's face. On many occasions he followed his left leads with right crosses to the face and body. Frequently he blocked Vicentini's wild swings in the air.

Another pleasing feature of Mandell's fight was his willingness to mix. In the past Sammy has done most of his execution while backing away. Last night he was the aggressor. He forced the fighting in every round and when he was jammed into a corner or against the ropes he emerged from the infighting with the long end of the scoring.

The decision of the judges, Rube Metz and Ed Klein, and Referee Phil Collins was unanimous and the cards showed that Mandell won off by himself.

Vicentini Tries for Knockout.

When the bell rang for the first round they lost no time to swing into action. At the outset it was apparent Mandell was in shape and it also was obvious that Vicentini intended to toss science aside and try for a knockout. Mandell's left hand was always in action and often stabbed three times without returns. The Chilean's blows missed their marks by wide margins. Mandell won the round by a wide margin.

In the second round Vicentini scored with a left hook which rocked the titleholder. Sammy came right back, however, and smothered Luis with a series of blows to the head and body. Mandell won the round decisively. The same was true of the third in which Mandell used a straight left effectively. At times he had the Chilean's head bobbing like a punching bag.

Mandell knocked Vicentini back on his heels with a left hook in the fourth, winning the round decisively. Sammy took the fifth by a slight margin. Vicentini tore in and shot punches for the head and body. He scored repeatedly with body blows. In the sixth session, the Chilean connected with a right cross. It was the most effective punch he landed during the entire fight. The blow slowed up the champion for a few seconds but he recovered and won the round.

Medill Gets a Draw.

Sammy easily took the seventh and eighth rounds. His left hand held Vicentini at a safe distance and he also made Vicentini miss by wide margins. The champion took the final two rounds without difficulty. The gong was welcomed by the Chilean who was outclassed from start to finish although he made a game and willing fight. At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Mandell weighed 138¼ pounds and Vicentini, 137½ pounds.

In the fight which followed the main event, Joey Medill, west side lightweight, and Stanley Loayza, another Chilean, went ten interesting rounds to a draw. It was a fight all the way with rallies in every session. There was plenty of infighting and they traded blows at long range. Although many thought Loayza was entitled to the decision the verdict was just. Medill scaled 137½ pounds and his opponent 138½ pounds.

Jackie Brady of Syracuse, N. Y., and Clyde Chastain of Texas went ten fast rounds to a draw in the opening encounter. The fight was brimful of action in every round. They met at 148 pounds.

My Sullivan of St. Paul was given the ten round decision over Alf Ros, an Algerian, in the other fight on the card. Sullivan outboxed his opponent most of the way, although Ros connected several times with stinging right crosses and left hooks. Ros is a sturdy fighter who can take punishment, but he does not know enough about the scientific end of the game. They weighed 151 pounds.

$25,000 LINCOLN FIELDS HANDICAP DRAWS 10 STARS

Haughton Saddles 3 Winners.

Ed Haughton, a tall Texan who trains race horses, almost became the leading trainer on the American turf at Lincoln Fields yesterday when he sent four horses owned by George Collins of Lexington, Ky., to the post, then watched three of them win.

When his day's work had ended he trailed Lloyd Gentry of Kentucky for first place among American trainers by just two winners. Up until last night Gentry had sent 66 winners to the post this year. Haughton had 64 to his credit.

The three Haughton victories came one after another in the third, fourth, and fifth races, all of which were run over a muddy track. And each of the trio was ridden by Jockey V. Smith.

The first triumph was delivered by the 3 year old Donn Bon, which made a show of a field of 12 platers at a mile and a furlong. He was from five to six lengths in front all the way and had been an outsider in the betting, paying $16.50 in the two dollar mutuels. Stelvio, another long shot, was second, and Rasuli, the odds on favorite, never better than third.

Smith Brings Hades Home.

Dusky Maiden and Ulverston were the red hot choices in the six furlong 2 year old race which was fourth on the program. Haughton saddled Hades and Jockey V. Smith climbed into the saddle. Hades showed his heels to Dusky Maiden and Ulverston all the way and won by five lengths. He was at about 5 to 1 in the betting.

Patricia Marian was the Haughton-Smith-Collins representative in Indian Woods Country Club purse, which was fifth. She also led all the way and was pulled up as she led Wolfy past the line of finish by two lengths with Paul Bunyan, another odds on choice, in third place.

Trainer Haughton saddled Uptime in the Kensington purse and he had a following. But he failed to finish in the money. The winner turned up in Hypoluxo, which headed Brown Wisdom and Typhoon soon after the stretch run started to win handily in the end. Hypoluxo was ridden by Jockey George Arnold.

TildenFavored to Annex 7th U.S.Net Title

Forest Hills, N. Y., Sept. 6.—(AP)—With a field of 90 seeking the title relinquished by Henri Cochet of France, play in the national tennis singles championship gets under way tomorrow on the West Side Tennis club's courts.

Big Bill Tilden of Philadelphia tonight ruled a favorite to win his seventh national title, but there were youngsters in the field who were rated only a step behind the old master. Tilden is seeded at the top of the upper half of the draw, and John Doeg of Santa Monica, Cal., at the bottom. George Lott heads the lower half, with Norman G. Farquharson of South Africa at the bottom.

Also seeded are such stars as Frank Hunter of New Rochelle, John Van Ryn of East Orange, N. J.; Berkeley Bell of Austin, Tex.; Gregory Mangin of Newark, N. J., and Fritz Mercur of Bethlehem, Pa. Among the foreign entrants H. W. [Bunny] Austin, J. S. Olliff and E. R. Avory of England all are seeded, as are Tamio Abe of Japan and German Upmann of Cuba.

Hunter, Tilden and Van Ryn all drew first round byes, but will play their second round matches tomorrow. Hunter clashes with Edward Jacobs of Baltimore and the University of Pittsburgh at 1 o'clock. Tilden meets Donald Strachan of Philadelphia at 2:30. Austin plays Edward Herndon of New York at 4 o'clock in a first round match.

On another court Lott meets Elliott Binzen of New York at 1 o'clock. Wilmer Allison of Austin meets Emmett Pare of Chicago at 2:30 and Van Ryn plays Edward McKnight of Springfield, Mass., at 4 o'clock.

The championship will end a week from tomorrow. Play in the national veterans' singles will begin Monday.

CARDS BUY GRABOWSKI.

Danville, Ill., Sept. 6.—(AP)—Al Grabowski, southpaw pitcher for the Danville club of the Three Eye league, has been sold to the St. Louis Cardinals. He is to report Friday after working against Decatur. The Danville veterans obtained Grabowski from Rochester N. Y.

Johnston to Play Willing for Golf Title

All Willing in Morning.

This smashing challenge, however, seemed to have sapped most of Egan's reserve and he was unable to do more than prolong the match for six more holes. Willing steadied, won the 29th to go 5 up again. With a chance to clinch the contest on the 31st he put his second in a trap and took two to get out. Now 4 up and five to go, Willing took no chances. He halved the next two holes in par figures, Egan's last chance fading when he failed to get down a long putt on the 33d.

All the big moments of the Willing-Egan match were packed into the outgoing nine of the afternoon round. In the morning, the battling dentist played almost flawless golf to take the commanding lead that, as it turned out, he needed. He reeled off the first 18 in 73, one over par, to Egan's approximate 83 and there was not much argument. In fact, as Willing won the last three holes of the morning round to become eight up it appeared that Egan's game had collapsed completely and no one was prepared for his great comeback after lunch.

Johnston Starts Fast.

Johnston, with the greatest opponent he has ever faced in a national champion, played with too much determination and skill for even so gallant, seasoned a foe as Ouimet, champion fifteen years ago and a semi-finalist six times in the last ten years. The St. Paul sharpshooter let loose a barrage from the outset that had Ouimet four down at the first turn and six down at the eleventh hole. Only the most courageous sort of work enabled Ouimet to make it a fight from then on. The Bostonian succeeded in slicing two holes from this margin before the end of the round as he finished the last four holes in even par.

Well fortified, Johnston continued his steady play in the afternoon. He had his irons under fine control and putted even more consistently than Ouimet, who has been famous for years for his work on the greens. At the 27th, Johnston was again six up. Ouimet, with a long putt for a birdie on the 29th, regained a hole but after halving the next two, met his finish on the 31st. There the Bostonian was trapped off the tee and again in a sandbunker on his second shot, short of the green. He came out short, ran a long putt dead to the hole but Johnston, well on in two, got down in two putts to decide the match.

No Playoff for Medal.

Thus 33 year old Jimmy Johnston, long one of the game's most popular figures, and 39 year old Doc Willing go on into the finals of the championship in which neither before has been able to go beyond the third round. They are the survivors of a battle which has seen favorites drop right and left—the four time champion, Bobby Jones, going out in the first round and the British titleholder, Cyril Tolley, in the third round.

Tolley was among the victims of Dr. Willing, who also eliminated another Briton, T. A. Bourn, and Danny Sangster of Los Angeles in his march to the final. Johnston, in succession, disposed of John De Paolo of Bakersfield, Cal., then Roland Mackenzie of Washington, D. C., and George Voigt of New York.

There will be no playoff for the qualifying medal, for which Bobby Jones and Gene Homans tied with scores of 145. Officials of the United States Golf association vetoed proposals for a deciding match between the dethroned champion and the Princeton star next Sunday, after the tournament's close, and announced the award of two medals.

OLD AIKEN TRIMS EASTCOTT, 16 TO 8

Meadowbrook, N. Y., Sept. 6.—(AP)—Old Aiken's polo four had its revenge on Cochran field this afternoon in the first game of the Monty Waterbury cup series, defeating the English-American Eastcott team 16 to 8. A few weeks ago Capt. Tremayne and Earl W. Hopping won over J. C. Rathbourne and his college playmates by a most uneven score of 12 to 2.

In today's match, on a muddy field, Eastcott gave the youthful quartet a handicap of two goals. The game was held up in the fourth period when Capt. P. K. Wise was hit on the jaw with a mallet during a scrimmage and forced to retire from the game. Capt. Henry Forrester of the British army, who played fine polo on Jock Whitney's Californian team last winter, was substituted and played commendably.

Duck Season Opens Sept. 24 in Illinois

BY BOB BECKER.

Duck hunters in Wisconsin, Michigan, Iowa and Minnesota will get the jump on the shotgun boys in Illinois and Missouri this fall because the season on migratory water fowl opens Sept. 16 in their states, whereas Illinois and Missouri will start the duck hunting on Sept. 24. On the other hand, Illinois will permit the hunting of ducks and geese up to and including Jan. 7, whereas the season in Wisconsin, Michigan, Iowa and Minnesota closes Dec. 31.

Last year wardens made a number of arrests in Illinois and other states because hunters killed yellow legs and other shore birds protected by law.

There have been no changes in the regulations this fall. All the plovers, yellow legs and other shore birds are protected, so gunners must confine their fire to the jacksnipe if they want to keep out of trouble. Woodcock shooting will be legal in Iowa, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin between Oct. 15 and Nov. 15.

The number of teal, young pintails and mallards that were feeding and resting along the Illinois river early in the week was so large that old timers in the river country were commenting on the situation. It seems that many flocks of waterfowl have taken possession of the lowlands where food is plentiful. Early in the week we heard about one lake, near Havana, which had 4,000 ducks on it, mostly teal and pintails. With such a waterfowl population already in the marshes the boys, who plan on occupying front seats in a duck blind the morning of Sept. 24 ought to be able to bag some birds without much effort.

SILK BOUND STYLE

"TWIN"

"BELIEVE IT OR NOT"

A celebrated Italian manufacturer has made an International Reputation by producing the finest Lightweight Fur Felt.

Last year this Exclusive and Expensive Imported Model was made with a Raw Edge. But this year the Brim has a narrow Silk Binding, and the proportions of the Crown and Brim, and width of the Band are a little different.

If you could take the Original and my "Style Twin" in your hands and put them together—Crown to Crown, Brim to Brim, Band to Band—you would find the measurements of Block and Flange identical.

RTEN EASON

KE TO HAVE FULL REIN ON MICHIGAN GRID

Yost Ready to Act, but Only as Adviser.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 6.—[Special.]—Queries already are filtering into Ann Arbor as to how much free rein Harry Kipke will be given as head coach of Michigan's football team.

Kipke will be in full charge when he comes here Tuesday to take up permanent residence. Whatever part Yost may happen to have this fall will be of an incidental nature.

Willing to Advise.

Yost feels the direction of a team is too much of a physical and mental struggle for him, and has turned it over to Kipke and his helpers, with the belief that he will not be needed. He feels that the Wolverines' grid staff can handle any situation. Yost is willing to help Kipke when he is required. But so far as any definite duties are concerned he is not going to be in the picture.

The fate of alumni, students and others with regard to their fortune in the annual football ticket lottery was decided at the drawing held this morning.

Some Tickets Remain.

All that remains for a clarification of the ticket situation as it stands at present is the announcement from the business manager, Harry Tillotson, telling how many tickets are left for the various home games. Mr. Tillotson hopes to be able to give out some figures either tomorrow or Monday, but it is no secret that the Harvard and Ohio games are fast nearing a sell out.

Maroon Grid Captain Ready for Campaign

Pat Kelly, captain of the Maroon football team, arrived in Chicago yesterday from Mullen, Idaho, where he spent the summer working in a silver mine. The Chicago captain, who will play end, is in good shape for the season. He has added weight and now scales 184 pounds. During the summer Kelly and various members of the Washington, Idaho, Washington State, and Gonzaga teams worked out together.

Among the members of the squad was Paul Jessup, giant 6 foot 7 inch tackle and captain of the University of Washington team. The westerner will play against Kelly on Nov. 23, when Washington comes to the Midway for a game with the Maroons.

Hugh Mendenhall, veteran back field man, will be ineligible for competition this fall as the result of failing in a course, the athletic department learned yesterday. Mendenhall, a premedic student, flunked a course in bacteriology. His loss will be a heavy blow to the Maroon team, for "Mendy" was the only remaining back field veteran, and the only punter of class on the team. He also did most of the passing last year.

OREGON POLICE TEAM OUTSHOOTS ROYAL MOUNTED

Camp Perry, O., Sept. 6.—(AP)—Crack pistol shots of the world's most famous police organizations bowed today to American marksmanship at the national rifle matches here when Portland, Ore., police team defeated the Royal Canadian Northwest mounted squad, 1,123 to 1,054. Five stages—slow, timed, rapid fire, running man, and bobber targets were fired.

Members of the Portland team were Sergt. J. H. Young, C. B. Maxwell, G. A. Marshall, and C. F. Shaylor. On the Canadian team were Corp. A. Ford, Corp. B. E. Forsland, Corp. J. G. Pelletier, and Constable J. D. O'Connell.

The Ohio civilian rifle team brought to Fort Clinton, O., trophy back to the Buckeye state today for the first time since it was placed in competition in 1920.

The Ohioans shot a score of 554 out of a possible 600. Massachusetts third with 551; Washington third with 546; the American Legion team fourth with 544, and California fifth with 543.

First regiment of the United States marine corps won the Humboldt trophy, symbolic of the championship regimental match, for the third straight year with 553. The enlisted men's trophy went to the United States navy team for the third consecutive year with 566 out of a possible 600. Roberts Island Rifle club of Stockton, Cal., won the civilian interclub match with 363 out of 400.

INTRUDER WINS "Q" SLOOP RACE; SIREN SECOND

Intruder, owned by O'Rourke brothers of the Jackson Park club, captured the windward and leeward event, opening race in the Lutz championship series for Q sloops off Jackson park yesterday. The Karas brothers' Siren finished second, while Sinbad, owned by Don Byrne of the Columbia club, came home third. Edward Jodzry-Kowski's Princess, which won the trophy last year after one of the tightest series on record, followed the trio in yesterday.

Intruder now leads the series with four points, Siren is second with 3, and Sinbad and Princess third and fourth, respectively, with 2 and 1. The second event of the series, the triangular race, will be held at 3 p. m. today, with the final, the quadrangular race, being run off tomorrow.

THREE EXMOOR GOLFERS LEAD IN C. A. A. TOURNEY

BY HARLAND ROHM.

Exmoor furnished most of the good golf in the fall tournament of the Chicago Athletic association at Barrington Hills yesterday when three members turned in the three low gross cards of the day. C. C. Hopkins led the parade of 180 Cherry Circle golfers by banging around the course in 39—38—77, which was two shots better than any one else could do.

Next were Frank C. Mercer and Jack Lenfestey Jr., the latter playing as the guest of his father. They had identical cards of 41—38—79. As Lenfestey junior was ineligible, third low gross went to H. H. Taylor of Skokie, with 81. Although the day, was almost perfect for golf, most of the cards ran high, the bulk of the net scores ranging between 75 and 85, a tribute to the handicap committee.

Unique Cards Win Foursome.

First low gross foursome went to a combination of veteran golfers who turned in a unique card. They won on low gross, but the freakish part of their cards was that each had a net score of 77. Charles W. Booth, Midlothian and Frank M. Swirles of Oak Park had 82s with five handicaps; W. B. Fitch, Indian Hill, 94—7—77, and N. Landon Hoyt, Indian Hill, 85—8—77. Their total gross was 333.

Hopkins Shoots Consistently.

Hopkins played a remarkably steady round of golf. He was six over par and varied from par on the same number of holes, going one over par on each. He three putted the first and seventeenth and hit poor second shots on the third, fifth, and twelfth, and drove to a trap on the elevent. Otherwise he played every hole in par. Prize list:

LOW GROSS—C. C. Hopkins, Exmoor, 77.
SECOND LOW GROSS—Frank C. Mercer, Exmoor, 79.
SECOND LOW NET CLASS A—L. L. Cook, 82-9-76.

Herman's 3 Hits Keep Him Ahead in Big Six Race

Rain and open dates again limited activities in the Big Six yesterday, with Babe Herman alone going into action. The Brooklyn slugger got a home run off Burleigh Grimes and two singles off Petty in seven times at bat in the two games at Pittsburgh, but failed to gain as much as one full point. It is still necessary to carry the percentages to four figures to show Herman's advantage over Frank O'Doul, whose .3925 would become .393 in three figures. The standing:

THAT OUTBOARD MOTOR REGATTA STARTS TODAY

Chicagoans today and tomorrow will have an opportunity of witnessing a complete aquatic carnival, including motor boating, yachting, swimming, stunt flying and aquaplaning, and with these the birth of a hitherto neglected class of speed boating as a national sport. The occasion will be the central regatta of the National Outboard association, which has divided the country into three sections, with divisional regattas at Chicago, Boston, and Seattle. The winners will compete for the national crown at Peoria Oct. 15 and 16.

It will be the first time that the tiny boats, whose motive power is attached to their sterns, have crowded into the limelight as a national sport. Heretofore they have been regarded as handy craft suitable for towing and light carrier work, and their racing caliber has been neglected as far as national competition is concerned.

Race in Five Classes.

The races today and tomorrow will be held off the Navy pier, starting at 2 o'clock each day. A field of more than 100 leading outboard drivers, representing 20 states, have entered the competition for the McDonald trophy, the most important prize on the program, valued at $10,000.

The races will be held in five classes, each race for each class consisting of two five mile heats, with one heat in each being run off today and tomorrow.

Expect 50,000 Crowd.

The Columbia Yacht club, under whose auspices the program is being held, expects a crowd of 50,000 to witness the events today. The outboard racing course, two and one-half miles, has been so laid out that spectators will be able to follow the races from start to finish.

Swimming exhibitions will be staged by the Illinois Women's Athletic club, and yacht races will be held off the breakwater near the pier. Tomorrow's program will be staged by the Norwegian societies of Chicago in conjunction with the Columbia club. The events will include an eight oared shell race between the Lincoln park and Milwaukee boat clubs, followed by tilting contests and canoe relay races.

Indiana Golfer Carries Off Southwest District Crown

The southwest district amateur title, held for a year by Russell W. Martin of Flossmoor, one of Chicago's best golfers, passed yesterday to William Andrews of Dyer, Ind., who put the new Casa Del Mar club on the map by outplaying several of the Prairie state's best linksmen. He finished with 77—75—152 for thirty-six holes.

Behind Andrews were Henry Rack, Navajo Fields champion, and Lee Creagan of the home club, at 153, and a quintet, including Russell W. Martin of Flossmoor, who were tied at 154. Battling Lee Thiltges of Calumet had 155, while Chick Faltus, another Casa Del Mar entry, had 156.

Andrews toured away a stroke now and then by missing a putt, but he played safe most of the way. In the afternoon, he had four birdies that enabled him to beat Creagan and Rack. Lee had a chance at the last green to tie the Indiana golfer, but his well placed iron shot would not hold the green. Rack topped the field in the forenoon with 74. Andrews' card:

AFTERNOON ROUND.

Out .....544 534 344—36
In .....455 544 534—39—75—152

Low net, 36 holes, class A—William Fitzgerald, Oak Hills, 137—20—147; second, Tom Finn, Westgate Valley, 150—18—141; class B, W. Linken, St. Andrews, 167—26—141; second, Fred Huff, Glen Eagles, 176—32—144; class C, E. E. Freed, Forest Park, 186—44—142; second, W. P. Johnson, Beverly, 205—60—145.

WHITE SOX OPEN LAST 1929 STAND IN EAST TODAY

Washington, D. C., Sept. 6.—[Special.]—The White Sox will open their final invasion of the east tomorrow when they tackle Washington in the first of a four game series at Griffith stadium.

After the series with the Griffmen, the Hose take on Philadelphia, New York and Boston before moving west to conclude their 1929 American league baseball engagements.

Just who will oppose the Senators in the inaugural is problematical, Manager Lena Blackburne failing to designate any one definitely for the honor. The same uncertainty shrouded Manager Walter Johnson's choice on the mound.

Terre Haute Girl Wins Wrigley Consolation Swim

TORONTO, Canada, Sept. 6.—[U. P.]—Jane Thoms of Terre Haute, Ind., sprinted in the stretch to win the three mile Wrigley-Canadian national consolation swim here today from Olive Gatterdam of California. The winner's time was 1 hour 40 minutes. Ann Nenoit of Holyoke, Mass., was third and Jerry Widmer of Seattle, Wash., Jewell Cheatwood of Toronto and Joan Ford of Toronto, finished in that order.

TOWLES SHOOTS LOW SCORE FOR IROQUOIS CUP

Iroquois club members and their guests played their annual 18 holes of golf together at Calumet Country club yesterday. About 25 players competed for one of the best list of prizes seen this season.

Winners of the three major awards were William B. Towles, who won the Iroquois cup with low gross for members; Irvin Rooks, who took the President's cup with low net for the members, and Vernon Foster, low net among the guests, who received the Melvin A. Traylor trophy.

Match play against par—J. E. Grimes, all even.

Least number of putts—Dr. J. L. Beven, 31, on a draw with J. W. Hall and John F. McKinley.

High gross—William Rothmann, 82—70—152.

Cattle prices held firm and lambs regained 15@25c of the recent sharp loss on yesterday's trade, while hogs were pressed down to new low price levels under big receipts for Friday. Extreme top hogs lowered to $11.30, while the general average dropped 15c at $9.80, comparing with a top of $12.00 and average of $10.50 Monday of last week. The influx of light and underweights has brought 150 lb. averages and lighter weights down 75c to $1.25 in four days. Bulk of sales, however, are 25@50c under a week ago, butchers and light sows showing the least weakness.

Cattle Supply Small.

Yesterday's small supply of cattle was hardly large enough to test the market, but more activity was noted and scattered sales were considered stronger than on the previous session. Quality was plain, as usual on Friday, and the best available sold at $15.25, averaging 944 lbs. Only a few loads passed $14.00. Compared with the close of last week, however, prices are mostly 50@75c lower. Cows and heifers were steady at the week's 25@75c decline. Calves sold strong and 25@50c above a week ago. Stockers and feeders continued slow.

Sheep Receipts Smaller.

Smaller sheep receipts stabilized the lamb market early yesterday and gains of 15@25c were scored in mid-session and later, with closing sales highest of the day. Most good to choice natives were sorted at $13.00@13.25, with $13.35@13.40 paid for a scattering. "Tops" from 2,700 westerns brought $13.00@13.35. Packers bought more freely, in spite of the reaction of prices. Aged sheep and yearlings were scarce and stronger. Feeder lambs were slower to sell, but held firm.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 300 cattle, 6,000 hogs and 1,000 sheep, against 286 cattle, 7,566 hogs and 178 sheep, the previous Saturday and 139 cattle, 2,336 hogs and 2,590 sheep, a year ago.

Probable receipts of hogs at Chicago for next Monday are estimated from 35,000 to 47,000. J. A. Bunyan marked 35,000; N. R. Denny, 37,000; J. M. Waters, $39,000; S. Lund, C. Southwick, G. M. Chandler, William Garret and R. B. Ellis, 40,000; W. C. White, 41,000; J. M. Brown, 42,000; F. M. Sherwood, 44,000; H. C. Carlson, F. Knutzen and W. T. Reneker, 45,000; H. Pattison and C. Daley, 47,000.

STOCKS' VALUE GAINS BILLIONS DESPITE SLUMP

BY O. A. MATHER.

With the New York stock market recovering yesterday from Thursday's drastic break, it seems entirely likely that September will follow most of the preceding months of this year in pushing securities prices to new high levels.

The rebound in prices yesterday was one of the quickest and sharpest that has occurred in the history of the New York market. It even bettered the recovery that followed the August break, and last month finished by largest appreciation for any month thus far this year. In fact, there have been only two months, February and May, in which the upward trend in prices has been reversed.

Over 3 Billions Added.

An increase of $3,806,276,000, or 9.7 per cent was registered in August in the aggregate market value of 100 representative common stocks, according to an analysis by Frazier Jelke and company. The swift acceleration in prices, despite the brief decline, is shown by the fact that the month's appreciation was more than double that of July, when these issues advanced $1,747,526,000, or 4.7 per cent.

The swift rise in the prices of these stocks this year and also in the last twenty months is evidenced in other data. The total value of the 100 issues at the end of August was $43,-131,854,000, compared with $32,152,-458,000 at the beginning of this year, and with $21,947,736,000 at the end of 1927.

Thus, in the last eight months there has been an appreciation of $10,979,-396,000, or 34 per cent; while in the last twenty months the appreciation has been $21,184,118,000, or 96 per cent.

What August Figures Show.

Each one of the thirteen groups constituting the Jelke index of market values recorded a gain during August. The steel stocks advanced 16 per cent; miscellaneous industrials, 14.9 per cent; oils, 13.8 per cent; chemicals, 10.4 per cent; utilities, 9.3 per cent; mines, 9.8 per cent: electrical equipments, 9.2 per cent; rails, 8.6 per cent; merchandising issues, 7.6 per cent; equipments, 5.6 per cent; foods, 4.3 per cent; and motors, 2.3 per cent.

The aggregate market value of the 100 issues in recent months compares as follows: Aug. 30, $43,131,854,000; July 31, $39,325,578,000; June 30, $37,-578,052,000; May 31, $33,402,254,000; April 30, $35,527,232,000; March 28, $34,491,961,000; Feb. 28, $34,098,376,-000; Jan. 31, $34,672,186,000; Dec. 29, 1928, $32,152,458,000.

Stimulation of trade and industry, following the usual slackening around Labor Day, is predicted in the weekly mercantile reviews.

"With the passing of the quietest period of a year, the prospect now is for an acceleration of business in response to various stimulating forces," R. G. Dun & company's summary says.

Weather Hits Farmers.

"The status of agriculture has been further impaired by high temperatures and deficiency in rainfall. Conversely, activity in summer goods has continued for a longer time than usual, strengthening the position of retailers and encouraging more confident operations for the future. Most of the factors on which commercial progress rests are favorable and not the least of these elements is the comparative stability of commodity prices."

Commercial failures for the five business days of the last week totaled 200, or a daily average of 60, which was lower than the average for the preceding week and compared with 321 in the corresponding week last year. Bank clearings totaled $11,532,-173,000, an increase of 16½ per cent over a year ago.

The American Iron and Steel institute reported August steel ingot production at 4,925,502 tons, which has been exceeded only by the record of 5,378,167 tons last May. The mills operated at 93.03 per cent of rated capacity last month, compared with 99.59 per cent in May. Daily output last month, however, was somewhat lower than in June and July, which had fewer working days.

To Adopt Stock Basis in Lieu of Cash Dividend

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 6.—Following a meeting of the board of directors of the American Commonwealth Power corporation held today, it was announced that the policy of the board would be to adopt a stock dividend basis in lieu of any cash dividend, and in the event of a cash dividend then such dividend would be in the form of an extra dividend to be paid in stock. The announcement stated that beginning with stockholders of record Oct. 1, 1929, both class "A" and "B" common stocks of the corporation would be placed on a ten per cent stock dividend basis, the first quarterly payment to be made Oct. 15.

Postal Receipts in 50 Cities Show 4% Gain in August

Washington, D. C., Sept. 6.—(AP)—The postoffice department announced today that postal receipts at 50 selected cities for August this year showed an increase 4.65 per cent over those for the same month in 1928. Total receipts for August, 1929, were $28,251,268, against $27,951,460 for the corresponding month of last year. The total increase was $1,299,808. The five leading cities with their percentages of increases were: Denver, Colo., 22.95; Jersey City, N. J., 20.30; New Haven, Conn., 10.89; Dayton, O., 10.23; and St. Paul, Minn., 9.81.

Taking "Paper Profits" in Big Way Makes Them Decrease

BY SCRUTATOR.

Investment trusts, or more correctly investment companies, have been so important a factor in the stock markets recently that some authorities are inclined to hold them to responsibility for the high prices to which many stocks have been driven.

The success of the investment companies has been due in large measure to the fact that their purchases of the stocks of operating and holding companies have appreciated, to the general advance in security prices. There are frequent expressions of opinions to the effect that they have made the high prices by their own buying power and that their profits are of the paper type that cannot be taken.

Nature of Paper Profits.

It has been pointed out here in the last that paper profits exist only because, in a given stage of the market, no large proportion of the stockholders wish to take profits. Doubtless three-fourths of nearly every listed stock issue of investment worth is in strong boxes and never is traded. Prices are set by the remaining portion, one-quarter or less, that is in the hands of persons who are ready and willing to take quick profits.

It readily can be seen that the buying up of shares from the so-called floating supply, to be laid away in the portfolios of investment companies, could have a marked appreciative effect on prices. The supply for sale is cut down and frequently the mere report that some investment company is buying a certain stock causes an intense desire on the part of speculators to get in on that issue.

How much capital the American investment companies have it is difficult to say from week to week. A late estimate is that they control three billion dollars. In the first six months of 1929 the statistics showed that 800 million dollars flowed into their coffers. In August alone, it has been announced, new financing by such concerns reached 372 millions, which was 87 per cent of all financing by stock offerings in the month.

Place Nearly Billion Dollars.

Probably these companies have since Jan. 1 placed more than a billion dollars in the common stocks of corporations. The fact that these stocks, after they were bought in for the portfolios, have gone up has whetted the appetite of the public for investment company stocks in turn. Some of the new ones have had their own shares run up 100 per cent or even more in a short time.

This result could not have come about, because the income on the purchased stocks has doubled. It hasn't doubled. The purchase of an investment company stock at extremely high prices is a discounting of the future just as much as the purchase of an industrial stock directly—unless the management can sell its holdings of corporation stocks and take the profits in recognizable money.

The real investment trust is of a different type from most of the companies referred to. If it is of the fixed trust type it purchases a specified number of shares of various companies, presents the list to the prospective buyer of its fixed trust shares and then deposits the purchased shares with a trustee. The investment trust company share buyer gets an equity in the securities deposited, which may be changed only under specified conditions and must be replaced by something of similar grade.

Gets Steadier, Smaller Income.

This type of corporation is interested in getting annual income rather than trading profits. It gives the element of diversification to the small buyer. The British companies were largely of this type. Their profits were conservative. An authoritative report shows that from 1917 to 1928 these British trusts earned 7.52 per cent a year in interest and dividends on their capital and but 1.15 per cent from market profits. They have been principally interested in safety and their returns were accordingly limited.

"Investment trust," as the term is commonly used, may mean anything from the fixed trust shares to a pile of money handed over to managers who, the investing public believes, can make money trading in the markets. The leaning now is toward the latter type. They have been quite successful so far. But as they become larger and more numerous it will become more and more difficult for them to cash in on the profits. Faced with this possibility, some of them are said to be taking over more of the functions of investment bankers and holding companies. These trends will be discussed here later.

Gen. Motors Also May Sell RadioProducts

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 6.—General Motors corporation is planning an extension of its retailing organization into the radio and phonograph fields and probably in other lines, through a deal now pending with the Radio Corporation of America. By the new plan Radiolas and Victrolas will be sold through the automobile agencies of General Motors throughout the world, according to reports which were not denied by either General Motors or the Radio corporation today.

Neither of the companies had anything to say about the reports. The publicity departments of each contented themselves with the statement: "We have been trying to get information in regard to it."

Would Add Radio Products.

Through the plan, if it is consummated, the automobile sales agencies of General Motors would become sales agents for the radio and talking machine products of the Radio corporation. This will provide the latter with a single retail outlet covering practically the entire world. It also was said it was planned to include in the lines to be added by General Motors other products of the General Electric and the Westinghouse Electric and manufacturing companies which are not now included in the jobbing distribution of the Radio corporation.

Interests closely connected with the Radio corporation in discussing the reports, after asserting that they did not know whether such an arrangement was pending, said they regarded the automobile salesrooms of the General Motors corporation as being ideal places for the display and sales of the higher priced models of the radios, talking machines and combination radios and talking machines.

Point to Selling Plans.

The installment payment plan of selling, through which most high priced talking machines, radios and other electric household objects attain their widest market, it was pointed out, could be handled through the General Motors salesrooms with only slight expansion in the functions of the General Motors Acceptance corporation, which finances the partial payment sales of motor cars through the agencies.

Several Chain Systems Report Increased Sales

New York, Sept. 6.—(AP)—Substantial increases in chain store sales for last month over August, 1928, were shown in reports of several companies made public today. Some of them follow, with comparisons for the corresponding month last year:

The Prairie State bank today will hold a reception and opening in its new building at Madison street and Austin boulevard. The officers of the bank are H. R. Dow, president; Thomas A. Jackson, vice president; O. C. Roeder, cashier, and E. H. C. Wagner and K. M. Darrow, assistant cashiers.

Warner Bros. Buys 19 Theaters from Hoffmans

New York, Sept. 6.—(AP)—The Warner Brothers' Pictures corporation has purchased the Hoffman chain of 19 theaters in Connecticut. The company recently acquired another chain of 13 houses and are understood to be negotiating for the acquisition of a third group in that district. The Stanley-Fabian corporation, a subsidiary of Warner Brothers, has acquired the Embassy theater of Orange, N. J., and the Regent theater in Newark.

Negotiations were reported today to be under way between the Shubert Theaters corporation and Pathe Exchange, Inc., for a working agreement by which Pathe would aid financing of certain Shubert productions and receive in return the motion picture rights and an outlet for production in the Shubert chain of theaters.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 6.—A plan for the acquisition of the J. W. Brown Manufacturing company by Electric Autolite company has been declared operative, subject to listing of the necessary additional shares of Autolite stock on the New York stock exchange, according to an announcement by C. O. Mininger, president of Electric Autolite. The plan calls for an exchange of one share of Autolite for 2¾ shares of Brown and payment of special cash dividend of $1.75 per share to Brown stockholders by the Brown Manufacturing company for the exchange of stock.

Hawley Bill Enactment Imperative, Sugar Men Told

With a beet sugar crop estimated at 1,200,000 short tons for the United States form the 1929 beet yield, immediate enactment by congress of the Hawley tariff is imperative if American sugar beet farmers are to be given the benefit of relief which they have been promised, F. L. Crawford of Detroit, secretary of the Eastern Beet Sugar association, declared yesterday at a meeting of sugar men at the Palmer house.

Report England Ships 150,000 Lbs. of Gold to Paris

New York, Sept. 6.—(AP)—Reports from London bullion brokers today state that about 150,000 pounds of gold was taken from the Bank of England for shipment to Paris. Gold amounting to $17,700,000 was imported from Argentina by the Guaranty Trust company from Jan. 1 to Sept. 5. This represents slightly more than 23 per cent of the total gold imported from that country during that period.

AUBURN AUTO LEADS CHICAGO STOCK ADVANCE

BY GEORGE HAMMOND.

The New York call money rate assisted in the operation, as it dropped in successive stages from nine to six per cent. Practically the entire Chicago list participated in the rise, led by the automotives and investment trust shares.

Auburn Automobile sold up twenty-eight points to 493 in connection with reports of increased sales of the company's new front wheel drive model. Bendix and Nachman Spring-filled each advanced two points, and Noblitt-Sparks was up a point.

Reports Expanding Earnings.

National Standard was quiet, although directors voted an extra dividend of twenty-five cents a share. They reported earnings of $600,046 for the ten months ended July 31, after all charges and taxes, compared with $436,900 for the same period of last year, a gain of 37.34 per cent.

Waukesha Motors was not traded in, although the directors declared an extra disbursement of $1 a share. Unit corporation was fractionally higher on reports that the company's volume of business for the first half of this year was around $2,500,000, against $3,558,562 in all of last year.

Leads Investment Trusts.

National Securities Investment was a feature of the investment trust list with a rise of four points. Utility and Industrial common and preferred advanced three and two points, respectively, reflecting a rise of 17½ points in Standard Gas and Electric on the New York exchange. Utility and Industrial has large holdings of that stock.

Cord corporation, owner of a large block of Auburn stock, gained 1½ points, as did Chicago Corporation. Chicago Investment was up 1¼. In the general list, General Theater Equipment and U. S. Gypsum each sold a point higher.

A five point rise on light sales by Commonwealth Edison was a feature of the utility division. Middle West Utilities gained 3½ and National Electric Power "A" was up three points.

U. S. Radio and Television advanced 2¼ points in reflection of the announcement by Don M. Compton, vice president and general manager, that the company is currently running in a profit as a result of the reorganization.

Inventories have been reduced by more than $1,000,000, Mr. Compton stated, and a rapid reduction in accounts payable is also taking place. Further economies will be reflected within thirty to sixty days as a result of the new management, Mr. Compton added.

Zenith Also Advances.

Gains of from one to two points were established by Zenith Radio, Wextark Radio Stores and Grigsby-Grunow. Steinite was off a point. Atlas Stores was dull and unchanged. The company announced that it has completed arrangements for the acquisition of Davega, Inc., and City Radio Stores. The consolidations will be effected through an exchange of stock, after which Atlas will have sixty-nine stores in operation. It is probable that an issue of 50,000 shares of class A stock, convertible into common, will be offered by a syndicate in connection with the deal.

State and Municipal Bond Financing Drops in August

New York, Sept. 6.—Long term bond flotations by states and municipalities during August totaled $75,866,337, according to figures compiled by the Daily Bond Buyer of New York. This amount is approximately $3,000,000 less than the total for the corresponding period in 1927. During the eight months ending Aug. 31 state and municipal financing totaled $871,681,006, which sets a new low for this period of any year since 1923.

Pan-American Petroleum Reports 6 Mos.' Earnings

New York, Sept. 6.—(AP)—The Pan-American Petroleum and Transport company reported today that the net profits of the parent organization and subsidiaries for the first half of 1929 amounted to $3,985,719, compared with $5,209,841 in the 1928 period.

Invest Trust Reports Assets $250,000,000

New York, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Shenandoah corporation, investment company formed by Goldman Sachs-Harrison Williams interests in July, disclosed today that as of Sept. 4 its net assets, deducting all liabilities, totaled more than $250,000,000.

This included its holdings of 6,250,-000 shares of common stock of Blue Ridge corporation, newest of the Goldman Sachs group of holding companies, at their market value of around $22 a share. Exclusive of the Blue Ridge stock, which was purchased at $10 a share, Shenandoah's holdings had a market value on the basis of closing quotations Sept. 4 of more than $17,000,000 in excess of cost.

Nature of Chief Assets.

Shenandoah's largest holdings were in Goldman Sachs Trading corporation, Central States Electric corporation, and Blue Ridge. Among other substantial holdings disclosed for the first time were blocks of stocks of American Telephone, Commercial Investment Trust, Consolidated Gas of Baltimore, Electric Investors, Hydro-Electric Securities corporation, North American company, Pacific Gas and Electric, and Pacific Lighting.

It was announced that Shenandoah common stock will probably be placed on an annual dividend basis of 6 per cent in stock.

Standard Investing Shares Listed.

New York, Sept. 6.—[Special.]—The Standard Investing corporation's holdings of securities have a market value of $11,612,630 on July 31 last, as disclosed in its application for listing 147,894 of its shares on the New York stock exchange, which was granted by the committee on stock list and is effective today. The market value of the investment company's holdings had increased from $10,587,545 on Feb. 28 of this year.

This is the sixth investment trust to be listed under the new ruling of the stock exchange, all of which have heretofore published the contents of their portfolios annually, as required by the exchange as a precedent to listing.

SOUTH PENN OIL, TIDEWATER FORM PIPE LINE FIRM

New York, Sept. 6.—The Tidewater Oil company, subsidiary of the Tidewater Associated Oil company, and the South Penn Oil company, have formed a new pipe line company to operate in the oil fields of Pennsylvania under joint control of the two corporations.

The new company, called the Bradford Transit company, has been chartered in Pennsylvania. It will take over the oil gathering lines of the Tidewater company and the South Penn Oil company in Bradford and Allegheny counties. The system, which is being formed by consolidation of the pipe lines of the two oil companies, will be the largest pipe line in the east, it is said. It will comprise 898 miles of pipe line, 238 miles of private telephones, 54 steel storage tanks with a total capacity of 375,000 barrels and 40 gathering line stations.

Various extensions to meet new operating conditions are projected involving a construction program which it is said will include a refinery.

General Electric Fails to Act on Stock Split

New York, Sept. 6.—Directors of the General Electric company met today and declared the usual dividends payable at this time. No announcement of any change in capitalization was made. It had been conjectured that the directors might split the common stock four for one in conformity with action previously taken when the stock advanced to high levels.

BABSON'S STOCK CRASH PROPHECY DRAWS FIRE FROM OTHER EXPERTS

New York, Sept. 6.—[Special.]—Roger Babson's dire predictions of an "inevitable crash" in the stock market, which would some time break the averages 60 to 80 points, evoked retorts today from economists, stock exchange houses, and others, most of whom took an opposite view or advised clients and the public not to be stampeded by Mr. Babson's forecast of a collapse that would "rival that of the Florida land boom."

Mr. Babson's view was directly controverted by Prof. Irving Fisher of Yale university, an economist of highest standing. Prof. Fisher flatly asserted that "stock prices are not high and Wall street will not experience anything in the nature of a crash."

Dow-Jones said today:

"'There is no question but that the market will show declines of 80 points. It may take 2 or 3 years to bring this about, or only a year. It is evident that some stocks must go off from 100 to 200 points. The chances are nine to one we will have lower prices in 1927 than we had in 1926.'

"On Sept. 11, 1926, the Dow-Jones averages were 162.16; yesterday they were 379.61."

The opinion expressed by Hornblower & Weeks in a message to their clients is believed to be shared by many investment and other financial houses in Wall street. It says:

"The market has been advancing for years, in spite of the bearish utterances of such authorities. No sane man expects widespread advances to continue indefinitely. The market itself will furnish the best clew as to its future course and will warn of its culmination in plenty of time for the average trader to protect himself when necessary; but it seems idle to cite as a bearish factor the circumstance that the market does not act as a unit.

"Money will check speculation some time in the future, and nothing else will. It is any one's guess as to when this will happen. Ours is not for sixty days at least, and then only to interrupt."

BONDS RECOVER IN QUIET TRADE ON N. Y. BOARD

New York, Sept. 6.—[Special.]—Convertibles and a number of other leading bonds traded in on the stock exchange recovered part of the previous day's losses today in rather quiet trading. The fact that call money went to 6 per cent late in the day accounted for the fact that many issues finished at or close to the best prices of the day.

A gain of 1½ points for American Telephone and Telegraph convertible 4½s and an advance of a point for International Telephone 4½s were features. Alleghany Corporation 5s of 1944 moved up 1¼ and the 5s of 1949 1½ points in active trading, while Atchison convertible 4½s recovered a point for the day at 160½. Commercial Investment Trust convertible 5½s were up a point at 106.

Southern Pacific 4½s with warrants duplicated the previous high of par, closing at 99½, up ⅜ of a point. The active St. Paul adjustment 5s were up ⅛ a point at 79.

Most of the net changes in the general run public utility and industrial bonds were fractionally higher. Liberty and treasury bonds were slightly reactionary, following a publication of the details of the new treasury financing.

BY FRED HARVEY.

Losses suffered in yesterday's sudden break completely were wiped out in many instances and a dozen or so well favored issues were whirled on ahead to new record price levens for the year or longer.

Buying was broad, sustained, and at times vigorous. Blocks of as many as 25,000 shares were recorded on the ticker at intervals during the day. Total transactions again exceeded 5,000,000 shares.

Extreme gains ranged as high as 17½ points, the top notcher being Standard Gas and Electric, closing at 188½. Auburn Auto was up 16 points; Atlas Powder, 14; Loose Wiles Biscuit, 13, and a long string of others recorded advances of from 3 to 10 points.

It was one of the most impressive recoveries made by the market in a long time. Bullish enthusiasts pointed to this demonstration as conclusive evidence of the generally sound condition of the list.

Several factors combined to bolster up confidence anew today. One was a flood of expert opinion taking issue with Roger W. Babson, the statistician whose prognostications of a stock "collapse" largely were blamed for yesterday's slump. Another was a sudden easement of the money situation, the call rate dropping from 9 to 6 per cent, with funds in plentiful supply, and the third was a heavy run of short covering.

Radio, General Motors Lead.

Radio Corporation of America and General Motors were outstanding leaders of the fresh advance. Both were bought in big blocks and rose to new highs for their current moves. One block of 25,000 shares of General Motors changed hands at 76, up 3 points, and a block of 10,000 Radio at 110, up 7¾, followed a few minutes later. These gains were steadily extended until at the close Radio showed a net gain of 11 points, while General Motors was up 5.

Various utility stocks had sharp runups to new peaks. Standard Gas was one of them, and American Foreign Power, American Power and Light and American Water Works were others. Both the big telephone stocks rebounded in impressive fashion, American recovering 3¾ points and International nearly 5 points of their yesterday's losses.

Another big time leader to distinguish itself was United States Steel, which advanced 4½ points on a turnover running well over 100,000 shares. Other steel stocks followed the bellwether, Bethlehem forging ahead for nearly 6 points, Republic rebounding 4 and Vanadium 4½ points. Bullish sentiment was unanimous in this quarter of the field.

for stocks on the part of investors has led many public utilities to offer conversion privileges with their bonds and the consistent, rapid growth of this industry is certain to cause these privileges to become increasingly valuable.

We can specify several issues of this kind to those interested.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS RISE ON SELLING WAVE

Several New Records Set During Day.

New York, Sept. 6.—[Special.]—Yesterday's reaction failed to continue on today's curb. Further bullish pressure did not materialize. It was evident at the opening that some of the speculators had reversed their opinion and turned bullish overnight.

Market Opens Strong.

The market was firm to strong at the initial bell. Soon afterwards an influx of buying orders for certain favorites started a forward movement which resulted in forenoon gains of 2 to 8¼ points. Leaders of the recovery, such as Newmont Mining, Electric Bond and Share, Niles-Bement-Pond, Shenandoah corporation, Tri-Continental, Third National Investors, Utility and Industrial, and Waldorf created confidence in the entire market.

Action of several public utility issues has indicated that in the recent forward movement the floating supply of stock has been materially reduced. Standard Power and Light and Northern States Power have demonstrated this in recent advances on comparatively small volume. Advances of 22 and 12¾ points, respectively, were accomplished today. Both issues have been favored by recently formed utility holding companies.

New High Records Set.

Stocks continued in strong demand after the noon hour with interest spreading to a larger list of securities. In the final hour American Foreign Power warrants developed marked strength in response to a sharp advance in the common on the big board. Electric Power Associates issues made new high records and Corn corporation gained 2½ points. Gulf Oil returned to the $200 mark. Hall Lamp, Italian Superpower, Mayflower Associates, Lone Star Gas, Prudential Investors, Translux, and Southwest Gas Utilities were prominent on the forward side.

Packing Business Fair Despite Hot Weather

Armour & Co., in its review of general packing house trade conditions, says: "Leading packing house lines gave a good account of themselves during the last week in spite of hot weather over much of the country early in the week. The demand for beef was fair. Fresh pork sold fairly well all week on a generally steady price basis. Both the lamb and veal markets felt the effects of the hot weather early, with prices tending lower. Smoked meats show very satisfactory improvement. Foreign business again was quite good. Collections were good."

Railroads Make Record in Fuel Saving Campaign

[Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 6.—Class one railroads in the first six months of this year used fuel more efficiently than at any previous time in their history, according to the Bureau of Railway Economics. An average of 129 pounds of fuel was used in the period to haul 1,000 tons of freight and equipment, including locomotive and tender one mile, the lowest average attained by the railroads since compilation of these figures began in 1918. It was a reduction of two pounds from the record established in the first half of 1928.

Exchange of Stock of Tobacco Firms Operative

New York, Sept. 6.—(AP)—The recently announced plan for the exchange of stocks of United Cigar Stores, Tobacco Products corporation and the Union Tobacco company for stock in the United Stores corporation has been declared operative, sufficient stocks in the aforementioned companies having been deposited.

It was reported in Wall street today that the Simmons company, furniture manufacturers, had acquired the plant of the Berkey & Gay Furniture company of Grand Rapids, Mich.

July Cotton Carry Over Totals 2,313,000 Bales

Washington, D. C., Sept. 6.—(AP)—The department of agriculture today reported that the total carry over of cotton on July 31 was 2,313,000 bales. The report shows a total of 2,123,700 bales of American upland cotton, 7,200 bales of American Egyptian cotton, and a total of 182,100 bales foreign grown. The total carry over reported in 1928 was 2,531,582 bales, 2,415,208 bales of this being American upland. American Egyptian cotton was 15,905, the total foreign grown being 110,469.

BULL TRADERS MAKE WHOOPEE IN WALL STREET

afternoon. All of the standard issues were moved upward, the New Jersey stock being up 2½ points at the close while Texas Corporation, Houston Oil, and other of the group moved on from one to two points.

At one time during the day Skelley Oil registered an advance of 7 points, jumping several points between sales on what appeared to be buying for short account. The closing quotation was at 43⅞, or a gain of 4¼ for the day. Buying of the oil shares was all the more remarkable in view of such unfavorable factors as the latest increase reported in crude production, the record breaking stocks of crude and refined oils on hand and the struggle for supremacy among several refiners operating in the New York territory.

Copper and rail shares were strong as groups, the former on the strength of prospects of a price increase in red metal as well as figures showing a big jump in recent sales. The rails, of course, continued to benefit from the latest batch of earnings statements.

Allied Chemical Rallies.

Industrial specialties such as Allied Chemical, Columbian Carbon, Case Threshing Machine, Air Reduction and Simmons bolted ahead for gains of from 3 to nearly 10 points.

Traders showed little concern over the latest increase of $137,000,000 reported in brokers' loans for the week and were more interested in the action of the market itself. There was a strong disposition to view yesterday's reaction philosophically—as a "healthy" shake-out brought on by a weakened interior structure and calculated to restore overbought portions of the list to a condition more nearly normal.

RALLY IN COTTON

Buying of cotton by sellers of the previous day, with no material increase in offerings and bullish private crop reports and higher Liverpool cables, made for a better market for cotton. Prices moved up fairly, only to meet profit taking and hedging and some short selling and to lose some of the early gain. The selling was understood to be based on reports of light rains in the central belt and cool weather except in south Texas. Prospects for cloudy and showers in the belt generally.

Closing trades were at intermediate prices, with futures in Chicago 2 to 10 points higher and other markets 2 to 12 points higher. Spots gained 10 points, with New York 19.20c, New Orleans 18.97c with spot sales 9,175 bales, Galveston 18.85c, and Houston 18.90c. Liverpool closed 1 to 3 points higher, with spot sales 6,000 bales.

Memphis estimated the cotton crop at 14,756,000 bales, with a condition of 57.8, against 70 last month, with an estimated yield of 15,878,000 bales. Garside's estimate is 14,712,000 bales, with condition 55.8, compared with 15,980,000 bales and a condition of 59.3 a month ago. Average of estimates by cotton traders in New York is 14,919,000 bales, with a condition of 57.3. New York estimates spinners' takings for the week at 205,000 to 225,000 bales. Prices follow:

FROST FORECAST CAUSES UPTURN IN CORN MARKET

Prices Close with Net Gains of 3-4 to 1 7-8c.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Snowstorms in parts of western Nebraska and South Dakota, with a forecast for freezing temperatures in North Dakota and frost in Minnesota, turned a declining corn market into a strong and advancing one yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade with the close at the top with net gains of ¾@1¼c, September showing the least upturn. Temperatures as low as 26 were reported in South Dakota during the day, and should killing frost materialize overnight at either St. Paul, Minn., or Yankton, S. D., it would be the earliest in over 24 years.

Wheat was easier early, but the market congested on a break of around ½c from Thursday's finish, and advanced 2@2¼c from the bottom with strength in corn having some effect, and the close was 1⅜@1⅝c higher. Oats were strong and finished ⅛@⅜c higher, while rye was 1⅜@ 2½c higher.

Fear Corn Crop Damage.

Owing to the lateness with which a liberal percentage of the corn crop was planted this season, the trade has been very apprehensive of an early frost, which it is feared would cause extremely heavy damage. Recent rains have failed to bring in reports of an improvement in condition, and in some quarters it is expected that the coming government report will show a yield of under 2,500,000,000 bu, or over 241,000,000 bu under the August figures.

Selling on resting orders and by holders of offers checked the advance in futures. Purchases of 192,000 bu cash corn to arrive caused the relatively easier tone in the September, and the spot basis was steady to ½c lower.

Wheat Market Well Supported.

Commission houses absorbed the surplus in the wheat pit on an early break to around $1.39⅝ for December, and the market rallied sharply when local operators started to buy. Offerings were not large on the way up, with the bulge checked by selling against offers. Liverpool showed relative strength and closed ¼d higher to ½d lower, while Winnipeg was inclined to lag as compared with Chicago and finished 1¼@1⅝c higher. Buenos Aires, which closes long after North American markets, finished ⅞@ 1c lower for the day, which may have some influence on Liverpool today. Dry weather, however, continues in Argentine, and unfavorable crop comments continue to come from Australia.

There was some improvement in the export demand for wheat at the seaboard with sales of 300,000 to 400,000 bu in all positions, mainly hard winters, and premiums at the gulf were reported as 1½c higher than on Saturday. According to a government estimate, if farmers seed the 43,271,000 acres of winter wheat for the crop of 1930 as expected, and an average abandonment occurs, the probable production for next year on the 10 year average yield will be about 580,000,000 bu, as compared with 568,000,000 bu preliminary estimated for 1929 and a 5 year average of 549,000,000 bu. Italian crop this year is officially estimated at 259,000,000 bu, or 30,000,000 bu in excess of last year.

Local operators who sold out their lines of oats early in sympathy with wheat were active in reinstating their holdings later, and found offerings rather light. The northwest bought September and sold December. Winnipeg messages indicated that the trade there looked for a crop of under 150,000,000 bu in the three provinces, compared with an actual farm disappearance of 245,000,000 bu last year. There was no pressure of consequence on rye.

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

Drought has become the most important factor in the world's wheat situation. It has prevailed in Canada for more than six months and imperils extensive plowing operations for next year's harvest. This also applies to a large part of the American northwest, particularly the northern section of the Dakotas and Montana. Unless there is an abundance of rain in the winter wheat country it will also affect seeding operations and restrict an increase in acreage. Argentine has been dry all season and every day without rain reduces crop prospects and makes for a stronger bullish situation. So far this has not affected foreign markets or increased the disposition on the part of foreigners to buy American wheats. From present indications these bullish conditions are likely to work out later and apparently the leading holders are disposed to await future developments.

Predictions of frost in the northern part of the corn belt gave traders a jolt and brought in larger buying orders from the country, with an advance in prices. This was taken advantage of by country holders of cash corn, who sold nearly 200,000 bu to arrive. Trade sentiment leans more to the long side and holders of September took profits on the bulge.

Industries and northwestern cash handlers are buying September oats in Chicago, the latter to take off their hedges. There was also buying of September and selling of December in a liberal way at 3½c under the latter. Sentiment in oats is bullish and the cash situation is improving.

DRY GOODS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—(AP)—Cotton goods markets fairly active with firm prices ruling and advances asked on narrow sheetings and print cloths, particularly October forward. Rayon men's wear lining specialties sold. Drills were firmer. Cotton yarns steady and in moderate call. Burlaps were cabled 4 to 7 pence sterling higher on early shipment in spread of Calcutta strike, with spots and afloats firmer. More buying of spring men's wear woolens and worsteds was noted. Dress raw silks, Yokohama and Kobe, were firm and advancing with New York spots in heavier August consumption figures.

EGG PRICES ON DOWN GRADE

Smaller withdrawals of eggs from storage and increasing receipts had a depressing effect yesterday on the egg market on the Chicago Mercantile Exchange with futures declining ¾c, equal to $30 per car, and the close was at the bottom, with November, 36¼c, and December, 36¾c. Firmness in the spot market tended to temper bearish sentiment. Sales were 231 cars and receipts 12,556 cases. No change was shown in butter futures with December closing at 44½c. Sales were 22 cars and receipts 11,540 tubs.

GET HUDSON ORDER.

W. F. Anklam, president of the C. M. Hall Lamp company, Detroit, said that his company has received orders to supply the Hudson Motor Car company with lamps for the next six months.

CASH-GRAIN NEWS

Some improvement was shown in the continental demand for cash wheat yesterday, with sales of 300,000 to 400,000 bu in all positions, mainly hard winters. Greece was said to have been a buyer, and the United Kingdom asked for offers overnight. Local handlers sold 11,000 bu wheat, 52,000 bu corn, 295,000 bu oats, and 24,000 bu barley. Charters were for 160,000 bu corn and 80,000 bu oats to Georgian Bay. Deliveries on September contracts aggregated 503,000 bu wheat, 93,000 bu corn, and 20,000 bu rye.

A firmer undertone prevailed in the cash wheat market, with the basis here steady to ½c higher. No. 2 red was 12@12½c under, No. 2 hard 12@ 13c under, and No. 1 northern 11@13c under December. Cash corn basis was steady to ½c lower, with No. 2 mixed ¾@1¼c under, and yellow and white ½@1¼c under September. Offerings of cash oats were not large and the basis steady to ½c higher, with No. 2 white 2@4c under September.

AUTO SALESMEN.

This is probably the finest opportunity ever offered an automobile salesman in Chicago. The Studebaker Co. now has the most wonderful line of cars in its history. The popularity of the record breaking Studebaker President and Commander enabled us to do a tremendous business in the introduction now of the new Dictator Eight, which sells in the medium price field and the new Dictator Six, which is offered for under $1,000. we have been receiving more people in our salesrooms and around more interest than ever before. Because of this situation it is necessary for us to obtain a few more good men so you can cash in on it. Only capable men at our Southwest Branch. To capable men at our Southwest Branch. TRIBUNE TOWER

Every south, east, and west window has an awning.

The building is kept immaculately clean.

Windows stay up. It is quiet. The air is pure and there are no buildings to cut off light and breeze and radiate heat in your office.

If you are interested, let us try to meet your requirements.

REAL ESTATE LOANS.

SECOND MORTGAGE LOANS

There are a number of reasons why we are able to maintain the low rates which we charge on second mortgage loans:

[1] We restrict ourselves to smaller homes and the smaller apartments. That means that our rates will not have to be loaded because of the unusual hazards which apply to larger and speculative properties and are not of course infer that loans on larger and even speculative properties may not be good.

[2] It is not our practice to make second mortgage loans simply because the value resides in the piece of property. We expect that the owner of the property be a person of good character and reputation, and he must show his ability to be able to return the monthly payments. We never yield to the making of a loan just because the loan is well, margined through property value. It is our belief that if the owner at the very outset shows that he is going to have difficulty in meeting his obligation trouble will ensue and embarrassment follows, and we are not in the business of helping to own any one's property. That means that the charges on our second mortgage loans are not stepped up because we will carry inferior credit risks.

[3] We are not in business to make all the money we might possibly be squeezed out of this type of financing—we are in business to make a self-respecting profit, but fundamentally we are in business to try to prove what is a reasonable charge on the best class of property and on the best class of borrowers. In years gone by second mortgages were looked down upon. We have taken a certain portion of this second mortgage business out of the orphanage and put it on a self-respecting basis; this means that during the course of our experimentation on rates and practices in this field those home owners who may happen to be in the market for second mortgage loans at this time may have the advantage of the rates which we have nominated to prove our case.

There are other good reasons why our charges and terms are so fair, but space will not permit of our telling the whole story. Come in to our office in the very heart of the loop and you will find our staff most willing to discuss any phase of our terms with you.

6% is the interest charged at this time and commissions which run:

90.00 per 1,000 for 3 years.
